Fire Prevention Week Goal

Fire prevention time has come around again, as this week we observe Fire Prevention Week.

In thousands of towns and cities across the nation there will be addresses on fire prevention in schools, service clubs and other organizations.

In many communities, teachers are taking their students to visit the local fire department station house to see the fire apparatus at close range, and the firemen who man the equipment.

Amazingly some people will ask why we observe Fire Prevention Week every year.

The answer is simple Three out of every four fires are the result of carelessness. By using ordinary care, we can prevent fire from happening And if we do that, Fire Prevention Week will have been worthwhile.

Last year fires took 580 lives and caused property losses totalling over $145 million," said W. W. Owen, General Manager of the CEA.

Many of these lives could have been saved with little care," Mr Owen added. Too many careless children and their lives when they were left at home unattended and got hold of matches to play with or otherwise became exposed to fire

ADVISORY COMMITTEE COMING UP

Do you know what the Agricultural Advisory Committee is" Recent revision of the Service Board Act has resulted in a change in the County of Vermilion River Replacing the Service Board we now have an Agricultural Committee of the County. There are three council members plus the Reeve on this committee Under the new legislation council also saw fit to appoint a committee to advise the Agricultural Committee.

The Agricultural Advisory Committee In this county consists of twelve people from all over the county There are at present nine farmers and three farmers' wives chosen to represent the agricultural interests of the area in matters pertaining to County government At first glance this appears to be a rather limited group of concerned people as agriculture is surprisingly broad economic basis, as more than one-half of the County's revenue is derived from County taxation based on assessment of land which centralization is an example It is through the Advisory Committee the people of the whole county gain representation on any and every rule or problem which farmers feel they have and which the County can do something about Members of the Advisory Committee are George Verry Steve Trach, R. T. Brown, Mrs. H. G Nicklaus, George Mead, Mike Warawa, Mrs. Ray Hart, Mrs. E. O. Wolters Parke Dobson Hale, Morris Cole, L. R W Mitchell. The membership will be revolved at about four people each year and, in general, every representative will be maintained The committee meets about three times a year.

From the discussion of the problems of agriculture at Advisory Committee meetings the provincial extension personnel also hope to determine the needs of the farmers and their families to which they can give attention. It is the hope that the work of the Agricultural Advisory Committee becomes known throughout the County and that people will make use of it to bring their problems to the attention of the Agricultural Committee of the County.

Mannville Chamber Sponsors Agricultural Short Course

MANNVILLE — The Chamber of Commerce handled a heavy and interesting agenda on Sept. 19th which included the matter of negotiations with Dr Stevens, a dentist, with a view to opening a practice here; the sponsoring of an agricultural short course, also of a landscaping school; plans for a veterinarian; advertising for Mannville along the highway and town greens Don from a retail standpoint.

A letter was read from Dr. Stevens, who visited Mannville on August 27th with a view to opening a practice. In his letter Dr Stevens thought that it was best for him to postpone the idea of coming to Mannville due to the cost of equipment. He felt that it was more than he could handle at the present.

It was moved and carried that the chamber write to Dr. Stevens again and ascertain the cost of the required equipment, also if he would reconsider the matter if a dental association was formed in Mannville.

SHORT COURSE

The secretary reported that she had received a phone call from Mr. Wilfred L. Cody, Associate District Agriculturist of Vermilion, asking if the Mannville Chamber would sponsor a short course again this year.

LANDSCAPING SCHOOL

Mr. Cody also stated that it was the desire of the Department of Agriculture to have two schools on landscaping in this area and asked if the Mannville chamber would sponsor one of the schools.

The chamber moved in favor of sponsoring both the agricultural short course and the landscaping school and the secretary was instructed to write Mr. Cody to that effect

ADVERTISING AND SIGNS

The matter of advertising for the town was discussed and it was agreed that the signs on the highway should be changed. Mr. B Corbeyy was empowered to obtain a promotion kit for a town promotion from the Retail Merchants' Association

Health Unit Notes

SCARLET FEVER (Scarlatina) The haemolytic streptococcus causes other diseases e.g. erysipelas, meningitis, tonsillitis, otitis media, sinusitis, otitis media, etc. It is therefore of utmost importance that persons suffering with any of the above signs and symptoms contact their family physician.

Definition Scarlet fever is an acute infection caused by one of the strains of haemolytic streptococcus. Site of infection is primary site of infection is the throat from which the organism(s) then, and even the blood stream may become infected. Signs and symptoms: Sudden onset of the following signs and symptoms: sore throat, haemorrhagic enterovirus, rapid pulse, vomiting and rash.

The typical case of scarlet fever begins with headache, fever of 101 - 104 F. sore throat and vomiting followed within 24 to 72 hours by the appearance of a rash on the body. The glands of the back, coffee and groins are usually enlarged. The cheeks are flushed and a pale ring appears around the mouth. Blood cons may be present on the tonsils.

There are many other clinical signs which are easily identified only by experienced medical personnel and as the rash could be easily mistaken for measles, rubella, etc. I will again stress the importance of medical attention.

Nursing: bed rest, copious amounts of fluid and liquid, soft diet. Drugs to reduce infection, pain and fever will be prescribed by the family doctor.

All cases of communicable disease must be notified to the local Health Authority as isolation and quarantine cannot be enforced if the Health Authority is not informed of the case. The incubation period for scarlet fever is from 2 to 5 days. Isolation: a person suffering with scarlet fever should be isolated for 10 days while receiving antibiotic drug therapy from a doctor and then for 21 days providing all discharges are consistently cleared. Quarantine family contacts 18 years or under, unless receiving antibiotic therapy from a doctor, should be quarantined for 10 days or for the isolation period of the infected person. Family contacts regardless of age should be excluded from any occupations involving the handling of food or with pupil under day during the day is completed. Antibiotics should be continued for at least three days after return to work. Persons not receiving antibiotics should be quarantined for 21 days.

Family contacts who receive antibiotics do not carry the infection therefore, there is no need for any alarm when other children associate with family contacts. If a person suffering with scarlet fever providing that the contacts are receiving treatment.

It is of the greatest importance that the Health Unit be notified of outbreaks of communicable diseases. If we do not receive adequate co-operation how can we enforce the regulations which are necessary to prevent the spread of infectious diseases?

Expansion of A.S.T.A. Services

The explosion of knowledge demands new teaching techniques, curricula and school buildings. These developments, while challenging and exciting, also require an increasing amount of financial support. Since it is public money that is used, the public has a right to know why such large amounts of money are required. The trustees of Alberta have decided to meet the challenge of information and public relations.

Through this office, the Alberta School Trustees' Association will try to keep the members of the public informed about their investment in education. The information officer will plan, organize and distribute information of various kinds. Newspapers, radio, television, and other media of communication will be used to keep interested persons up to date on new developments in the education of Alberta youth.

Have you ever wondered...

...what skills are necessary for a successful farmer?

Agriculture, motor mechanics, irrigation, horticulture, bookkeeping, welding, to name only a few. And all with the line to be part secretary, part nurse, part homemaker, part gardener and part financier. Future farmers and future wives of farmers can learn all these skills at the Alberta Agriculture and Vocational College in Olds, Vermilion and Fairview. In addition to courses which teach the skills and basic knowledge required for a career in farming or a related occupation, the Colleges also offer high school academic studies and commercial courses. During the 1965-66 school term, 655 students attended the three Colleges and this is expected to increase to 761 during the present school year.

...how being a good technical or vocational student can help you with the finances?

At the top of the class [illegible] are eligible for a bursary of $100 under the Canada Student Loan Plan and of the $6 million set aside by the Alberta Government for the 1966-67 school year, $1,000,000 has been earmarked for bursaries for such dollar investment in highway development.

...what keeps Alberta on an even keel?

As much a part of Alberta as her mountains and prairies is change. Such as? To see that it stays that way, continual vigilance is maintained by the Eastern Engineering Branch of the Alberta Department of Public Health. Under the regulations which the Branch administers, all industrial and municipalities must submit various different sorts of preliminary plans, not only of new, but of minor or small factory. By governing exports keep a sharp eye out to make sure there rules are observed. Possible sewage and air pollution hazards are under constant surveillance. Regular sampling programs are carried out to ensure that the effluents released to the air and to the streams are kept within the approved limits and that the quality of the air and water is maintained at a good standard.

...how Alberta can have its forests and cut them, too?

Although forestry practitioners in the Province is moving every year, the "green gold" of Alberta's forests is NOT being depleted. Thanks to the sustained yield policy established by the Forestry Management Branch of the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests. Simply translated, "sustained yield" means that, for every tree felled, one, and often two, should replace the original. It is said that the yearly growth over much of the forested area of the province is sufficient to keep a permanent supply of timber for the industry. The Alberta Forest Service has planted over one million tree seedlings in the past few years.

...why there are fewer accidents at highway construction in Alberta than days?

The answer's easy. Because there are fewer highway lanes.

Alberta's who used to report after buying in haste from a door-to-door salesman now have four days in which to ponder the wisdom of their action before being committed to a sales contract. Anyone within 96 hours of signing the contract, the paper almost can smell it, under the terms of the Alberta Direct Sales Cancellation Act, the contract can be cancelled within a space if delivery is not made within 30 days of the date specified or 120 days of the date of purchase if no date is specified. The same privilege applies if the seller was not properly licensed when he made the sale. If a cancellation notice brings no results, the purchaser may lay his claim in writing before the Alberta Minister of Industry and Development through the Lamming Branch. The Direct Sales Cancellation Act does not limit the consumer action when the goods are delivered and proven good on the spot.

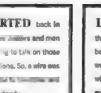
"Things sure have changed"

IT ALL STARTED back in [illegible] there were very few to talk on those new fangled contraptions. So, a wire was strung from one phone to [illegible] and this did the job just dandy.



LATER ON as more people got the hang of using the phone, they began to decide they had something worth saying. All of which led to more wire, leading to still more phones everywhere.

TODAY you can call your friends in seconds . . . whether next door . . . in Halifax or Honolulu. There are over 171 million telephones in the world, 91 million in North America. There are 940 thousand in Alberta and more are being installed every day, each one a part of world wide communications. Things sure have changed.

SPOTLIGHT on EDUCATION

(concluded from last week)

It seems obvious that if the secondary school was widened to "Heritage Plans" the curriculum there must have been a demand for further education. Why built an academic and vocational school? Why not a comprehensive public institution of the modern type? What is the difference between the two schools? Partisans for either point to many advantages in the system they support. What is important enough is that the basic principles of the two high schools are now administered as near to equal as is rather rigid academic curriculum in a vocational school. Pupils in the academic stream do a great deal in the way of practical work and have their choice of mathematics at the level they can handle. Pupils in the vocational school are encouraged to take the best possible academic courses. What is more

PROBLEM OF INFLATION

The problem of inflation continues to be a matter of concern, and is a topic of conversation as common to the housewife as to the businessman and the government official. One of the most deplorable things about inflation is that its burden falls most heavily on those of moderate means by — weakening the purchasing power of every dollar earned — shrinking the value of savings for education and retirement

— destroying the value of wage increases.

This crippling inflation, caused by a complex combination of economic circumstances, can be combatted on several fronts by business and by labour. For example, business can refrain from undue increases in prices of the goods or services they produce — labour can refrain from undue demands for wage increases. Leadership on the part of governments, however, is of vital importance. Governments should set the example for fighting inflation, not by imposing burdens or restrictions on the productive resources of the country, nor by the seemingly simple expedient of printing more money, but by imposing checks and restrictions on their own spending and by doing the important things first and in proper order.

TRICK OR TREAT

A round orange moon shines down from a black October sky, lighting the way for witches on broomsticks. Small goblins walk the streets below with large bags of goodies that flag against their sides as they run up the steps to a neighborhood house shouting "Trick or Treat".

This familiar —'ne means it's Hallowe'en — a favorite time for youngsters who, on this one night, can dress up in fanciful costumes, cram shopping bags with the makings of an awful tummy ache and stay up long past their usual bedtime.

But too often the excited youngsters, their vision obscured by ill-fitting masks, dash out of the shadows and into the street.

There's a screech of brakes, a cry — and a pitiful jumble of candy and cookies strewn about a limp little form on the pavement.

The vision problem is something that you, as a parent, can do much to solve. All you need are a few ordinary cosmetics and a little imagination. Then you can supply your trick-or-treaters with painted faces and discard one of Hallowe'en's greatest dangers — the face mask.

A painted face not only lets your child see, it's much more comfortable than a hot mask, too. And it's fun — children love being made up.

Have a look in the drawer of the dressing table for the basic ingredients — lipstick, rouge, pancake makeup, eye shadow and an eyebrow pencil — or buy inexpensive brands at a variety or drug store.

You may also find zinc oxide in your medicine chest and cornstarch in a kitchen cabinet.

Be sure you have a jar of cold cream on hand for the cleanup job. Just rub it over the entire face, then wipe cold cream and make-up off together with tissues. Cold cream works more effectively than soap and water.

Painted faces are easy to do and a delight to children. But above all, you will have the satisfaction of knowing that your children are safer with the unobstructed vision they need to see and avoid danger!

DEFACTO BUSINESS

One of our local veterinarians told me this morning that he's kept fairly busy with impacted rumen problems at this time of year. Now we don't want to spoil the vet's business but he'd very likely be busy enough with less easily prevented problems. At this time of year rumen overload is occurring because cattle are getting at grain piles and the like. It seems a bit of prevention should be fairly easy to achieve.

Our veterinarian friend says the thing which makes the treatment of this condition so difficult is that it is usually not noticed for a couple of days, and by late for ordinary treatment. Probably a closer watch on cattle turned onto stubble is indicated.

Rumen overload is a fairly frequent occurrence when cattle are started on feed in feedlots but this, it is hereby noticed earlier and may not be so serious in either case, however, good management would eliminate the problem.

BALE HAULING

Most years the weatherman dumps a good snowfall on us before the bales are picked up in fall. Perhaps our farmers are so used to picking bales up out of the snow that they can't imagine it otherwise. Anyway the weatherman seems to be giving us a break this fall. Bale hauling won't ever be fun but it will be a lot more like it before the snow. Also the bales won't be smashed to plug the cultivator next spring.

Capital Report

By JOHN WARREN

There were a couple of rather interesting items last week which raised attention if only because of their apparent contradiction.

The first was a report of the provincial statistics which showed the economy of Alberta advanced on practically all fronts at least until fall this year.

For instance, income from goods (including payments by the whole) rose 1966 to the end of 1965 $2,000,000 to the end of July, amounting to $1,000,000 in the same period last year. Livestock income in the first period rose from $38,000,000 to almost $178,000,000.

The story was much the same in other areas. Tourism (influenced by the number of visitors to national parks) was up more than 1/3 to a total of 17,000,000 people. Total wages and salaries were well over about 13%.

So, much of the economy, and you would think government revenues along with it, was on the upswing.

GOVT. REVENUES DOWN

Then it comes as a bit of a surprise last week when the provincial government announced it was going to have to borrow $35,000,000. Such a step hasn't been taken since 1952 and then it was for less than half that sum. The problem lies in oil revenues in the early part of the year which were up to the level reported.

PICTURE NOT TOO DARK

However, the picture isn't really very dark. Provincial government officials are confident money will probably be required in a relatively small sum later this month, or "must see" the light by the end of the fiscal year.

There are a couple of other factors that bear watching, including in assorted parts of Alberta.

NEW PULP MILL

The government last week said that it hoped to build a pulp mill in the Grande Prairie area. Interested developers will have until July 1st next year to complete engineering surveys in the area and submit their proposals for the operation.

If the president, Mrs. R. J. Shaw the secretary, Mrs. Neil Williams. A corvert will follow.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey McGinnis and family in the Borradaile district was completely destroyed by fire Monday afternoon.

An organization meeting of the Vermilion Home & School Associations will be held in the Primary school on Monday Oct. 30th.

Despite the inclement weather and very bad road conditions, 361 teachers from three school divisions gathered for the fall convention at the V.S.A.

The best weather of the past three weeks is still holding for corn, or even, if possible, developing a little. A few fields have some snow which usually means and plenty of moisture to follow in evidence. Harvesting resuming at a standstill.

For some years the Salvation Army has been holding its services in a building owned by S. Hrynyk which is situated on Second Ave and Fifth St. North not far from the post office. The old Elks Hall in the same block is closed and the Army hopes to be permanently settled there in the very near future.

The weather from Sunday on has been decidedly wintry. A heavy frost of 14 degrees was recorded Sunday night. It has been cloudy with a threat of snow or rain in the air.

48 Years Ago Today

OCT. 22nd, 1918

A later meeting of the board of health, town council and school board was held [illegible] meeting was held to consider the general situation of the epidemic influenza, in respect to the ban. The consensus of opinion was that precautionary measures should be taken, viz., (1) cause have developed in town and district this week.

The lake shop and confectionery store of Andy Tsarey at Lindbergh was totally destroyed by fire on Sunday last. Insurance $500 with Mr. Tsarey's family, reported upstairs in the buildings and escaped with the clothes on their backs and little else.

There was a light snowfall on Friday morning, the first of the season.

Over 100 Persons Attend Greenlawn Old Timers Dinner

Old time residents of Greenlawn district, who had reached the age of 70 years, were invited to a scrumptious turkey banquet in the Greenlawn Hall on Sunday, Oct. 16th by the Greenlawn Old Timers' Association. Over one hundred sat down to the enjoyable repast.

People were present from Clandonald, Elk Point, Dewberry and Vermilion.

One cannot help but admire the members of the Greenlawn Old Timers' Association for the wonderful way they work together year after year, cooking, arranging and serving this fine banquet, which is so much appreciated by the many invited guests.

Cecil Grant the perennial M.C., did his usual fine job and called upon the following to take part in an impromptu program: Andrew Wood, Ernie Stanley, Grandpa Skinner, Cecil Hereford, Ed Stockwell and F. Tulloch.

After the tables were cleared it was agreed that a committee be appointed to work on a Centennial project for the district. It would be much appreciated by O. R. Matthews, president of the Greenlawn Old Timers' Association and Josephine Grey, secretary, if anyone having old photos or knowing of something interesting of pioneer times, would communicate with them.

Lions Offer $25,000 For "Peace" Essay Contest

The youth of Vermilion and district have been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club — a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational or career assistance grant.

The Vermilion Lions Club together with Lions Clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the youth of each on the most important world subject today, Peace. The contest offers $10000 in total awards including the $25,000 first prize eight semi final world regional awards of $1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Illinois in July, 1967. At that time, the first prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also more than 20,000 local district and multiple district awards will be made.

"We are hopeful one of our young people will win this world prize-winning award" President David Duguid of the Vermilion Lions Club said in announcing the contest locally today.

"We are looking for young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967, was stressed by the President of Lions International during the recent Mid Winter Lawrenceburg, Tenn. during the Association's Annual International Convention in New York.

"The Peace Essay Contest is divided into eight world divisions for the $1,000 prizes" President Duguid said.

"Our Club's winner will advance to the Lions District 37B competition in his or her effort to qualify for the multiple district level" Mr. Duguid said.

The Contest sponsored by more than 20,000 Lions Clubs in more than 130 countries around the world will be the largest Peace Essay Contest in the world today.

"The purpose of the contest is to develop a formula for world peace because we feel peace is attainable." President Duguid said.

"We want to alert our youth to the need for world peace and focus attention on that important goal" he said.

In announcing the contest in internationally President Lindsey said that Lions International, the world's largest service club organization is well qualified to sponsor such a contest.

He said the world-wide representation of Lions, the attention given to international relations and friendship between different nationalities and their participation in international programs were their credentials for the patronage of the contest.

Contestants should submit their entry in essay form not to exceed 5,000 words.

"Judging will fall into four categories 75 per cent of the essay's points will be devoted to content, ten per cent to organization, ten per cent to style and five percent to mechanics." Mr Duguid said.

"The mechanics segment will be used to appraise the general mechanical construction of the essays."

"Three judging will be appointed to evaluate the entries submitted to our club" Mr. Duguid said.

If our winner can advance through the judging stages up to the world finals he will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to attend the Lions International 50th Annual Convention for the final judging of his essay, in addition to the $1,000 award.

Mr Duguid said he hoped local young people would accept the challenge and enter in this new section of the contest. Closing date for the club's contest is December 15 1966.

"Students wishing to enter the contest should contact one of the Vermilion Lions to get full details of the contest" he said.

The age limit for the contest includes all youth 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967.

Mr Duguid announced that each applicant would be limited to one entry, with each district essay eligible to compete in the Lions District 37B contest. Winner of district contest will be entered in state or country contest. Each country or multiple district winner will be entered in one of the eight world's divisions.

Mannville Locals

Sincere sympathy is expressed to the family and relatives of Mrs. Hans Dahl Sr., who passed away suddenly at St. Paul.

Miss J A Laidler, who is soon to graduate as a nurse, recently had the interesting experience of accompanying a wee baby from the municipal hospital to Lech bridge to the University Hospital, Edmonton, via a 4-seater Piper aircraft. The trip took 30 minutes accomplished, was most thrilling. Due the smoothness of flying at a higher altitude, the baby was very little affected by the above and an experimental turn at the controls made her first plane trip one to remember.

Mr. A. F. Cotter of Vancouver has returned home after spending a week with his brother and sister-in law, Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Patt Cotter.

Health Unit Notes

CARE FOR YOUR EYES . . . THEY ARE PRICELESS (Part 1)

There is a direct relationship between general health and eye health. A well balanced diet, adequate sleep and daily exercise all contribute to good health. An infection in another part of the body, e.g., an abcessed tooth, could result in eye trouble. A yearly medical examination given by your family doctor could help to prevent breakdown body functions and prevent eye damage.

MEDICAL CARE

Eye conditions may be caused by physical diseases such as diabetes, high blood pressure, kidney troubles, etc. It is therefore of the greatest importance that expert medical care be sought for physical problems as the control of these will often prevent the development of impaired vision or other eye problems.

EYE EXAMINATION

A regular eye examination once a year is recommended and especially if the individual is doing a considerable amount of close work. If correction of any kind is necessary, depending on the condition of your eyes, your eye specialist will indicate you of this.

EYE WELLNESS

To prevent damage to the sight from eye disease, a corrective diagnosis followed by adequate medical treatment is absolutely necessary. Your part in the conservation of sight is of the utmost importance and you can do a great deal to prevent loss of sight.

Symptoms for which immediate eye care should be sought: (1) Swollen, inflamed lids, especially if the eyes are bloodshot and there is a discharge of pus; (2) Severe pain in the eye with or without redness in part or the whole eye; (3) Sudden change in vision, such as double vision or dimming sight; (4) Irritation of the lids such as sties, crusting or inflamed lid margins; (5) Signs of fatigue from eye work such as discomfort, pain, or headaches, nausea, scrolling rub bing eyes, frequent blinking, or inability to do close visual work for a reasonable period; (6) Any parent use of one eye; (7) Divergent or crossed eyes; (8) Irregularities of pupils of the eyes or their failure to react normally to light; (9) Unusual tear production; (10) undue sensitivity to light; (11) Failure to see distant objects; (12) Holding of reading material or other fine work unusually near or unusually far away from the eyes to see it clearly; (13) Pressure in or redness, stumbling over objects in path or failure to appreciate height of steps, getting fingers caught in machinery automobile accidents, etc

Not everyone who needs glasses has eye disease The need for glasses may be due to eye strain, far-sighted or near-sighted vision, astigmatism or a combination of two or more of the errors mentioned.

Pleasant Valley

It is really very pleasant these days with nice sunshine every day. Let's hope that the snow will stay away. The leaves were a beautiful scarlet and gold for a long time before the high wind combined them.

There are not many ducks to be seen this fall, some like those have gone south quite early, it seems. They have left some berries on the shrubs for their return in the spring.

Annie Clarke has spent some days in the hospital with a bad chest cold.

Linda Gould is spending a month's holiday at her home from duties in the hospital.

Bill Wilson a car dealer from Mr. Sanders on the farm with his families.

Mrs. Olsen and son Conner enjoyed a trip to Elk Point on Thanksgiving Monday. The country was a beautiful shirt with all the fall colors.

It was a rewarding sight here on Saturday when four machines pulled in and cleared a field of heavy rape for Bert Gould. The rape had been flattened by the storm and wind a month ago.

The writer had visitors from Unity and a journey was made to Vermilion with them. They remarked what a lovely town it is with all the trees with such green and wide streets. The afternoon was enjoyed with dandelion fine lemon and family. The Reeves had not yet been home around town and Joan's rose was still in bloom. Lost to sunrise around Vermilion.

Centennial Report

by JOHN M. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

For a long time I have been making casual use of the term "birthday party" when talking about our Centennial and Confederation in 1967. Am we wrong? you: one must be careful!

I haven't from the Villings of course but at least one member of every cultural or agricultural group which has had pre-Confederation roots in Canada has been my ear on the subject of the true birth date of Canada. They include English, Scottish, Jewish, Irish, French and American Canadians. They were all here before 1867.

There was a Canada, the argument goes, before Confederation. The fact is there was more than one.

When in Newfoundland one also contends that John Cabot discovered Canada. In Quebec the view that Jacques Cartier did, draws considerable support. Nova Scotians and New Brunswickers remind us that Champlain came here before he visited Quebec Canadian Confederation of course can discount the first two claims.

Most disputes I have heard are good-natured ones. I am happy to say. It is only to a few that I need explain that the "birthday" celebrations, next year are to mark the 100th anniversary of the Confederation that made Canada a federal state. (The period in history when Canada was "born" perhaps one can only be discussed with any validity by geologists and archaeologists — separately of course.)

When that step was taken in 1867 to make Canada an eight federal state one of the Fathers of Confederation said: "We are striving to do peacefully what Holland and Belgium, America and Hungary Denmark and Germany, Russia and Switzerland could only accomplish by armed force Have we not great cause of thankfulness that we have found a better way? Can the world show a more splendid parallel."

In this world there have been a few other federal states formed, without war, since our Centennial in 1867. Some of the modern examples, unfortunately have come apart again.

The birth of Confederation was an event like no other in history Confederation has continued successfully for 100 years and the "birthday" is worth celebrating I'm sure.

Guest Speaker At Rotary

W. F. "Bill" Young, the president of the Rotary Club of West Edmonton, was guest speaker at a recent meeting of the Vermilion Rotary Club. The topic of his talk was "Getting Into Debt in Thirteen Lessons". It could have been described as a very funny talk indeed if it had not betrayed chaos and confusion bewitting modern life and living conditions in general. Witty and humorous, Bill's talk will be regarded timely as long as a society chooses to live beyond its means and suffers as a consequence. Rotary Club Bulletin

Only in Italy

Italy recently ended its first national experiment with day light saving time. There was some merriment over how much whether tourists really liked to take supper by broad daylight, but on the whole summer time was well received. The only complaint the Financial Post reports came from prostitutes who happened to be caught in trains at midnight on Sept. 24, when the clocks were put back. The Italian railways chose a direct method for readjusting their schedules. They simply dropped an hour from the map to allow the clock to catch up.

Three Provinces Operate Crop Insurance Programs

Crop insurance coverage of $7 million was taken out by Canadian provinces in 1965-66 in conjunction with the federal Crop Insurance Act.

Premiums amounted to $1,386,188 and claim payments to $884,458, approximately one quarter of the premiums paid. The federal treasury paid $265,000 as its half share of administrative costs of the schemes, and $267,250 as its share of premiums claimed at that time. It is estimated that 230,000 farms have taken out $20 million worth of insurance for 1966-67.

The Crop Insurance Act of 1959 was amended this year to increase insurance coverage from 60 up to 80 per cent of long-term average yield for a crop, to offer protection to producer units, such as trees and perennial forage stands, to increase from 20 up to 25 per cent the federal contribution to farmers' premiums; and to allow an area, small on a farm to serve as the basis for estimating average yield, provided that data is available.

In 1965-66 Manitoba, Prince Edward Island, Saskatchewan and Alberta operated crop insurance programs. The three prairie provinces entered into 283 agreements which provided for reinsurance for part of the provincial risks.

MANITOBA

Last year 8,610 Manitoba farmers purchased $18,689,730 worth of coverage for grain and sugar beet crops. Premiums, including Canada's 20 per cent share, totalled $1,806,612, while insured farmers received $360,000 in indemnities. The federal contribution with respect to premiums was $280,546 and with respect to administrative costs $172,774.

P. E. I.

In Prince Edward Island 327 farmers purchased insurance for potato and grain crops. Total coverage purchased was $460,890. Premiums, including the federal share were $16,915 and indemnities $45,393. Federal contributions during the year were $4,268 for administrative costs and $6,658 for premiums.

SASKATCHEWAN

The [illegible] program provided coverage totalling $1,397,000 with 3,172 farmers participating. Premiums, including the federal share, amounted to $399,701 while indemnities paid to 283 farmers amounted to $120,853.

ALBERTA

During 1965 Alberta began a crop insurance program for wheat, oats and barley crops in three test areas. The Alberta Crop Insurance Corporation reports 1,312 farmers purchased coverage for grain crops totalling $3,231,898. Total premiums were $280,723 and 117 farmers were paid $48,080 in indemnities.

With a nip of winter in the air, most of us are faced with the problem of a winter coat or jacket.

Separate jackets rate special attention this season. Fabrics are bolder, styles more exciting, ranging from the western and military looks to innumerable variations of the pea jacket. Since many of these jackets must be able to take hard wear and an active life, it pays to know the fabrics most frequently used, the care each fabric requires and the signs of quality.

TODAY'S FASHION

Brushed Mohair — which comes from the Angora goat, is a lustrous napped fabric, often used for Tyrol-type jackets. It is delicate looking but is sturdy. It must be dry cleaned.

Corduroy — especially the wide wale type is very "in". It is basically sturdy and long wearing. The nap, however, shows wear at elbows, collars, cuffings, etc. To keep corduroy looking its best, it should be dry cleaned.

Melton — a soft, smooth, lustrous wool fabric, is very durable and versatile. It requires dry cleaning.

Cotton Suede — although it doesn't have the suppleness of suede leather, it is less expensive and easier to care for. Some jackets can be washed and others must be dry cleaned, check the label. There are also leather suedes that are vinyl-lined; these cannot be dry cleaned, so make sure the jacket is constructed for washability.

Shearling — is short napped wool, sheared to the desired height. It must be dry cleaned.

Furs — in both real and fake, the shaggy look stands out. Real fur requires the care of a furrier or reliable cleaner. Fur fabrics usually combine acrylic and modacrylic fibres. They are lightweight, warm, though not as soft as real fur. You'll recognize acrylics by these trade names: Acrilan, Creslan, Zefran; modacrylics by Dynel, Verel. Although many fur fabrics are washable, good care are best dry cleaned.

QUALITY INDICATORS

1. Note the fibre content of all parts of the jacket, lining, trim, interfacing, etc., and make sure all parts are washable. Acrylic pile, quilted man-made fibrefill, man-made foam, and nylon taffeta linings all can be washed.

2. Check for adequate seam allowance and seam finishes, especially if the jacket is going to be washed.

3. Buttonholes show quality or lack of it, quickly. Well-made jackets have sturdy buttonholes, no stray threads, etc.

4. Sleeves should come up no higher than the wrist when you bend your elbows. Move arms and check for tension across the shoulders and around armholes. Comfort is essential.

Vermilion Selected as Headquarters For Agricultural Extension Region

The province of Alberta is to be divided into seven regions for the purpose of extension and agricultural administration, E. E. Ballantyne, Deputy Minister of the Alberta Department of Agriculture announced this week.

Speaking to the annual conference of the agriculture department, Dr. Ballantyne said the reorganization will allow the department to carry out its work with a regional approach. The move recognized that agriculture is different in the different areas of Alberta.

Plans are for the headquarters of the new regions to be at Vermilion, Lethbridge, Red Deer, Calgary, Stettler and Edmonton. This is the long term planning objective of the department and will be done by steps. A purpose of the reorganization will be to cut down demands on headquarters staff and transfer the demands to specialists in the field closer to the farmer.

A new agriculture building is to be built on the Fairview Agricultural and Vocational College campus in 1967-68 to house department specialists in the region. At Vermilion Agricultural and Vocational College a new building is planned for 1966-67 and one at Lethbridge in 1968-70. The buildings also are planned for Olds College and at Fort Saskatchewan.

The organization of the new agricultural regions will not all be the same, but will vary according to the needs of the region, Dr. Ballantyne said. For example, a good deal of office space would be devoted to the Water Resources Division at Fairview because of the work planned to drain the abundance of lakes and rivers there and for drainage purposes. However, at Vermilion, no space, would be devoted to the Water Resources Division.

The deputy minister said that for the time being the Department of Industry and Development has no own building. The former Alberta Government Telephone Building is to be known as the Agriculture Building and all of the Department except the Animal Industry Division and the Agricultural Economics Division will be moved in it. These two branches will be housed in office space rented by the Department in the 100th Avenue Building in downtown Edmonton until space becomes available in the Agriculture Building.

Centennial projects planned for 1967 include naming names for the Agricultural Hall of Fame at Alberta's Master Farm Family award winners will receive expense-paid trips to Expo in Montreal or $1,000. An active tree planting project on farms and schools is a centennial project, with trees coming from the Department's tree nurseries at Oliver and Brooks. Special prizes for livestock to be another centennial project. A history of agriculture in Alberta is being written and the Alberta Farm Guide is being "dressed up" for the centennial.

Dr. Ballantyne said that special information meetings and planned advisory to District Agricultural offices. These means would be for the instruction in depth by the week courses of one lecture a week to small groups of farmers. This will be the need that many farmers have expressed of being able to get more detailed and complete information on a specific subject such as farm manager or beef cattle nutrition.

Juvenile Hockey League Organizes For Season

Lawrence Harewither was re-elected president of the Eastern Alberta Juvenile Hockey League at the annual meeting held on October 23rd. Vice president is Clarence Bodnar and all of the Department except the Animal Industry Division and the Agricultural Economics Division will be housed in it. These two branches will be housed in office space rented by the Department in the 100th Avenue Building in downtown Edmonton until space becomes available in the Agriculture Building.

We're Sorry To Lose The Teachers' Convention

Teachers of the A.T.A Locals of Minburn, Wainwright and Vermilion counties decided that the venue of future conventions would be in Edmonton The decision is genuinely regretted in Vermilion, as it was felt that the convention was very well handled here, the programs were universely good with speaker's who were well versed in their various fields. The attendance was always practically 100 percent, not just for the registration but for all of the various sessions. The cost of the convention in Vermilion was also at a minimum both for convention accommodation, meals and lodging.

It will be found in Edmonton that convention accommodation is difficult to obtain at the exact time desired, also that it is very costly, the cost will be much greater all teachers will require lodging in the city, and the travelling will be increased. The overall expenditure by A.T.A. locals and individual teachers will be infinitely greater and the attendance at convention sessions could possibly be lower Other activities it will no doubt attract when in the city. Vermilion is sorry to lose the convention but the teachers are welcome back whenever they wish to come.

Community Development

The next four or five years are going to be significant for Canada's economy if we are to provide jobs for the estimated one million people entering the work force in that period. The provision of these jobs, of course, means that Canada's economy is going to have to expand significantly particularly in the manufacturing areas.

Economic expansion and employment are, to a great extent, a community affair If our individual communities do not grow and develop, the nation as a whole will not grow and develop.

What is community development, and how can it be brought about? A very apt definition by the United Nations states it up well as "a process designed to create conditions of economical and social progress for the whole community with its active participation and the fullest possible reliance upon the community's initiative." This is a good definition as it implies action on the part of the community itself; not a passive acceptance of stagnation or of waiting for help from outside, but a realistic approach to economic development in which the whole community participates. This kind of development can be spearheaded by no better organization than Boards of Trade and Chambers of Commerce in communities across the nation The initiative must be taken now, if Canada's enormous growth potential is to be fully realized.

GREEN ACRES

By J. S. DUNCAN, D. A. Vermilion, Alberta

Can I fertilize in the fall before I get my soil test results?

This is a common question being asked by farmers these days. In general the answer is yes, if you are thinking about stubble land, hay or pasture or late breaking (to these types of land an extra amount of nitrogen is always needed. This amount may vary but as a rule an application of 75 to 100 lbs of ammonium nitrate fertilizer will very seldom be too high. With this amount put on in the fall the balance of the nitrogen need, as well as the phosphorous can be drilled in at seeding time.

Fall application is usually easier than spring because there are no sloughs or soft spots in the field to bother equipment

BURN OR NOT BURN ?

Burning stubble is throwing money away in most cases. An average crop of straw is worth $2.50 to $4 per acre on the field and yet is worth nothing when burned

This is only the value of the nitrogen and phosphorous which is lost by burning An even greater value is the organic matter which straw provides for the soil. This organic matter improves the ability of the soil to absorb and hold moisture. It also improves the physical structure of the soil and protects against wind and water erosion. When all of these values are added up it is just too expensive to burn stubble in this area

FALL CULTIVATION

Get any perennial weeds? If you have such weeds as Canada or Sow thistle, Quackgrass or Tand flax, a trip over with a cultivator last thing in the fall will greatly weaken the plants. If dried points are used in stubble fields it will leave enough stubble standing to hold snow well This fall operation leaves the soil in shape to catch spring moisture as well.

Five Distinguished Dentists Attend Society Meeting Here

The North Eastern Alberta and District Dental Society were honored at their recent bi-monthly meeting to have five distinguished dentists and their wives present.

Dr. H. R. McLean, Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry and his wife, the director of the School of Dental Hygiene; Dr. Bob Gray of Medicine Hat, President of the Alberta Dental Association, and Dr. George Decker of Edmonton, Secretary-Treasurer Registrar of the Alberta Dental Association and his wife all journeyed to Vermilion to meet with the area dentists.

Dr. W. H. Scott of Edmonton, and Dr. H. J. Clarke of Vermilion, both honorary members of N.E.A.D.S.D. and former practising dentists in Vermilion, were also in attendance accompanied by their charming wives.

Society dentists in attendance were Dr. R. E. Harder of Vermilion, Dr. Dave Lawton and Dr. Les Mandin of St. Paul, Dr. R. Holt, Dr. P. Holt and Dr. F. Beamish of Lloydminster, Dr. R. Paynter and Dr. E. Glover of Vermilion.

A social hour at Dr. Glover's preceded the supper meeting at Scuggins Restaurant where a delicious steak supper was served.

Following the supper the ladies retired to the home of Mrs. Paynter where they continued their visitations.

Dean MacLean, who is also the Alberta representative of C.D.A., addressed the dentists on the policies of the national organization. Such things as computer scored aptitude tests which are now administered to all students desirous to enter dentistry and the current scope of licensure were outlined by the Dean. He also mentioned the increase of foreign dentists who are applying to practice in Alberta especially those of the Commonwealth countries. They include applicants from India, Manila, Germany, Cuba and Egypt There is a great deal of difficulty evaluating these applicants compared to Alberta standards.

Dr. Bob Gray, who drove up Highway 41 from Medicine Hat, spoke on the Prepaid Dental Plan being investigated by the A.D.A. The profession through its Dental Service Committee is now well versed in its investigation of such a plan which will likely be of an indemnity coinsurance type with provisions for incentive clause for the patients.

Dr. Gray stressed the subject of continuing education where the various dental teams visit rural centres to hold one-day seminars for the area dentists. One was recently held on cancer detection and others are to include ortho and pedo.

Dr. Decker stressed the recruitment of young adults into the health field. At the University of Alberta last year there were 142 applicants to first year nursing and of these room exists for only fifty. For the first time in many years the minimum academic achievement of 65 per cent had to be lowered to accommodate the fifty students.

Following the address the dentists joined the ladies at the Physicians' home for a social hour where the fellowship was continued.

CARE FOR YOUR EYES

Eye Exercises

Eye exercises are helpful to correct certain eye conditions but they are by no manner to be considered a cure for any eye problem. Eye muscle exercises are done to the order of the eye doctor. Exercises can properly be expected to help. Exercises make sense only when that a qualified person prescribes them.

Sun Glasses

Ideally sunglasses should be worn only upon the recommendation of an eye specialist. It is very important to realize that sunglasses do not give a false sense of security. For example you don't think that wearing sunglasses prevents the rays of the sun from penetrating the eyes. Prolonged periods of sun exposure while wearing sunglasses may so burn the retina (part of eye essential for seeing) that even blindness may result.

Care of Eyeglasses

Eye glasses should be kept in safe cases but should also be worn in the correct position and only to gain the necessary benefits from them.

Periodic visits should be made to the eye specialist to make sure that glasses are still serving the purpose for which they were prescribed.

Reading Habits

Reading habits affect one's eyes. Continuous reading of poor print, improper lighting or poor posture are common causes of eye strain. Lighting should be sufficient to produce comfortable meeting. Good lighting means then the distribution of a pleasing soft light. There should be no harmful glare or deep shadows.

Recurrent eyes may mean a need for eye glasses because of eye strain.

Next time you drive Alberta's highways, watch the bridges and overpasses and see how many different designs you can count. The variety of shape and color is a contribution to the beauty of our Province by the Bridge Branch of the Alberta Department of Highways. Each year, this Branch builds or rebuilds approximately 400 bridges, and each of the more than 4,000 now in use, is given to add to the interest and appearance of Alberta's highways by using varying designs, colors and materials. There are approximately 10,000 bridges under the jurisdiction of the Branch, of which about 700 are steel, 1,300 concrete, 4,200 of timber, and 3,800 a combination installed in lieu of bridges.

Bear Shot Alright, But Just Barely

The man who told Alex Martin and son he'd shot a bear from their truck recently wasn't fooling.

But he was a darned poor shot.

Mr Marian formerly of Vermilion and his 15-year-old son Dennis were hunting deer 15 miles south of Edam when they spotted a bear. The bear was jumped from $200 in 1965 to $175,150. Cardston also reported those rural communities record

PART 2

In addition to adequate basic general education, the increasing speed of technological change requires greatly expanded efforts in the fields of training, retraining and adult education generally. Without proper forward planning and effective programmes in these areas, major advances in technology can impose sudden, severe and inequitable hardships on individual workers and on particular firms and communities. When these occur it is natural to expect strong pressures aimed at slowing down or even halting the process of change which is essential to sustained economic growth.

While this is much more expensive than what we have been accustomed to in this country, if we do what it is both wise and profitable to do education will become much the largest activity in our society. It will involve more people, more public expenditure and—problems of organization and more daily preoccupation with procedures and aims than any other activity. The mounting costs and energies required will call for continued adjustments in our complicated systems of governmental institutions and public revenues. Acute conflicts will summon us and with other claims on our public resources. For some time to come one of the most serious problems in our country will be that of developing a proper and a wise set of priorities for dealing with the sudden, and massive thrust in the importance of education. It will have to be recognized as a vast and far-reaching new factor in the intelligent ordering of our affairs.

In the complex world of the future, the possession of knowledge and skill will dominate every human endeavour. It is no longer possible to build success simply on human physical energy and on raw resources, no matter how enormous. Attainment of our ambitious economic and social goals will depend on how well we are prepared both intellectually and emotionally to solve the large political, social and economic problems of our times; how well we cope with the problem of improving the quality of life in our ever more crowded cities; how well we can compete in an increasingly interdependent world; how well we master the revolutionary new technologies while maintaining a proper regard for individual human values and human fulfilment; and how well we understand and recognize the interests and legitimate aspirations of a culturally and regionally diverse people, how well we can contribute to maintaining the peace and to helping the poor of the world. For this we need, above all in this complex country of ours, a highly educated and highly informed population. We are entering into an age when man's accelerating knowledge of nature and of social processes will enable us, more than ever, to invest the future, either for immense good or for immense evil.

All of us have a great duty

All Ages Will Benefit From The Centennial Grant

The council of the Town of Vermilion in recent session gave considerable time and attention to the matter of Centennial Grants. The grant is available on the basis of one dollar per head of population from the Federal and Provincial governments and is possible only under certain conditions as laid down by the Senior governments.

Some months ago a decision was made to erect a building suitable for the entertainment of senior citizens, but the land on which the building was to have been erected could not be obtained. Later, a senior citizen made representations to the Council advising that. In his opinion, the building would not be effectively utilized.

With these situations in mind, the Council has now decided to make the grant available to the organization which has been effectively prosecuted by the Kinsmen Club of Vermilion for the benefit of the youngsters of the present and future in Vermilion.

GRANT FOR PUBLISHING HISTORY

The Council also decided to make a grant available to the Historical committee of Senior Citizens now in the process of publishing a history of the early settlers and their efforts towards the building of our community. In this book, which is expected to be available during the month of December, there are interesting highlights of those men and women who came to the Vermilion district in 1905, 1906 and in the immediately succeeding years and the members of Council felt that the preservation of the records of the fine achievement on the pioneer citizens should be set down for the benefit of those of the future. With this in mind, the substantial grant is being made available

From the left Reg Mitchell of the Rotary Club, whose members have donated $5,000 to the pool fund); Mayor Carl Heck; Ron Tibbitt, town has allocated the centennial grant of $5,449; Anton Cooper, M.L.A., (the province's centennial grant of $5,449.62 plus a $7,000 grant for swimming pools will go for the project); Ron Tibbitt, president of Kinsmen Club (which club has donated $30,000 as well as assuming the responsibility for the construction of the pool); Joe Winter, Exalted Ruler of the Elks (whose club has donated $1,500 for the new pool). The pool will also be eligible for a grant of $2,500 under the Federal-Provincial winter works incentive program.

A canvass for donations from individuals in town and country will also be made by Kinsmen.

Centennial Pool Is Well Underway

Vermilion's swimming pool is fast taking shape with Dominion Gunite (1964) Co. Ltd., the contractor and W. J. Fraser and Associates as consulting engineers.

A report on Monday, showed that the excavation is completed, the tank plumbing nearly completed and the underwater lights ready to install.

Gunniting is expected to start tomorrow (Friday) This procedure, which has not been done before in Vermilion, involves the placing of concrete without the use of forms. The excavation itself will serve as the form and is sprayed out from this will be the first of all steel reinforcing rods placed together to provide additional strength for the concrete.

The gunite process involves the dry mixing of the aggregate, then forcing it through a nozzle under air pressure. Before leaving the nozzle, a water ring forces water into the heretofore dry mix resulting in a moist concrete which can be directed to place by the operator With this procedure there are no expansion joints to cause leakage.

Local contractors and labor have been and are being used on the project.

The excellent weather of the past two weeks has enabled progress to proceed unhindered and the largest date at June, 1967 for opening seems a reality

Mannville Centennial Project Now Underway

MANNVILLE — Mannville's long-awaited arena started to take shape this past week. Western Spanmaster Ltd., to whom the contract of the new arena has been awarded, started work on the foundation which they hope to have completed within the week.

The various committees are busy with plans to raise funds for the progressive payments which have to be made. Canvassers for donations from town and country report favorable progress, but as time is getting short all those who have not been canvassed and who would like to make a donation to this worthy cause are asked to contact any of the committee members or business men in the village. Fund raising projects presently underway are a raffle of a snow crusher, a Grey Cup football pool and a turkey shoot. It is hoped that all Chamber of Commerce members will get behind this effort to make it a big success. For those not wishing to take part in the pig and turkey shoot in the afternoon there will be a dances bingo the evening. Cold cuts and snacks will be available at the dances.

Tow Being Constructed on Ski Hill

A meeting of the Vermilion Ski Club was held on Friday, Oct. 28th at the Rob Cafe. Sixteen were present. Many topics were discussed concerning the business of the club.

Laurence Webb gave an excellent report on the trip he had made to Edmonton to look into ski tows and also outlined a proposal as to how the Vermilion Ski Club tow could be constructed. Good progress is reported in readying the hill for the start of the season although there is still some work to be done. The purchase of rope for the tow was approved as was the setting of poles. The financial statement of the club indicated that while shares were being sold there is still need for considerable financial support by the general public to adequately capitalize the club. It is intended to pursue the sale of shares as rapidly as possible and anyone who is interested is requested to contact Dr Attenborough, Lawrence Webb or Tom Lyseen. It was agreed that a 30 per cent reduction in membership fees be made to all those people who had bought shares in the club.

Following this there was a discussion about membership fees but no final decision was taken as it was felt that this should be considered by all members of the club before a decision was taken.

IN LIEU LOW

A motion to lease the land for the old run and toboggan run from George Barlow was carried unanimously There was further discussion on a number of other topics before the meeting was adjourned. The whole tenor of the meeting showed the very considerable enthusiasm with which the members are working to get the ski club on its feet.

Value Days Serve Dual Purpose

Once again Vermilion merchants and business men have cooperated to present the annual fall value days to residents in a very wide shopping area. Value Days is designed to serve a twofold purpose; firstly it does offer the opportunity for everyone to purchase all the needs of the family, and the home at considerable savings; secondly it brings home to all the wide range of goods and services offered in Vermilion

It will be to the benefit of everyone to survey this special shopping issue of the Standard very carefully. It is in fact a catalogue of the stores, garages, lumber yards, real estate and insurance business and services in Vermilion, all very willing and anxious to serve you to the best of their ability.

This value days edition of the Standard is published with the full cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce and the advertisers of Vermilion. This market reached by this issue of the Standard is a tremendous one as it is distributed directly to 5,000 families in the shopping area with a possible population of 20,000 people.

Each and every person is invited to visit Vermilion by the community - minded business men and to take advantage of all the goods and services offered

Sunday At Alliance Chapel

The annual Foreign Missions services indicated a genuine concern for the people of this and other lands now threatened by domination by revolutionary groups. The concluding services held on Sunday past saw the receiving of the largest pledge offering for missionary endeavour ever received in the local chapel. In the evening service a love offering was received and given to the missionary. A good attendance was augmented by many visitors from the Gospel Hall, the Salvation Army and the Mannville Alliance Tabernacle.

The elders Mr. Albert Towell and Mr. Albert Mix were in charge of the services. Solos were sung by Jim Towell Jr and by Norman Ibbett and a duet by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tidsbury. Piano and organ accompaniment for the singing was played by Miss Margaret McLennan, Mrs. Albert Towell and Mrs Jim Towell.

Out of town visitors in the services were Mrs. Curtis Re, Edmonton, visiting Mrs. Grace Curtis and Mrs. Elsie Lindgren of Edmonton visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. Floyd Bottorff.

Kitscoty News

Recent guests of Mr and Mrs. E. Joy were their granddaughter, Mrs. Douglas Jew and two children Linda and Carmel, of Hamilton, Ont., who were en route to visit Mrs. Joy's parents in White Rock, B.C. It had been nine years since they visited this community and needless to say the grandparents were pleased to see this group of their family circle.

[illegible] was the scene of a miscellaneous shower on Saturday evening, Oct. 22, about sixty friends and well wishers gathered in Tracy Memorial Hall to tender a shower to Mrs Herbert Moon Jr., a bride of recent date. After a few games and a social time, Laurie was presented with many useful and lovely gifts from town and room. Mr. Friends by Mrs. Art Wynne. Following the opening of the gifts Mrs Moon thanked those present and invited all to visit them at their farm home. Following the serving of a beautiful lunch the gathering dismissed in the usual way with the singing of For Shes a Jolly Good Fellow and God Save the Queen.

Congratulations are in order to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Evens on the birth of a son on Oct 1st to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Fer on the 6th and to Mr. and Mrs. Thelma Evans on the birth of a son on the 15th.

Advertisements in the press and over television and radio, of course will herald events in the cities and towns in the weeks before the occasions. But to let all the people in all of Canada know months in advance about every date and every location for each event we believe would create an information explosion on the order of almost all magazines. Our theorists at the Centennial Commission will advise that it couldn't be done.

It's a great challenge to get information out across the land to all the people equally when some of the projects are still in the planning stage.

I think one member of my hearing audience realized that when she asked a question in an auditorium recently.

"I'm from White Rock, British Columbia, and I'm having friends from the States visiting in the middle of May. Can you tell me what is happening in our area then?"

Well fortunately I had a set of our computerized data books with me and was able to answer after a little searching. One of the Confederation Caravans would be stopping in White Rock for two days in May, the 13th and 14th.

Not that we can come up with all the answers all of the time but I realize that if we were in many places, have similar questions in their minds.

May I suggest if you can't find the right answers, that you try Information Services, Centennial Commission, P.O. Box 1967, Ottawa. We'll try to help this information explosion yet!

Poliakiwski-Whitson Double Ring Ceremony

MANNVILLE — On Aug. 13 the Fidelity Greek Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding of Wendy Lorraine Whitson, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn Whitson of Mannville to Lawrence Albert Poliakiwski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Poliakiwski, also of Mannville.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Gurad, before an altar decorated with boughs of red roses.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, wore a floor-length gown of white organza over taffeta with lily-point sleeves. There were lace appliques and seed pearls around the high neckline and on the bouffant skirt, which had deep lace insets.

Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a sequined tiara. Her bouquet was of red and white roses.

Attending the bride were the Misses Karen Nicoll and Patsy McLaughlin of Mannville. They were identically styled floor-length sheath gowns, one white, the other lime green. Each had white accessories and carried bouquets of coral carnations.

Groomsmen were Danny Sherman of Innisfree, the groom's cousin and Ron Poliakiwski, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother chose a two-piece gold suit with bracelet sleeves, complemented by a hat of the same shade. She wore pink and white roses on corsage.

The groom's mother chose a pink jacketed dress, complemented by white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

A bridal supper was held at the home of the groom's parents. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom. The cake was decorated with swans and pink roses and flanked by decorated candles. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Fred Herasc.

The master of ceremonies was Mr. Peter Kotowich, uncle of the groom.

A dance was held later in the Orange Hall with music supplied by the Country Kings. The bride was given in marriage by her father. "Speaking" and "Listening"

Guest speaker at the October 14th dinner meeting of the Vermilion Rotary Club was a charming lady, Miss Agnes Buckles, English teacher at the McNally high school in Edmonton. As a featured guest speaker Miss Buckles had been participating at the Teachers Convention in Vermilion. Her topic was "Communication Skills" concentrating on "speaking" and "listening". She demonstrated impressive skill for holding her listeners attention. Her stories were entertainingly told and she gave ample evidence in her material and manner of presentation to prove that she is an imaginative and perceptive teacher.

Today thought: There is no way of bringing back lost opportunities for time and tide wait for no man. If a solemn thought and yet a practical one: that we are in such a rush all the time nothing that is helped by postponement if it is worth while at all. Everything that is a duty, stretch the duty of the hour, or of the day. It is the urgent call to the wise of today.

Tourist Program For Alberta

OTTAWA — The federal government has agreed to pay half the cost of a $200,000 tourist development program to be initiated by the Government of Alberta.

Federal forestry and rural development minister M. Sauve said Alberta agriculture minister H. E. Strom recently announced approval of the tourist-financed All A.A. permit to extend over a 4 year period to Mar. 31 1970.

The undertaking which is directly aimed at substantially increasing income and employment opportunities in the province's Rural Development Area, calls for the provision of rustic public recreational facilities in forested areas, including construction of campsites, access roads and other park amenities. All areas to be developed are on Crown land, under jurisdiction of the Alberta Forest Service which will administer the ARDA project.

When building a campfire scrape away all inflammable material never light it near a campsite roots but of course it is a shame to fire ground and keep it small. When you leave drench it with water even if with soil.

BOWTELL BULLETIN

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. M. Jamieson who were married Saturday at the United Church, Vermilion. Prior to their wedding a shower was held on Friday in the community hall. An enjoyable social evening was spent. A pretty pink and white basket tastefully decorated by Mrs. J. Repp was loaded with the many useful gifts and brought into the room. Mrs. J. ## Instant Ditch

A new blasting method could be a boon to pipeline companies faced with the problem of crossing a river Edward Romaine reports in the Financial Post. "Instant ditching technique was used to cut a trench under the Bow River near Calgary, in two weeks rather than an estimated 14 weeks.

touch of character If there is room for it. a small chest of drawers doubling as a telephone stand or a set of shelves will serve both functional and aesthetic purposes.

In the new homes being constructed today, the look is wide open and thus, a separate antechamber or entrance often does not exist. However, in older homes this entrance is a very real and very important part of the house. The same theories hold true to upstairs hallways or the hallways in the bedroom area.

The restricted dimensions of most hallways is a challenge to anyone's imagination. This is often why most halls are so dull. It need not be so. The main requirement is sheer decorative originality.

Discuss Marketing Legislation For Farm Products

The deputy ministers for the Canada and provincial departments of agriculture and servants dealing with provincial marketing problems met in Winnipeg recently to discuss matters relative to agricultural marketing control agencies.

Among the items discussed at the meeting, according to D. H. McCallum, chairman of Alberta's Agricultural Products Marketing Council, were the desirability of extending the power granted to marketing boards and commissions, under the Canada Act, to cover products moved from one province to another. The value of producer quotas and their implications also came under discussion.

A small committee was appointed during the meeting to work out a uniform terminology to be used in marketing legislation. At present there is considerable variation in the terms and definitions.

Those attending the meeting also requested a study on quotas to be undertaken by the Agricultural Economics Research Council of Canada. Mr. McCallum says the study would be given priority over other projects being undertaken by the Council in the hope that the information could be used by provincial agencies early in 1967.

The following day, representatives of the four western provincial marketing boards, or marketing council as it is called in Alberta, met to discuss matters of mutual concern pertaining to producer marketing boards and commissions.

Each chairman gave a brief summary of the methods used to administer his province's marketing legislation. It was evident, says Mr. McCallum, that interprovincial co-operation and an understanding of the marketing problems in each province is important from the point of view of preventing the dumping of products on each others markets. The point was also made that producers in some provinces receive more help and financial assistance than those in other provinces in establishing their plans and conducting their votes.

It was almost unanimously agreed that the periodic meetings of ministers similar to the Winnipeg one would be of considerable assistance to those involved in provincial marketing legislation.

Foreign Bodies

In case you get something in your eye, caution should be observed. Foreign bodies in the eyes have caused very serious damage. Sometimes the individual can remove the foreign body by irrigating the eye with boiled water or with boric acid solution, using a clean medicine dropper. It should be dropped into the eye at the corner next to the nose, holding the head so that it will run out the other side.

Tears will very likely help to remove the particle. Pending treatment the eye should be closed and lightly bandaged.

Do not forget to see your doctor when there are particles which you cannot remove by the simple methods.

Eye Specialists

It is obvious that competent examinations can be obtained only from a qualified eye specialist and that the care and treatment of eye conditions call for a high degree of skill and knowledge As the term "eye specialist" is used by anyone who specializes in any aspect of eye care, it is well to define the terms used to describe the major groups of workers in this field. They are:

Optometrist and Oculist

This designates a physician who has specialized in the treatment of eye disease and optical defects Such a person is, of course, licensed to practice medicine and surgery in all its forms, as well as the prescription of glasses when indicated.

Optometrist

Describes a non-medical practitioner licensed to treat optical and muscle defects of the eye. He can prescribe glasses and give muscle exercises.

Optician

Refers to a person who grinds, fits and supplies glasses This involves making facial measurements, selecting and grinding lenses according to prescription, polishing and fitting them into frames and adjusting the frames to fit the wearer

Have you ever wondered...

...what precautions are taken to prevent breaks in Alberta's oil and gas pipelines?

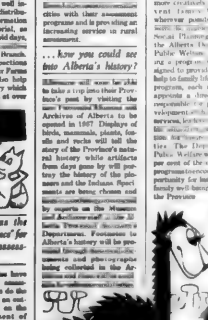
Pipeline safety is a team effort between landowners, the oil and gas industry and the Alberta Government. Pipe Line Division of the Alberta Department of Mines and Minerals. From the specifications stage to actual operations, continuous safety checks are carried out by the Division's engineers and inspectors. All specifications are checked prior to construction and the Division must approve a test under greater pressure than that which will be used in operation. A continuous program of inspection is maintained on lines where there is a danger of corrosion and all pipelines are checked for corrosion at safety factors. With 17,324 miles of pipeline in Alberta, breaks do sometimes occur and these are investigated immediately. The line must be restored to conditions which meet the original safety standards or before it is put back into operation. If the repair fails to satisfy the Division inspector it must be done over, if it is still not satisfactory, he may order a re-testing of the entire line.

...how Alberta's fur farmers are kept informed?

The men and women who run Alberta's multi-million dollar fur crop each year must be kept up to date on all technical improvements and developments if they are to keep their output up and their incomes at maximum levels. So Fur Farms Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture keeps them well informed, through the distribution of written information and technical material, as well as by means of field days, demonstrations and conferences with their assessment programs and in pre-sizing at harvesting service in rural assessment.

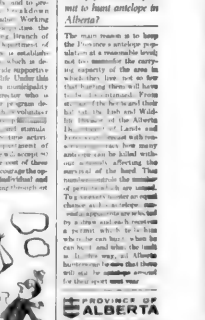
...how you could use into Alberta's history?

Museum will soon be able to take a trip into their Province's past by visiting the Fur Farms of Alberta and Alberta Fur Farms Ltd. opened in 1967 Displays of hides, mammals, plants, fossils and rock will tell the story of the Province's natural history. Museum officials hope days gone by will portray the history of the farms and the industry. Exhibits are being chosen and prepared by experts on the Museum and Archives staff in the Provincial Department of Education. Assistance is also being given by the Provincial Museum and Archives Department. Assistance to Alberta's history will be presented through documentary sources and photographs collected in the Provincial Archives and from other sources. Displays and items of interest will be added from time to time.



...what the "social resources" of Alberta are?

Social resources are those which are available to all members of a community to allow them to enrich their physical, mental and emotional well-being. It is those resources which must be devoted to the full in order to give every Alberta child the chance to live more happily, more creatively and to prevent future breakdown wherever possible Working with the Provincial Government's program and in providing all necessary services in rural assessment.



why you need a partner to hunt antelope in Alberta?

The main reason is to keep the Province's antelope population at a reasonable level, and to conserve the carrying capacity of the area in which they live not so few that they will not be able to build up their numbers sufficiently to maintain themselves, and not so many that they will destroy all the fodder and shelter in the area. Only by means of the Alberta Game Act and Regulations can the number of antelope be controlled. Without controls, the antelope would increase to the point where they would destroy all the fodder and shelter in the area. Then many would die from starvation and exposure. Only a certain number of antelope can be killed without seriously affecting the growth of the herd. The recommendation the number of permits which are issued each year is based on research by game biologists. Research is also being conducted on the effects of hunting on the herd. # Capital Report

By JOHN WARREN

FIRST NDP ELECTED

The New Democratic Party has its foot in the door of the legislature.

A young Fletcher Creek lawyer, Garth Turcott, is the man who turned the trick. He received 1,- 788 votes, 136 more than his Social Credit rival, Joseph Hermann, to take the Fletcher Creek-Crowsnest seat which was made vacant by the death of Wm. Kovich.

It was Mr. Turcotte first crack at politics and it marked the first time the NDP has won a seat in Alberta (although the former C CF party held a number of seats in the 1930's)

It was also a resounding success for party leader Neil Reimer and his devoted crew of campaign workers. Social Credit has held the seat since William Aberhart carried the southwestern Alberta riding and most of the rest of Alberta in 1935. And Social Credit always won it by healthy majorities.

CREATES NEW ISSUE TACTICS

Mr. Reimer claims the victory heralds a new era in the political life of Alberta. He termed it a crack in the Social Credit rock. Amid the scenes of jubilation in the NDP headquarters in Blairmore Creek on lection night there was a very definite feeling that the by-election was just the first big step towards a major political change in the province

NEED TESTING TACTICS

The leaders of the other parties are more cautious in their assessments. They admit the NDP's all-out campaign was remarkably effective, but they point out that the riding is strongly union organized and is an obvious one for the New Democrats to win if they are going to win anywhere.

Old line party candidates were far behind the Progressive Conservative Alex Wells polled 872 votes and Liberal Bertrice Murphy came in last with 798

PARTY SHORTSIGHTED

In the last election Mr Kovich rushed all around to get the 2500 votes against 970 for the Conservative candidate and 1,- 788 for the NDP So the outcome this time was a major improvement in the young Tory leader Peter Lougheed and his hard working crew It was his last test as party chief and he had put his heart and much effort into the task.

The election will allow Mr Turcott to sit in the legislature earlier than usual He will get his first taste of it on Nov 14th when the house is expected to meet in a brief special session to deal with federal-provincial tax law That particular get together will probably last only a couple of days and won't touch any of the matters that are planned for the regular spring session.

GET THE MESSAGE

Surprising as it may seem Premier Manning may be able to use this by-election to his advantage In the election he is expected to call next spring This is his toughest one recently has been to convince Social Creditors that their traditional stronghold have a chance of losing and that they'd better get out and help the defeat in formerly solid Social Credit Fletcher Creek could help him get this message across.

TURNOVER EVALUATING

The question of leader evaluation seems to have been settled finally but not to the complete satisfaction of all concerned The appointment of education as a second last week that it would vote the teachers now that the University of Alberta has dropped the job. The evalutions are a key in determining teacher salaries. The Alberta School Trustees' Association says it would have been happy to do the job and can't understand why the government took over

DELEGATIONS SEE CABINET

It's also getting to be that time of year when the various trade, professional and service groups make their annual pitches to the cabinet, in hopes that some legislation they're seeking will be presented at the spring session of the legislature

SCHOOL

One of these last week was the Federation of Home and School Associations which repeated its concern over lack of funds for educational research in Alberta. It asked for particular consideration on studies of the kindergarten and pre-school groups.

VETERINARY ASSOCIATION

The other group last week represented the Alberta Veterinary Association. It asked the government to bear part of the cost for examination of diseased farm animals. The association said the turnover cannot afford expensive diagnostic services and suggested the government could subsidize only the area some of the funds formerly used for brucella so control.

FARM MANAGEMENT GROUPS

By J. S. DUNCAN, D. A.
Vermilion, Alberta

There will be snow on the ground a few of these days and some farmers may find they have a little spare time. This time can be put to good use by making an evaluation of the past year's operations and on the basis of this evaluation making plans for next year. All too often we tend to go on year after year planting the same acreage of wheat raising the same number of hogs or cattle and so on. Sometimes even just stopping to think about it might make us drop a certain enterprise or expand another. There is a better method for arriving at these decisions however and it involves keeping records.

Record keeping and account analysis people until they try it and get used to the idea. It is not all that bad and records are essential for making a sound evaluation of enterprise practices. Without some records one may quite easily lose sight of the big profits when he's knee-deep in the pigs.

It appears there will be time available to the 1966 this winter to give farm management courses to two new groups. These study groups meet a lot more than just keeping track of income and expenses. Complete records which can give the information required for enterprise analysis and partial budgeting are outlined. The steps in making the best possible decisions are described as well as many clues on out-of-plain good farm management practices. There is also opportunity to discuss such items as estate planning, investment opportunities and farm transfer arrangements.

Study groups meet one after noon a week every two weeks and usually both husbands and wives attend. If you are interested in organizing a group or joining one let us know at the D.A. office.

PASTURE IMPROVEMENT

In our opinion the improvement of native pastures is one of the most important needs in our district. This land is becoming quite high priced and demand is increasing. If it's going to pay to run cattle over rich prize land it has to produce and we know that land grown up in bush and bushbrush isn't producing all it could.

There are many methods of improving these pastures, a good one for each condition and perhaps some we don't even know about yet, but we have to decide which to try. Late fall and winter are good times for aerial clearing with bulldozers and chemical control of brush is practical when applied to dormant plants in winter in some cases. Therefore, this is just as good time to think of pasture improvement as in the spring and summer season. We have a fairly good bulletin on brush control which describes some of these methods and contains some good information.

Two Trophies For Kitscoty Klippers

The Kitscoty Klippers ladies' fastball team won two trophies in 1966, the Big Six league title, and the Alberta Intermediate B championship. All teams in the Big Six league reported a very active and much enjoyed 1966 season.

Fire Prevention Week — Was It A Success

By A. V. BEDGER
Alberta Fire Commissioner

As Provincial Fire Commissioner, I have now compiled information for our fire loss score board for Fire Prevention Week, 1966. There were 37 fires with a money loss of $18,128. There was one injury and no deaths. The injury was caused by misuse of gasoline as a paint brush cleaner.

We compared amount of loss with that for 1965 and find that our record shows more fires but a greatly reduced loss in that there were 47 fires in 1965 and $90,895 loss.

Was the week a success? Judging from the efforts put forward by fire departments throughout the province and judging from the response from the general public, I must say that I am very much encouraged. If this same can be held throughout 52 weeks of the year it would mean that losses from fire would be far less than one million dollars, rather than two million as was the case in 1965, and indeed there would be no lives lost and many lives injured than we have recording.

Looking ahead, we must consider the fire picture in Alberta for 1967. First, as a matter of self interest we owe it to ourselves to prevent fires. We want to have a measure of security and to enjoy the benefits of our labors. Certainly fires remove these projects and they delay and obstruct our progress and success in other realms and deserve the

Then there the altruistic side. We need to consider the fire victim. Fleeing fires is a tragedy that seems both thereby it is not for immediate to the that some received thought to return to fires and thereby cut down the number of fires and the dangerous situations in which firemen have are at stake. We grieve for the loss of 12 firemen killed in action recently in the City of New York. We pray that no similar fate awaits any Alberta fire fighter.

We have had a successful Fire Prevention Week. So now I appeal to all Albertans to hold the line against fire in continue to support and obey the Royal Proclamation issued during Fire Prevention Week and apply the same care and concern for the events ahead. Please remember our Centennial Project. It is simple and sincere. That you for have next year.

Admission tickets for 9,200 the visits, about a third of the anticipated attendance have been sold by the organization for the 1967 Montreal world's fair which opens April 28 and closes October 27.

Your Car and Carbon Monoxide

In Canada last year 105 people died from carbon monoxide poisoning by inhaling car exhaust fumes.

The combination of two conditions, incomplete burning of fuel and insufficient ventilation, can result in carbon monoxide poisoning.

In a car, these conditions can exist independently and not be harmful. When they happen together, man can't escape poisoning.

Never sit in a parked car with the engine running for more than a few minutes, unless the windows are opened. In winter the car's air intake may be clogged with snow or the fuel improperly burning.

A car's exhaust system should be checked regularly, especially for blown-out gaskets, loose manifolds, leaking exhaust pipe connections, and holes in the mufflers.

Do not warm up the car motor inside the garage for more than a few minutes, even with the garage doors open.

In slow-moving, closely spaced traffic, or while travelling through tunnels, keep air-intakes of car closed to be sure that carbon monoxide from the exhaust pipes of the cars in front will not collect in large amounts in your car.

Hibernation

Shrews, rodents and bats hibernate over the winter. It is thought that bears and skunks only sleep for long periods at times.

In true hibernation the body temperature falls to a few degrees higher than the air temperature. Metabolism decreases and heart and respiration rates become very slow. No food is eaten and the animal uses up his stores of body fat.

Many people slow down in the winter but at the same time they have a tendency to overeat. Like the animals, they should adjust their eating habits.

Old Age Security

Canadians born in April 1899, should mail their application this month to be eligible to receive their first monthly $75 old age security pension cheque in May 1967. Application forms are available in post offices and should be mailed to the old age security office in the provincial capital. Payment is not automatic. Application must be made.

HUNTING AND FARMING

The old problem of farmer-hunter relationships comes up every fall. As is usually the case there is often fault on both sides. Hunters should have care and consideration for the property of others. No hunting should be done where livestock might be bothered. Gates should be closed and fences should not be molested. It is always proper to ask permission to hunt on anybody's land.

Farmers should co-operate by telling hunters where they may hunt and where hunting is not wanted and why.

One fact often forgotten is that many hunters are also farmers and put experience has indicated that they are not always as careful about other people's property as they are about their own. Care, consideration and co-operation can go a long way to making the hunting season more pleasant for both the hunter and the farmer.

Health Unit Notes

In a recent issue discussion of those practitioners engaged in the eye care field states merely that an optometrist is "licensed to treat optical and muscle defects of the eyes He can prescribe glasses and give muscle exercises." This is of course true but really leaves out the essential thing that an optometrist does.

Let us look at the Optometry Act of Alberta. "Optometry means the examination of the human eye and related structure to determine the presence of vision, anomalies of the eye, to measure and enhance vision of efficiency."

So there is quite a difference. It has been said that one could be taught to test the eyes for eyes, symptoms of eye diseases. the dyes of drugs, however, there is a great deal of physics general and visual psychology, and perhaps what is most important what is known as physiological optics. This is a study of the physiology of the human being as it is related to sight.

If an optometrist wishes to further his education past his first degree, he usually works toward a PhD. in physiological optics.

Centennial and old timers bring back memories. A note from Mrs. Ernie Corbett says that they have been readers of the Standard since the very first issue. Even before that they had subscribed to the first paper in Vermilion, The Signal. In the same mail a note from Mrs. Harry Howard noted the fact that she had been a reader of the Standard since 1912. Both ladies now reside in Edmonton but are well remembered old timers of the Vermilion district.

CORRECTION
MANNVILLE — The reply to the toast to the ladies at the Mannville Old Timers Banquet was given by Mrs. Fred Pytlik and not by Mrs. R. naid Scott as appeared in last week's Standard. Tribute was paid to Mrs. R. Scott, the former Zoe Fee as a descendant of one of Mannville's original old time families.

They brought back a large apple from a tree on Melvin's very lovely grounds. Graham says they missed the sun in Victoria as it didn't shine at all while they were there, but by the time they reached Jasper on the return journey Old Sol was beaming down in most approved style.

The weather is feeling quite wintry these days but although snow has threatened several times so far none has fallen. This has been good for the farmers as they have been able to complete the harvest and most if not all the bales have been hauled and stacked. # Have you ever wondered...

... how nursing home facilities are controlled?

Attention regarding the services of a nursing home are left basically to the owner. There has been no laws set and controls as much, thanks to the Nursing Home Act of the province. Up to the end of 1965, the value of credit extended to the Province's construction was $2.8 per day to the cost of care given in a home operating under the plan which provides facilities considered adequate by the Department's inspection staff. In addition to the monthly payment each patient is receiving income based on need, other things and areas of exemption and deductions must be considered.

... where an Alberta farmer can borrow money to increase his land?

Any Alberta Farmer who has the opportunity to improve his operation by the purchase of new land could receive 90 percent of the purchase price he said. The money is available to established farmers who have the necessary experience and ability to operate the land successfully. Applications are considered by the Provincial Farm Purchase Committee which is composed of the Deputy Ministers of Agriculture, Municipal Affairs and Treasury. Under the Act, the maximum amount of the loan is $25,000 and the interest rate is 5 percent. Repayment is over a period of not more than 20 years. STRESS

(Part I)

What is stress and how does it affect your health? Stress is commonly defined as exertion - strain and effort the wear and tear of life. Without some stress we wouldn't even be alive! A mother to childbirth and her baby being born both are under stress.

The athlete striving to win a race, a fitness performer walking a tight rope the artist trying to produce his latest work, all are under stress.

A working man with a shift only trying to double as father and mother to his family is under considerable stress The widow who works to support her children and maintain home is housewife's job at night is also under stress.

A businessman who worries continually about office problems while he is at home, or about home problems while he's at the office is under stress. The doctor who treats patients all day, answers calls all night, is under stress. The shift person, whose body is fighting feverishly to regain health, is under stress. Mother and baby are under stress. There are varying degrees and different forms of stress, mental, emotional, physical, all having some impact - sometimes good, sometimes harmful to health. Stress can often be the spice of life or, depending upon circumstances and a person's capacities and reactions, it may have devastating side effects which may lead to disease, cause us to age prematurely, or sometimes even shorten life. We should therefore learn to cope with stress by finding skilled STRESS.

SPOTLIGHT on EDUCATION

Although Educational Television has been on the launching pad for many months now, only recently have favorable developments provided a possible countdown. The impetus for the present lure has been provided through the efforts of television associations in our two major cities

The Metropolitan Edmonton Educational Television Association (METEA) has received assurance from the Minister of Education that pilot studies over the next two years would have his department's support Accordingly, a co-ordinator of educational television projects has been named and a Television Advisory Committee to advise the minister and the co-ordinator has been appointed.

The pilot study projects will be in two categories: In the first category will be projects undertaken for the most part by metropolitan educational television associations or local school authorities; in the second category will be projects set by the Supervisor of Audio Visual Services acting as co-ordinator

According to the Minister, a pilot project where it is appropriate will be eligible to receive assistance from the funds available from the Department of Education as well as assistance from the Alberta Government Telephones. It is expected that the ETV "pastage" will include a stationary TV camera, mounted over a table so that teaching materials can be shown, and also equipped to "pick up" filmstrips or motion pictures projected through mirrors mounted in the table. There will also be a mobile camera and a video-tape recorder. Instructional programs will be prepared and broadcast by means of "closed circuit" TV systems. There will also be "playback" equipment for evaluating programs prepared elsewhere

Mr. R'air Dare of the Audio-Visual Services Branch met with a group of teachers and with Mr. H. Sherk, Superintendent of Schools, at the J. R. Robson High School in Vermilion recently to discuss the proposed project. He emphasized that this would be a pioneering effort, and that progress would necessarily be slow. Teachers must experiment with the new medium and seek to discover effective means of utilizing it. A great deal of work would be involved, but it could be an interesting and rewarding experience for those teachers who will be participating in the project.

In the initial stages, it is anticipated that teachers in Vermilion will be invited to participate in ETV; and to programming of instruction including use of television equipment. In later phases the project will be expanded to include teachers from other schools. Efforts will be made to use videotaped lessons beamed in some of the smaller schools in the county. After the preliminary work has been laid in ETV programming and teachers have gained experience in using the equipment to advantage. It is expected that the project, if undertaken, will last for approximately three years

Important Notice To Postal Patrons

The Post Office wishes to take this opportunity to remind all patrons that a revised postage rate will be in effect this year on Christmas cards mailed in unsealed envelopes for surface transmission to most countries outside Canada. The rates are:

To all places in Canada, United States and its possessions, other countries of North, Central and South America, the West Indies and Spain: 5c for the first two ounces, and 1c for each additional two ounces or fraction thereof.

To Great Britain and all other countries: 4c for the first two ounces, and 2c for each additional two ounces or fraction thereof.

It is permissible to include a maximum of five handwritten or typewritten words of greeting. If the greeting exceeds 5 words, or if the envelopes are sealed, the first class rate of postage is required.

Look for a possible increase in costs of moving and warn housing Watch also for a trend towards more air freight shipments in the industry Both subjects will be discussed by members of the Canadian Warehousing Association at their four-day annual meeting in Toronto. Industry spokesmen say pressures for rate hikes have been heavier in 1966 than ever before They say the dollar volume of business flows steadily each year while per ftu remained fairly static in recent years.

Remembrance Day Services Pay Tribute To War Dead

Despite the fact that it is now 48 years since the termination of the First World War, and 21 years since the end of the Second World War, Vermilion and district people in goodly numbers attended the solemn and impressive services held on Friday, November 11th, in remembrance of those men and women who died in the Allied Navy, Army and Air Forces throughout two world wars in order to, as the guest speaker, Rev. Captain Kells Minchin stated, "Honor men and women who fought and died for ideals, ideals held dear, freedom against oppression, freedom of the individual, preservation of law and order, right over wrong and peac.. in the world."

The services were arranged and carried out under the sponsorship of the Field Marshal Alexander Branch of the Canadian Legion.

The members of the Legion were joined in the observance by representatives of many organizations of the town, including the Legion W.A., "A" Coy., L.E.R., Army Cadets, Scouts, Cubs, Brownies and Guides, V.A.C. students, town students and representatives of many other organizations.

LAYING OF WREATHS

The parade formed at the Legion Hall under the command of Parade Marshal Jim Kaiser and was led by the Legion Pipe Band followed by the Color Parties, The Color Party guard of honor, C.M.P., Vermilion Detachment, flanked on the standard bearers by their colorful parade uniforms.

The posting of the wreaths selected by the Cadets, the ceremony of dipping and raising the colors, the observance of the two minutes' silence, combined to add to the realism and impressiveness of the occasion.

The service at the Cenotaph was conducted by the Legion Padre Rev. C. Miller. Wreaths were laid by representatives of the Legion, W.A., province, town, firms, organizations and individuals.

REMEMBRANCE SERVICE

The High Remembrance Service held in the Columbia Theatre was made even more memorable by the fact that the guest speaker the Rev. Captain Kells Minchin, had only one year ago conducted the Remembrance Day ceremony at the Canadian Memorial on Vimy Ridge.

Captain Minchin who has spent the past three years with the Canadian Service Forces in Europe, told of experiences during that time and of hearing memorial services at many famous places including the Nov. 11th, at Vimy Ridge. It was apparent on occasion, said the speaker, that we have failed to pass on our feelings regarding remembrance Day and all it stands for, to the rising generation. We have failed to make them realize the reality of what their fathers had done, and why it was done. Captain Minchin concluded his remarks by saying "on us rests the responsibility to do everything in our power to ensure that peace harmony and goodwill among men may come, so it has never yet come to our world".

Rev. Carlton Miller conducted the service and was assisted by Capt. L. Bredlow, Rev. C. Keenan, Rev. H. Hart, George Martin and Victor Tillett. Mr. Stan Fullen was organist. Mr. Tom Cowboy has the honor roll film for the 19th consecutive year.

HONOR ROLL

As an impressive finale to the Remembrance Day service the honor roll was displayed on the screen, with Zone Commander Victor Tillett quoting the passage:

"They shall not grow old
As we, who are left, grow old
Age shall not weary them
Nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun,
and in the morning.
We shall remember them."

Centennial Report

Avro.. has made a great contribution to Canada's development and I am glad to have this date that there will be suitable recognition of that fact in next year's Centennial celebrations.

I am referring to civil aviation and, in particular, the bush flying era of the twenties and thirties. In those days of north ern development, when aeroplanes were still relatively flimsy things, more freight was moved through our north country than anywhere else in the world and the tonnage figures rivalled those of the Suez Canal.

Bush pilots were few in number and had legends known to many all over the world. Wop May, Punch Dahl, Sandy McDonald, Grant McConachie, J. H. Tullogue, J. Redvers Page, Punch Dickens — those are but a few which come to mind and these have taken the last flight beyond the cirrus clouds.

Bush flying, the two world wars and imaginative daring and energy of men like these C.anadians to pioneer bush flying services was the world's racing option for being an important aviation nation when the head quarters of the International Civil Aviation Organization were established at Montreal Many of you will doubt realize that deliveries from more than 110 countries are based at Montreal to set and maintain standards, procedures and recommended practices for civil aviation through out the world. (An associated agency of the United Nations, the International Civil Aviation Organization is the only UN agency with its headquarters in Canada.)

Canadian military aviation will receive recognition next year in the various air shows, with vintage and modern aircraft, and flypasts which will be staged along with events such as the Armed Forces Military Tattoo and other spectaculars. The first international flying meet to be held in Canada also will be a big feature on the prairies during the summer of 1967 and the Centennial International Abbotsford Air Show at Abbotsford, B.C. will be held August 11, 12 and 13, 1967.

The National Air Museum at Ottawa has been developed into one of the best of its kind in the world and it, with its collection of aeroplanes from World War I to today is a tribute to bush aviation and to a limited extent civil aviation. (I am pleased that recent acquisitions of vintage aircraft and planes more suitable for the foundations for a historical bush flying collection at Ottawa.)

I still have hopes that non government organizations or individuals will spark further and further events to recognize general aviation next year.

A handicap air race for vintage aircraft and aeroplanes built between the twenties and thirties would be an exciting way to celebrate aviation and flying clubs work ing together I'm sure, it's not too late and a meet or race would attract many Canadians by road and by air These avia tions enthusiasts in the United States and other countries who recently have developed a keen interest in Canada's aviation and aviation historical treasures also are ordered in great numbers. I'm sure

To Hibernate or Migrate?

As he grows older, man is less likely to celebrate the season of winter If he can afford it he jets south When he can't migrate, he tends to hibernate The only outdoor activity for many is snow-shovelling

STRESS AND WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU

(Part II)

A new buzz to health word nowadays is stress and tension. We all know that stress and tension are bad for us, but what is stress? Is it something we can avoid? Can we live without it? Can we control it?

Stress is a basic part of our experiences involving our ability to adjust to changes in our lives. Whether or not the strain caused by our experiences can make our bodies break down and become susceptible to certain diseases depends to a great extent on our adaptability to those experiences. Here then we may hold a key to better health and longer life. Can we teach our systems to be "in take" stress" Can stress work for us not against us" Can we avoid excessive physical or mental strain"

It is believed that by understanding our reactions we can learn how to fight disease by strengthening the body's core defences against disease

THE BODY'S CHEMICAL MESSENGERS

Any attack on the body whether physical or emotional can cause stress, e.g. onset of disease, an injury or an emotional crisis When an alarm is made upon the body our brain forces are alerted and a body's chemical messengers which are hormones, are quickly sent into action. Certain glands in the body are responsible for Normal emotional stress can be useful in many ways. You get "stimmed up" over an important or interesting job and, as a result you are able to handle the work more effectively Pleasurable emotions involving stress and tension can be exhilarating The excitement of watching a football game can make you tense but this kind of tension can pep you up. The letdown that follows a touchy encounter

It is thus important to know that emotional tension we are aware of is usually good, not bad, for us. We won't and wouldn't want to live like vegetables with out feelings

"Revolution and Response in a Nuclear Age" Lecture

Dr. Neville Linton, Professor of International Relations at the University of Alberta, will present a public lecture in Vermilion on Wednesday evening, November 23rd. He will speak on "Revolution and Response in a Nuclear Age". Professor Linton is a native of British Guiana and came to Canada as a Political Science student at McGill, graduating from there and moving to Bowen where he undertook his doctors' program at the Fletcher School of Interna tional Law and Diplomacy. Dr Linton has been a member of the University of Alberta Political Science Department in Edmonton now for four years and has become a well known figure in Canada as a speaker, interviewer and political analyst.

His special topic in Vermilion will be presented in a Public Affairs program of the Department of Extension of the University of Alberta in Edmonton and the Vermilion Agricultural and Vocational College. This is one of eleven lectures being presented by University Extension throughout Alberta.

Professor Gerald Wright, organizer of the program from the Department of Extension in Edmonton, stated that, "the intention of the Provincial Public Lecture Series is to bring to major middle-range urban centres in the province an opportunity for people to meet and confront in person some of the men from University Campus who are at the forefront of new ideas in critical Canadian and world affairs. It is an exciting experience just to hear them talk."

Professor Linton will lecture at the Vermilion Agricultural and Vocational College auditorium on Wednesday evening, November 23 at 8:00 p.m. The public is welcome and admission is free.

In his lecture titled "Revolution and Response in a Nuclear Age", Professor Linton will deal with the response of the Affluent have nations to the rising tide of human expectations around the globe. Two billion people are and the world will no longer accept starvation as a natural law of man. In dealing with this problem, Professor Linton will be examining much of what was said at the recent International Teach-In on China at Toronto which itself undertook to examine the role of the Great Powers in national revolutions such as Viet Nam and Santo Domingo and the response of the Affluent Western nations.

Revolution and Response in a Nuclear Age

Legitimate economic and social aspirations of peoples in the underdeveloped nations have tended to explode into internal national revolutions — these tend quickly to become labeled and subverted into the international ideo- logical conflict of capitalism and communism . If nuclear war is not an acceptable instrument of settling international disputes, what then is the answer to the 20th Century question, Revolution and Response ?

If You Have Acne Do Something Now
Pimples, blackheads, blemishes and boils can make life unbearable. They often can be controlled or eliminated by proper care. If neglected permanent scars may de- velop. We have some helpful products any one can use safely. But if acne constantly recurs, it is wiser to con- sult a physician.
Acne is caused by poor adjustment of the skin to the secretions of maturing glands. It is not caused by dirt, but frequent washing cleans the plugged oil glands to prevent blackhead formation. A blackhead is not dirt. The black color is from a chemical change in the secretion. Around the age of 18 or 19 acne usually vanishes, but until then don't neglect proper care.
A great many people entrust us with their pre- scriptions. May we compound yours.

Islay Ladies Conduct Services

Absence of their minister on vacation doesn't mean that no services were held at the Knox United Church in Islay. The ladies of the United Church simply took over. On Sunday, Oct. 30, Mrs. Neil McLennan on the right led the Worship and Miss Jessie Ander- son, on the left, showed the film, "A Tiger In The Path". The film dealt with early mission work in Canada. A social hour with lunch followed the enjoyable service. The 80th anniversary of the Knox Church, Islay, was observed this summer on August 20th when a special service was held commemorating the anniversary.

Showers Honor October Bride

Several parties have been held in honor of Miss Glenda Breen whose marriage to Mr. Glen Polls took place on October 29th. On Oct. 11th Mrs. Mabel Mrs. Felstead, Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Olsen were co-hostesses at a mis- cellaneous shower held in the Happ Community Hall with forty ladies present. A short program was concluded with the viewing of slides of recent showers and weddings in that community. Lunch was served following the presentation of the gifts by Mrs. A. Collins as she gave a brief resume of the history of the fu- ture bride and groom.

Miss Pern Wahl, Mrs. Joe Hart and Mrs. Dale Williams entertained Miss Breenan at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Walsh on Monday afternoon of the 17th. The gifts were presented to the bride-elect in a huge telephone.

On Tuesday afternoon Oct. 25 Mrs. Gordon Bliss, Mrs. Jim Robson and Mrs. Carl Hackbert co-hosted Miss Breenan at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Hackbert. Mrs. Hackbert wished the bride much happiness and success as a mar- ried lady with the pretty gifts.

Instruction will be given in the following areas: Concrete and Concrete Mixes, Footings, Foundation Walls, Floors, Finishing Concrete Surfaces, Curing Concrete, Concrete Masonry Units, Reinforcing Steel, Concrete Stairs, Concrete Roofs, Concrete Fences, Concrete Driveways, Concrete Walks, Concrete Patios, Concrete Repairs, Concrete Tools and Equipment, Concrete Estimating, Concrete Layout and Concrete Forms.

Persons interested in at- tending this school should con- tact their County Agricultural Representative or the Agricul- tural Representative's office in their area.

Night Riders

Scores of vampires are killed on our highways annually as they dash across the pavement in search of food and raise havoc with motorists. At any moment, in urban and rural areas motor- ists are surprised by the unexpected ravages of these nocturnal pests.

It is important during the months of summer when cyclists be out. Barbers should be on guard and raise arms to their reflective numbers — the inside locks and rear-view mirrors should be standard equipment at all times.

C.W.L. News

Two special events highlighted the November meeting of the Vermilion C.W.L. First was the reading of a very welcome letter received from Fr. Adamyk and Fr. MacDonell. These priests are from the Edmonton diocese and many will remember Fr. Mac Donell who was parish priest at Clandonald for a short while. They are now serving in the Fo- reign Missions near Lima Peru in South America. Their letter told of their many interesting experi- ences and the extreme poverty of the natives there.

Then Mr. P. Grisbonghaw, a lawyer now practising in Vermil- ion, gave a very interesting and enlightening talk on the laws per- taining to women's rights here in Africa where he lived for a short time and also in his native country, Ireland. He touched on the topic with many re- marks on Canada. Also some of the pecliences he had encountered, which made it both enjoyable.

We were pleased to be able to welcome both Mr. and Mrs. O'Donoughue to our community.

It was decided that members would bake three Husbands to lunch and a social after the bus- ness part of the December meet- ing.

Centennial Report

1867 | 1967 by JOHN W. FISHER

Don't underestimate the good all across Canada, on the two effect the Centennial celebrations campuses of the University of are going to have on Canada.

The Centennial is coming just at the right time — a time when many Canadians are beginning to feel they have too long been subjected to the crying of the beaters the whiners and the moaners. You know the kind I mean — the ones who do nothing but sorry their hands and proclaim that the country is about to collapse at the provincial seams that axis there is naught to do but wreckfully sit and watch the fun commence.

The idea of Canada during Centennial Daughter is a mental a casualty of the mind thought up by the down-at-heels in a public ally sit but to use the language of the trendsetter age it has been "over-exposed". It has been so featured in the public press and along the public grand avenues on the point where most Canadians are passing.

Think we are all eager and ready for a refreshing change. We want to consider the bright future for Canada which we know down deep, to be probable as well as practical.

During 1967 we will hear and see plenty about the kind of Canada we picture for the future Just as an example, consider "Centennial Century Week" a gathering of 1,100 students from Calgary near March Grants time, the Alberta and federal governments are assisting the universities in this Centennial year project. It is the student's turn to do something, so often such an initiative necessary to put new ideas in motion and the theme of their "Second Century Week" gathering is that the Centennial can be a bridge to the future — a time involving opportunities so great that they are bound to overshadow the temporarily unsolved problems of Canada.

The theme of events and activities, we are told, is to refresh the spirits of a great Country. It will not be in our country. More writers and publishers will be challenging the whole of our country's show it can live up to its potential greatness in the 20th century.

I believe the Centennial celebrations will be for Canada what a good spring cleaning does for a house that has been too long closed up for the winter months.

The year 1967 will be a time for a new, fresh outlook, a time when we open the doors and windows of our minds, let in the fresh air and clean out the musty attics. A country with such a potential has no place for cob webs.

Marwayne 4-H News

The first meeting of the Marwayne 4-H Beef Club was held on Sept. 19 at the school. At this meeting 25 members turned out to register. It was decided that all succeeding meetings would be held at the homes of the club members and that a roll book would help at each meeting with the hunches. The next meeting was scheduled for Nov 1st at the Hines' farm at 7:30 p.m.

Election of officers then took place and the executive is as follows: President, Jimmy Mahychuk; Vice - President, Doug Ford; Secretary, Robert Ford; Treasurer, Lyle Hines; Club Reporter, Kerry Insull.

At the November 1st meeting the club decided upon Nov. 28th as the date for tagging the club calves.

HOME WARMING

Many friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Hazley a couple of weeks ago to initiate their new house. A set of dishes was presented to the surprised couple on behalf of the neighbours by Mr. Doyle McCormack.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Stanley, Melville, Ont., visited the former's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley in October. They enjoyed a week in Berwyn and Worsley prior to coming here.

DANCE HOUSE SUCCESS

Despite the many masquerade dances held on Oct. 28th, the dance here boasted a large crowd though there weren't too many in costume.

On Sunday, Oct. 9 Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cooper attended the christening of their little grand daughter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cooper of Edmonton. The same Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kada attended the christening of their little grandson, Jason Corey Farling, in Lloydminster.

Johnny Masyk was home for several days from Rivers, Manitoba. While here he took his mother on a trip to Edmonton to Albert Sask., to visit her young sister.

Russel Kada, employed in the local refinery at Trail, B.C., moved home for a week-end recently.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Mike Trach, Landonville, who celebrated their 30th anniversary last week.

Get well wishes to Pete Zahar, a patient in Vermilion hospital.

We hope Mrs. Cusack Sr., who broke her arm recently, continues to improve.

Mr. and Mrs. Borrell, Edmonton, visited several days with their daughter, Mrs. Lorde Garner and family here.

Mrs. Lyle Jackson, Calgary, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goddard. Lyle motored later from Calgary to get her.

Mrs. Paddy Lee holidayed for a week at the Lande home for a couple of weeks ago.

Many congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Lucky MacDonald on the birth of a daughter, and to Mr. and Mrs. George Convey, their first grandchild.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Wilbur Feenstra who is in an Edmonton hospital.

Sincere sympathy is extended to the relatives of Mr. Frank Brake, who passed away suddenly in Merrit, B.C. Frank was a younger brother of Harry Brake. He was born and raised here and has been away since 1926.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE

Congratulations and all best wishes to Mr and Mrs. Art Lassen who were married on Nov. 5. Mrs Lawrence is the former Ruby Lavergne of Heinsburg and has been employed in the bank here for several years.

A miscellaneous shower was held in the hall about two weeks ago on Sunday. Billy Grosvenor was master of ceremonies and enjoyed a social evening to honor Miss Ruby Lavergne.

We are pleased to report that after spending several days in Elk Point General, Grimsby Devlin is home, though not too well yet.

What does Centennial mean to you?

What are you planning for Centennial?

1967. This is the year for Canadians everywhere to stop and think about Canada. To look back on how far this nation has come since we began as a rugged beginnings. To think about Canada as it is now for, prosperous and with a unlimited future for growth.

To celebrate, magnificent projects are in the works. The Confederation Caravan will bring Canada to millions in rural and city out-of-the-way places. The Caravan unfold an exciting colourful story of Canada from early beginnings right up to the present. Famed Canada brings Canadians the largest entertainment package ever; from western theatre to opera, musical comedy to drama.

Two companies of 300 servicemen each will travel Canada to put on a magnificent stirring Military Tattoo portraying Canada's past 100 years of military history!

These are just three of hundreds of Centennial events planned for you in the coming year But what are you doing for Centennial! What is your own personal project? Other ... Canadians are planning their homes, ... the Canadian Bar, planning ... type issues, bonding Centennial Year, ... picking up on their Canadian history. What will you do! It's not important how large or how small your project may be. What is important is that you have stopped and thought about of your country and what it means to you in take up a Centennial project of your own.

The Federal/Provincial events planned will be magnificent and thrilling But to each of us, the truly meaning and most meaningful projects will be the ones we create ourselves.

What does Centennial mean to you? And what you planning for Centennial?

Vermilion Teacher Writes from Africa

The Standard has received the following letter from Miss Rana Walters who is now teaching at Tabora, Tanzania, Africa. As she is very well known many friends of Miss Walters will be interested to learn of her experiences since leaving Canada.

Miss Walters writes: "On Aug. 15th after a jet flight from Edmonton airport to Dorval airport, Montreal, I joined about 130 other Canadian teachers for an orientation conference for External Aid. We were housed at MacDonald College (affiliated with McGill of Montreal). During this course we were addressed by persons versed in medical education, teacher training and African food. Although the teachers were going to the Caribbean, Africa and the Far East, Sarawak and Malaya, most of the speakers were from Africa.

The leader was Mr. Hodder, director of the Educational Division, External Aid Office. He emphasized our role in developing countries from Canada and said that we were hand-picked, about this time I began to wonder if I was big enough for the job expected of me.

We shared the campus with the Ukrainian Catholic students of the Montreal-Ottawa area and the National Hockey School. There were many post-graduate foreign students who were doing Masters and Ph.D work. They were very interesting and came from Nigeria, Montreal Chile, Iran and South Viet Nam, to mention a few.

Soon the African teachers were on a charter flight to Heathrow airport, London (Air Canada) . The day being a bank holiday we could only rest or go sight seeing.

The teachers for East Africa left by BOAC that evening and travelled all night which to our disappointment as we couldn't see the European mainland nor the Mediterranean sea. Our first stop in Africa was at Entebbe as the engine and this we made soon after daybreak. The teachers for Uganda left the group here. The air was soft and enbracing humidity. RELIEF was not far from Lake Victoria.

Our plane was delayed in Nairobi for six hours so most of the teachers slept or did some shopping. We flew again that night and arrived in Dares Salaam at 3 a. By now there were 14 for Tanzania which omitted the name of Tanganyika. All teachers for that country to fill.

The teachers met the Ministry and were busy clearing their freight through customs, and repacking with arms outside The Land Rovers which I ordered in Edmonton had not arrived and later (after a month) I found that it had not left England.

My only course of action was to take the East Africa Railway which is quite an experience. It took over 24 hours to travel about 700 miles. The train stopped at every station and the Africans brought their produce, fruit, cassava grain, etc., to sell to the passengers.

My predecessor hired the cook and the gardener she had so I was well cared for.

The days and nights are the same length with sunrise around 6:30 a.m. and darkness at about 6:30 p.m. The sun is slightly to the north at mid-day this being our time of approximate summer. It is now the hot dry season but the shrubs and trees are in bloom. When the first rains come in a short time the grass will be green.

Food is basic, no leafing or perishable.

FRUIT JUICE? FRUIT DRINK? WHAT IS YOUR CHOICE?

It's the Vitamin C that counts

(Reprint from Consumer Menu)

Today's food market offers the Canadian consumer such a variety of fruit juices, fruit drinks, nectars, ades and beverages, etc. it is not surprising that the shopper becomes bewildered when faced with selection from this vast array of fruit products To add more confusion to this process of choosing, the housewife must select the "form" of product she wants — liquid, frozen, concentrated, crystallized or powder. Statistics indicate that 17% per cent of the total amount of orange juice and orange drink products sold in food markets in Canada is captured by powders. It seems appropriate at this time to clarify for the consumer certain facts with regard to fruit juices and fruit drinks.

Food and Drug Regulations contain standards for approximately 275 foods. Among these are standards for tomato juice, apple juice, grape juice, grapefruit juice, lemon juice, lime juice and orange juice. All of these juices must meet the Food and Drug standards of composition.

Fruit drinks, on the other hand, come within the category of unstandardized foods and there is wide variety in their composition and quality. It should be pointed out, however, that all fruit drinks must carry, on their label a complete list of ingredients, in descending order of proportion. If the list reads water, sugar fruit juice etc., you know that the largest percentage of the content of that particular product is water, next comes sugar and so on. If more than one fruit appears in the name of the product, e.g., "grapefruit orange" fruit juice drink, there must be present in the product in a greater amount than the second named fruit. Consumers should make a practice of reading the labels of all foods they intend to use, in order that you know what you are getting for your money.

Consumers want to know too, that the products they buy are wholesome and nutritious. Fruit juice orange ades and nectars have received a sufficient natural content of Vitamin C to satisfy part of Vitamin C to these products is permitted. Apple juice, grape juice and a few vegetable apple juice drinks are permitted to be fortified with Vitamin C. Fruit drinks, however, are not normally low in Vitamin C.

All fruit drinks must have Vitamin C added to them. How much is added is left to the discretion of the manufacturer. Vitamin C is the agent which prevents the disease called scurvy. Scurvy is rarely seen in Canada today. Why? Because we have learned that the daily intake of the vitamin C is the key to health, and is always present in some reasonable daily intake of the product.

Hospital Trusteeship

By Merve M. Covey

"There was never a worth-evil of the older wiser heads that we have planned it on my and fostered it with your hands — Every known wrong of the ages and every mistake of the years. Wrongs that have only been righted with bloodshed and bitter tears. Wrongs that have been removed in the Names of a Civil War Hall ye Mr. Rulers Hall ye! Hall, lest ye go too far in the world do I ask for justice pleading on bended knees. For I fear a murmur of discontent, borne down on the Western breezes — Quotation from The Plea of the Weak by G. J. Lively

At this time when the voters of the hospitals of Alberta are preparing to elect trustees I would like to refer out some of the guidelines as most necessary to the person who wishes to be this sacred trust. The trustee is first responsibility is to provide the best possible quality of care to the patient and the second responsibility is to do this in the most efficient economic operation of the hospital. A hospital trustee is a person who assumes a responsibility for and the control of a community facility owned and supported by the people. Upon him will rest the burden of seeing to it that the hospital facility is used for the greatest good of the people and only for the public good.

The general qualifications are as follows: Honesty which is the most important trait and trustworthy. Honesty in relations with others intellectual honesty and honesty that eschews pettiness and sharp dealing and the can dibble must be above political influence His business record must be above reproach. To quote the late Doctor Malcolm T. MacEachern who would for the job claim who possibly may be honest but who cannot divorce himself from the influence and interest of his political activity, no matter how sincerely he may desire to do so." Politicians in office not only civic or party politicians but also church, lodge association and club politicians. Personal disinterest in the affairs of the hospital is closely allied with honesty and the trustee should have no occasion for a conflict between his own private interests and those of the hospital. Substance is another basic quality that should be in a candidate. It is important that the governing body of a hospital be made up of persons who have demonstrated executive ability in this chosen field of theirs, who are esteemed by the community and whose integrity and worth are acknowledged by their fellow citizens. Leadership in common by the possession of active qualities to be desired. A favorable basis in the candidate's record is a practical demonstration that his past efforts in worthy causes have shown a material improvement in the welfare of the community. Integrity in matters of public concern is essential. A person known to be unscrupulous in his dealings in the public welfare is a good candidate for hospital trusteeship. The hospital deals with life and death and there can be no compromise with the interests of the sick and injured. Expediency is a word that should be unknown to the hospital trustee because compromise with hospital service must be paid for in human life and human lamb

The trustee must have a realistic attitude for being fearless of criticism when he does what he believes to be right He should not fear to stand up and be counted in health matters. The trustee must be imbued with a spirit of dedication to public service and a sincere conviction that he is devoting an important public service and evaluate his merit button in terms of human values rather than money. He must possess tact, consciousness and a general knowledge of medicine nursing research and health education. The understanding of what the hospital can contribute to community health He must not share the attributes of compassion and a belief that and his interest should remain the basic needs of the patient and the values of the staff. The trustee must be prepared to give personally of his time in the service of the institution. He must have the quality of sympathetic understanding He should support the principles and objects of the institution and of the people who render services in it A good attention is a desirable attribute however more important is a willingness to learn new things Even though he is well informed the trustee must approach his new job with humility and recognition of his limitations. The candidate must have an inquiring mind and co-operation and interest He must be tolerant of the opinions of others. He must have objectivity which helps him bear in mind continually that the hospital belongs to the community not to him and that he and all others concerned with it are working to serve the community not their own private interests

As the anniversary of Confederation approaches it is well for each of us to remember and to heed for more than one day we are reminded to our hospitals by trustees whose dedication to the welfare has demonstrated in the harsh reality of sufferings endured in all manner of weather roads and poor transportation to attend board meetings. Throughout the years these men and women could privately claim the duties of never missing a meeting or of failure to shoulder the responsibility of keeping the hospital going These people worked together for the good of all Lieutenant B.A. M.D. C.M. MANITOU WHEAT

There appears to be a lot of interest in Manitou wheat this fall, especially since reports of 25 bushel yields and the like. Just a word of precaution here seems to be in order Manitou is a good wheat with more disease resistance than our commonly grown varieties. Manitou also takes four or five days longer to mature than Thatcher and those days can be pretty important most years. After a winner like this year one we tend to forget what the average conditions are really like. On the average, we just get by with Thatcher and not even too well at that or why would Canus have stayed with us so long? There does not have a variety which takes a longer season than Thatcher? But don't let us go wrong. Try some Manitou if you like but judge a bit with earlier varities, just in case. Remember we're a lot more likely to have frost than not!

Letters to the Editor

R R No. 3, Vermilion.
Nov 16th, 1966.

Dear Editor:

On Sunday evening, Nov. 6th, we attended a discussion group at the Vermilion United Church, where three men from the Saddle Lake Indian Reserve spoke about their problems. We found this a very interesting, informative evening, as through your columns would like to express our thanks to those who made the lively discussion possible and would also like to say that it was a privilege to meet

In guarding the principles of Truth Justice Charity and Freedom, also knowing that a strict account of their trusteeship had to be rendered to the people These thoughts are my tribute to the great Canadian men and women of our area who built wisely and well in the true spirit of democracy serving the dark in positions of trustees, administrators nurses, medical and paramedical fields It is also a tribute to two great Canadian men who pioneered the profession of hospital administration. the late Malcolm F. MacEachern M.D. C.M. D.Sc. LL.D. F.A.C.S. F.A.C.P. F.R.C.P. (C) H.A. F.A.H.A. and to Charles Messrs. Jim, Ralph and Archie Stainer, who pioneered their cause in a forthright capable manner.

Such open consideration of problems in the community if we are to help the Indians reach their goals so they may regain their confidence and dignity. As Mr. Ralph Steiner pointed out, "Integration is a two-way street". Such meetings will encourage more re-thinking which needs to be done on both sides. Perhaps we need to discuss some of our values as individuals, materialism, competition before we can expect the Indians to accept our way of life. Communication with these people is helpful, so it is hoped that more such meetings could be arranged, and well-publicized before and after the meeting.

Mr and Mrs. Albert Cleland.

The many friends here of Mr. and Mrs. T.m Milligan will be pleased to hear that they are now well settled in Victoria. Tom has bought a garage and calls it Milligan's Lake Hill Motors. ## Addresses Agrologists At Vermilion Agric'l College

Dr. R. Berg, Geneticist with the University of Alberta, Faculty of Agriculture, Animal Science Department, spoke to the North-East Branch of the Alberta Institute of Agrologists on Tuesday, Nov. 8th at the Vermilion Agricultural and Vocational College.

Dr. Berg outlined to the members some very revealing data on the retail value of present day slaughter head animals. He stressed the wide variation of carcass values within the grades of beef as they presently exist. For example, some carcasses in the choice grade can be $40 to $60 more valuable to the retailer than other carcasses in the same grade. The difference in value can, according to Dr. Berg, be largely attributed to fat which the supervisory very skillfully trims off. Merchandising must require that it be sold in the form that Mrs. Housewife wants, and that is, minus fat.

Dr. Berg discussed his current research which he hopes will allow cattlemen in the future to produce beef cattle that will supply a maximum amount of lean red meat with a minimum amount of fat and bone while still maintaining our present standards of feed efficiency and early maturity.

(By Judy Chaplin, Gr. 9)

The County of Vermilion River No. 24 awards plan is based on junior high school students who achieve an honour standing. On October 20th, the Clandonald Public School held an "Awards Day" for the pupils who achieved honors at the end of their last term. The pupils who received honor pins were.

Grade 7 — Keith Ross, Edith Etherington.

Fay is now attending J. R. Robson School in Vermilion and will receive her pin there.

HONOR ROLLS

GUEST SPEAKER

The special speaker was Mrs. Stella Mayers who gave an interesting and educational talk on her recent trip to Europe. She also had a table display of curios which she had collected on her journey.

The captain of the champion softball team, Terrance Stadnicki, was presented with the trophy, by the coach, Lester Goldsmith.

"Our honor pin reminds us of our educational need, also of the wonderful time when we received these pins. We know that without education we would be lost in the world of today."

Mannville Students Have Profitable Apple Day

MANNVILLE The following letter was written by a Grade 6 pupil whose teacher is Mrs. Ilse Lange who each year guides her pupils in their annual Apple Day, chaired by Junior Ross Crane.

These little pupils, as bright and sunny as their wares, had each home in the residential area of the village then their mission completed, came back to the school to their teacher with the money they had collected.

Mannville Alberta,
Nov 4th 1966

Dear Mrs Lange:

On October 28th we had Apple Day. We would like to thank the mothers, fathers, grandfathers, tractors, pupils and other people who helped us to have a successful Apple Day. The apples read 2,000 lbs and we sold 1146.56 We sent $42.00 to Mrs. Mumford That money will be used to help other children who are not as fortunate as we are.

Would you put this letter in the paper?

Yours sincerely,
Shauna Bury.

SKI LESSONS WILL START THIS WEEK-END

One of the most gratifying results to come out of last Friday's meeting of the Vermilion Ski and Toboggan Club was the decision to start lessons as soon as possible. Instruction will be given by Andrew Kuzek of the V.A.V.C. staff and the first lesson will be held at 2 00 p.m. November 27th. Those interested (adults must be shy) should enroll with the Secretary Tom Lyness at the Vermilion Savings and Credit Union office.

Annual dues, which include tow fees and lessons, were set at $25.00 for a family; $15.00 adult; $7.00 student and $5.00 for 13 and under; and $2.00 per family for tobogganing privileges only. Those who subscribe $25.00 donations to start the club will be entitled to a 30% reduction in annual dues.

The executive was authorized to arrange purchase of a chalet and this will probably be moved out and in service this week-end. Original plans gave the building of a tow priority over the purchase of a building but with the support and interest shown the executive is optimistic that both can be proceeded with at the same time.

Kitscoty Klippers Feted At Testimonial Dinner

The Kitscoty Klippers Ladies' Football team was tendered a testimonial dinner on Thursday evening, November 10, by the people of the community under the sponsorship of the Kitscoty and district Chamber of Commerce. About 70 supporters turned out for the event which was catered to by the United Church Women's Association.

The Klippers had a more than successful year in winning not only the Prince Charles Rose trophy for the league, but also the Elsie Barlow trophy which is emblematic of the Intermediate "B" Girls' Provincial championship. This is no small honor in that competition is keen with much larger places than Kitscoty fielding teams with larger groups of players from which to choose.

Following a delicious banquet Mr. Larry Watt acted as chairman. In place of the Chamber of Commerce president, Mr. Orest Chompic, who was not able to be present, First called upon was vice-president of the Chamber Clarence Venance, who in a few words welcomed the guests and team and thanked all for their support of the team and the dinner. Following this Mayor Jack McLean was called upon for a few words in which he mentioned how the team had by sight much honor and satisfaction to the village in their activities this season. Team president Pat Tyler was called upon to present the trophies to the individual members of the team and the coaches, Murray Leverin, local Imperial Oil agent, who had donated the trophies for the most valuable player and the batting champion, then presented these to Karen Pedon and Sadie Lapchuk respectively.

Next, Mr. Watt introduced Don Monferton, president of the Alberta Umpires' Association, from Edmonton, who gave a most interesting and humorous talk on ball in particular and also hearty congratulations to the Klippers in their winning such honors for themselves and the community.

Mrs. Elsie Barlow, northern organizer of the Alberta Football Association, was then called upon to give a short talk on various phases of the work in the Association and other sporting activities. Mrs. Barlow gave a most interesting insight into some of the organization work which she does and especially in the northern part of the country and also warmly congratulated the team and the locality on having such good sports for ball players and such ambassadors of good will when playing in different parts of the province. Mrs. Barlow then referred to Mr. Reg Kay and his work and support of the local team and asked him to say a few words to the gathering. He was also hearty in his congratulations to the Klippers and gave a short review of their activities during the years with which he has been associated with the club.

The members of the Klippers team is as follows. Sadie Lively, Noreen Graham, Evie Long, Karen Pedon, Willa Burr, Linda Murray, Joan Anderson, Verna Leighton, Carole Bowman, Pat Tyler, Charlotte Wilkinson, Margaret Graham, Fern Lively. The coaches were Toni Graham and Jack Peets.

The community by the support shown in attendance at this event sponsored by the Local Chamber of Commerce clearly indicated that the fourth league champ activities of this ball club and the fine spirit of sportsmanship which it has instilled will make many victories for the Kitscoty Klippers.

Bowtell Bulletin

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bowtell who received the death of her sister early in the week.

It was pleasing to have Rev. and Mrs. Sheplin at Pleasant Valley church on Sunday. Those present evidently enjoyed his interesting message on his work and travels in Dakota.

Despite the bad weather Mrs. Leslie Greenwood and Jim Ripp Lindh received a broken wire on the telephone line.

TURKEY SUPPER ENJOYED

About fifty enjoyed the turkey supper at the community hall on Friday evening. All were pleased to have Mr. and Mrs. Ken Bowman of Edmonton Mr. and Mrs. M. Armstrong of Lloydminster and three of the district's older members present, Grandad and Grandma Ripp and Mrs. Fred Hinchcliffe.

SKATING PARTY

Quite a number enjoyed a skating party on the river Sunday after which a Christmas tree was enjoyed at the Jenkins' home.

Best wishes for many more years of happiness are extended to Mr. and Mrs. D. Rinfret on their 25th wedding anniversary on Nov. 20th.

We are sorry to report at time of writing Caroline Payne is a patient in the hospital.

FEED OUR BIRDS

Don't forget our feathered friends. Do hang on a branch of suet from a tree for them to peck at. The tidbits you will find it wasted on chickadees and woodpeckers, who feed on the fat. Smaller seed for the others when in sufficient needs.

Each voucher was returned to the Mercro Wholesale in plain envelopes to be entered in the draw. The winning ticket was drawn by the Manager of Western Bakeries on Monday morning, Nov. 14th. The contest ran for 2 months.

The third annual farm curl bonspiel will be the first big curling event of the season in Vermilion. The dates have been changed this year to Dec. 1, 2 and 3 in order to give farmers a chance at early season curling. All bona fide farmers and farm women are eligible so make up rinks and enter this recreational event.

There will be four competitions, a steak fry barbecue and smorgasbord on Saturday, Dec. 3rd from 5 to 8 p.m.; souvenirs for every curler; trophies will be awarded the winners.

Make up a rink soon and phone your entry to Aldous Kent, 853-3722 or 853-3906 or to John Stewart 853-3895 or 853-3007. The deadline is Nov. 28.

The farm curl is sponsored by the Vermilion Chamber of Commerce. The dates have been changed to a more convenient time for farm curlers in the hope that every farmer who has ever curled will take part. 20-1

If You Have Acne
Do Something Now

Pimples, blackheads, blemishes and boils can make life miserable. They often can be controlled or eliminated by proper care. If neglected permanent scars may develop. We have some helpful products any one can use safely. But if acne constantly recurs, it is wiser to consult a physician.

Acne is caused by poor adjustment of the skin to the secretions of maturing glands. It is not caused by dirt, but frequent washing clears the plugged oil glands to prevent blackhead formation. A blackhead is not dirt. The pimple is a local change in the secretion. Around the age of 18 or 19 acne usually vanishes, but until then don't neglect proper care.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours.

The anniversary brought together relatives and friends from all across Canada. The group includes Mrs. Vera (Simmonite) Baxter in the light dress, teacher of the Telegraph school north of Clandonald in 1924, and seven of the pupils she taught at that time, 42 years ago. ## UCW Leadership Workshop Held At Auburndale Church

On Tuesday, November 8th, thirty two ladies from Lloydminster, Wainwright and Auburndale UCW attended a leadership Workshop in the Auburndale United Church. This was followed by a review about what makes a leader, where their training is received and why we become leaders while others participate in various groups from membership. The leaders role in our presbyterial organization was pointed out as their responsibility to attend many presbyterial sessions, to be willing and disciplined to fulfill the function of a leader in so being set the best in people, their best thoughts and the best decisions. When refusing leadership saying, "I would really love to, I want and this attitude does not a lack of confidence but confidence can be developed. The importance of what the presidents Mrs. Tupin pointed out that there are certain qualities of personal growth and communication and that a lack of leaders builds back programs and services.

Health Unit Notes

(Part III)

Last week we discussed the various emotional and physical causes of stress and the way the body's response to stress. Let us continue and this week's important subject.

The emotional stress that gets us down is the kind that makes it difficult or nearly impossible for us to relax. Intense and persistent anger fear, frustration and worry which we may bottle up inside ourselves, ruin stomach health. It is this unsolved emotional stress which leads to trouble. Emotions are good, sometimes invaluable for us.

A large proportion of people who seek medical attention are suffering from ailments brought about or made worse by prolonged emotional stress — too much worry anxiety or fear. When tension of this type is too often repeated or continues for a long time, when we worry or worry to the point where we can't seem to take it over we no longer get a good night's sleep, then our body's chemistry is likely to get out of kilter. It is therefore important to, I turn down if we get bored up; 2. Handle our emotional responses to avoid them getting out of hand; 3. know and accept our physical and emotional limitations.

All this is easier said than done But understanding is the first step. Understanding ourselves and those around us and using this understanding to make our lives and our relationships with people more satisfying

WHO IS THE SUFFERER?

Men seem to have ailments which also affect women. Here is a popular fallacy. Statistics show that women are outlying men. More than half the women, 60 years or older, are widows. Why?

Is this? It would appear that men usually have to cope with more stress to their daily lives than women do. Many men try to live up to a picture of manliness calibity which portrays them as unemotional. They are supposed to be able to do work and play without showing any emotion, never showing a sign of weakness. Men often drive themselves beyond their endurance because so much is expected of them Quite apart from the tendency to match a false standard of manliness, a harried desk have the very real and strenuous responsibilities of supporting a wife and family Most men want to provide not only the best for their families now, but they also want to provide for security for the future. Being the breadwinner and today many women are also breadwinners) is a hard job no matter which way you look at it. Some times it is bearable The woman who is a homemaker can relax and let things go sometimes, but she has her own "boss". Not so with her husband — the family's financial security is usually hinged on the way he handles his job He is often faced with competition for his job or for advances in his position. Certainly the care of an income responsibility is enough to make men feel the pressure at times.

WHAT CAN THE WIFE DO?

Most of the effort to be understanding is of great help. A peaceful, pleasant dinner hour can be a soothing factor, not only for her husband but for the whole family. She can save complaints about household problems until her husband has had a chance to rest and feel more relaxed. A wife can help by just listening when her husband wishes to talk about problems he has to face on the job. Being able to "blow off steam" in this way often relieves tension. (Let's hope that husbands do the same for their wives!)

Armistice Day Is Observed At Manville

MANNVILLE. — The Royal Canadian Legion Branch No. 33 and its Auxiliary participated in their annual church parade on Friday morning Nov. 11th by marching to the cenotaph with the members of the local Boy Scouts Troop and their leader, Rev. G. David Prime in attendance.

Wreaths were placed at the cenotaph by Mr. Ed Simmons, Legion President, Mrs. E. Lalder, Auxiliary President, Mrs. E. J. Lagg for the Motherhood of Canada; by Cpl. Dan Mitchell for the Village of Manville; by Pat Cotter representing the Province of Alberta and by John A. Finlay in memory of the war dead.

At the conclusion of this service two minutes of silence were observed in memory of those who gave their lives for their country, the parade members retraced their steps to McQueen Memorial United Church where the Rev. H. A. Richards received the colors of the Legion and Auxiliary and also of the Boy Scouts.

The call to worship was given by the Rev. Richards with Rev. Fr. Theroux of St. Joseph's Church leading.

The voices of the combined choirs of McQueen Memorial and Christ Church blended beautifully as they led the congregation and sang the Anthem.

The Rev. G. D. Prime of Christ Church gave an outstanding address, providing much food for thought for all present. This young man, acknowledging his youthfulness in regard to knowledge of the effects of wartime privations, pointed out, most effectively that the two wars which were to be with us to end all wars, had and still have, much bearing on the lives of each one of us today. He pointed out that if we truly wish to enjoy world peace and order we must truly love one another for there is a need for soul-searching on all sides.

Reading from the book "Rhymes of a Red Cross Man" which contains poems written by Robert W. Service, Rev. Prowse, using the poem "Tommy Fuller, My Lad" as a poignant example of the far reaching effects of wars.

At the conclusion of the service the colors were received by the color bearers of the three organizations who preceded their comrades and the congregation from the church.

Coffee and sandwiches were enjoyed at the Legion Hut by veterans and their families and other guests.

Have you ever wondered...

...who keeps Alberta informed on government activities?

To make sure that as many Albertans as possible know as much as possible about government activities and services is the responsibility of the Alberta Government Publicity Bureau. Although attached to the Department of Industry and Development, the Bureau keeps in touch with all departments and, to keep the public informed, it utilizes many forms of communication. Advertisements, such as this, news releases provided to all media, a variety of free pamphlets, all help keep you informed on the activities of your Provincial government and the services it performs on your behalf.

...what is the most important use of water?

Water is VITAL to the maintenance of human life, necessary for hygiene, for industry; preferred for the production of power, and desirable for recreation. These are the priorities set for the use of Alberta s water by the Water Resources Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, and it is the responsibility of this agency to see that the supply is distributed accordingly. To help accomplish this purpose an office attached to the Department of Industry and Development, the Bureau keeps in touch with all departments and, to keep the public informed, it utilizes many forms of communication. Advertisements, such as this, news releases provided to all media, a variety of free pamphlets, all help keep you informed on the activities of your Provincial government and the services it performs on your behalf.

...about the flowers that beautify Alberta's public buildings at special events in mid-winter?

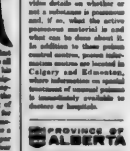
It's summer all year 'round in the Provincial greenhouses maintained by the Alberta Department of Public Works and it's here that plants which bloom at different times of the year are specially reared in preparation for specific occasions such as the opening of the Legislature for Christmas. By mass grass-thumb magic, plant growth is speeded up or retarded to allow their blooming to coincide with the special event. The greenhouses are also the source of seedlings for the flowerbeds decorating Provincial buildings all over the province. Over a quarter of a million plants are grown here each year

...if the rights of any Albertan are being deliberately discriminated?

The reinstatement of the new Editional Alberta policy of judging a case by his personal worth and by merit, creed or color, is the pursuit of The Human Rights Act, Administered by the Alberta Department of Labour, this Act is designed to safeguard the dignity and human rights of all residents of the Province. In cases that limit Albertans will know his rights and responsibilities under The Human Rights Act, an Executive president is currently being prepared by the Department of Labour.

...if homesteading in Alberta is extinct?

Homesteading is still very much alive in the Province, sustained by an average of more than 1,000 applications for land received each year by the Lands Division, Alberta Department of Lands and Forests. Under homesteading regulations a man can purchase land at the going price, without interest or time bidding, and he doesn't have to make any payments during a homesteading period. Under this system, a man can purchase a quarter section of land for $10 an acre, provided he lives on it for three years and cultivates 30 acres. Many men have started out on homesteads during these important first three years when he needs all his capital to establish his holdings and obtain equipment. He doesn't start paying taxes or payments on the land until the beginning of the fourth year In return for these advantages, the homesteader agrees to cultivate a minimum of 40 acres per annum during the first five years and to establish residence on the property for at least 12 months to qualify for a patent.



...what precautions are taken to provide immediate treatment of accidental poisoning?

Every general hospital in Alberta has a poison control centre where information of poisonous substances is immediately available to the family doctors, the hospital nurse or, in emergencies, to persons. Maintained by the Department of Public Health, these centres have a quick reference system which provides details on whether or not a substance is poisonous and, if so, what type of poisonous material is and what can be done about it. In addition to these poison control centres, poison information centres are located in Calgary and Edmonton, where information on special treatment of unusual poisons is immediately available to doctors or hospitals.

Winter Time is Fire Danger Time

Each year, many Canadians die because faulty space heaters or stoves cause fires in the home, according to All Canada Insurance Federation.

The Federation which represents most Canadian fire insurance companies, recommends these safety precautions:

Clean and inspect all flues, pipes and chimneys at least once a year.

Inspect and replace if necessary, all insulation where pipes pass through walls or partitions.

Be sure that the heater is placed a sufficient distance from walls and furniture.

Make sure that the fuel supply and pilot light systems are working properly.

If wood is being burned, install a spark screen on the chimney.

Locate the heater so that it does not block doors or stairways.

. . SKI TIPS . .

(By ANDREW BLAIR)

On Sunday afternoon the hill who may not cherish the idea looked a little bare in spots but by the time you read this the snow that remained will be completely gone. Although the bare spots of snow hurts are beginning to melt immensely, never-the-less, preparations should be considered.

The first precaution is to buy good strong skis. A broken ski is far more costly than the equipment.

The old type bindings with plates on the side have been outlawed "safety type" and it is best to stay out of them. The second precaution is not to be faster than your brakes and controls allow.

Think of the other person too. Be courteous — remember these safety precautions.

STRESS AND WHAT IT MEANS TO YOU

(Concluded)

During the last three weeks we have discussed the meaning of stress, the physical and emotional implications of stress, the various forms of stress and how to recognize stress. We said that some forms of stress were good but there are some which need careful handling to prevent excessive tension and breakdown in health. This week we will conclude with Ways to Handle Tension.

Here are some of the ways people have learned to successfully control stress and to waste the ugly aspects of life when encountered.

1. Balance Work with Play—That old saying about all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy still makes sense. All work might give Jack an ulcer or a nervous breakdown. Time for recreation should be scheduled in everyone's planning. An hour's golfing hobby can be relaxing as well as constructive. On the other hand, work can be a kind of cure for severe emotional situations such as the death of a beloved one, a divorce or broken engagement.

2. Lead a Hobby — Very active people sometimes feel a little guilty about occasionally just sitting and doing nothing. A little loafing sometimes helps one to tackle one's work with renewed enthusiasm. Too much inactivity may cause bored-om or even stress but the art of loading is well worth learning.

3. Putting off until tomorrow — Learn to let some things go. When a work load becomes overwhelming, remember, you can do only one thing at a time. Think of the job in hand and the other can be done either later or tomorrow.

4. Work off tensions. When upset and angry, try to blow off steam or work off your feelings with physical exercise. Walk in the garden, take a long walk, play a game. This not only relieves anger but makes it easier to handle problems in a more calmly. Getting busy helps some people to stop stewing over their problems.

5. Talk out troubles. Get it out of your system by confiding worries to a sympathetic friend. Discuss serious problems with your clergyman or family doctor or with an understanding member of your family. Another person can often help you to get your feelings into focus and to see your problems in a new light. If your problems are getting out of hand, your doctor can recommend you a Guidance Clinic. Or A Specialist: or a Social Service Agency, etc., according to your need.

6. Learn to accept—what you cannot change. Don't get upset about circumstances beyond your control. Accept people as they are. Changing them is often frustrating and gives a great 'letdown' when you find that your efforts are wasted. Try to see the good in them and you can look for the best in others while realizing that no one is faultless.

7. Get away. Try to divert yourself from problems which keep you worried. Go to the movies, read a book or story, write a letter. There is no harm in "running away" from a painful situation long enough to regain your composure, catch your breath and return to face the problem. A brief trip, a change of scene can give new perspective. This is not always possible or practical. There are times when all we need is to "escape" even if it is just a rest from routine.

8. Have regular check-ups. Go to your doctor or clinic for periodic check-ups. Just as the mind affects the body's working order, physical condition affects a person's outlook on life. If you keep physically fit, you will have more energy to bring and be able to take stress and handle tension more easily.

There are so many ways of finding solutions to the problems of life which we often make minor and trivial. Some of these issues can be useful, but experience too, is a teacher. By making the most of what we can often find new and better ways to deal with the tensions of life.

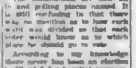
Students in the Home Economics classes at the Provincial Agriculture are delighted with the latest acquisition in their cooking lab. It is a shiny new into model kitchen range installed and made available for their use through the courtesy of Mr W. C. Martin agent for Canadian Progene.

Winter is apparently here to stay. Total snowfall for November is 6¼ inches. The coldest temperature for the month was registered Nov. 30rd when the thermometer dropped to 31 below.

In order to give the Tigers' Hockey Club some much-needed support it is planned to sell season tickets at $5 each.

Word has been received from R. C. Bishop, Director of Soils, Mining and Water Safety, that Crown Society, Calgary, that three Vermilion Air Cadets, Don Goodson, Murray Miller and Jim Adam qualified for the Red Cross swimming team.



The Editor
Vermilion Standard
Dear Mr Cooper

We have an election on Saturday Dec 3rd for the offices of two councillors and three representatives for the Vermilion municipal hospital board.

There is nothing very peculiar about the manner in which this election is being run. A few weeks ago, before nomination day Nov 30th I received a letter stating that the returning officer would be at the County Office at a certain time to receive nominations for the following divisions 3, 4 and 6, but there was no mention about nominations for the hospital board representatives. I wonder why.

The nominations are now all in and polling places named. It is still confusing in that there was no mention as to how each ward was divided so that each voter would know as to which place he should go to vote.

According to my knowledge there never has been an election in Ward 6 for hospital representatives. The representative was put in by appointment, and I think that this was the same in other wards — so why all the bothered fuss?

There is one conclusion and that is that religion is being brought into this hospital election. This is too bad as it is going to cause strained relations between neighbors which up to the present time have been quite cordial between Catholics and Protestants.

Some of the candidates are making statements about the hospital which are not true. They should make inquiries as to whether such statements are true or not.

I quite agree with Miss Curry in her article which appeared in last week's Standard that there is no place for religion or politics in these local elections.

Thanking you for your space in Friday

GREEN ACRES

SHELTER FOR CATTLE

As we write this the temperature outside is around 45 degrees above. Only a few days ago it was ten to 15 below. These rapid changes are hard on cattle and the possibility of pneumonia among them increases. This possibility indicates a real close watch on the herd whether in the feedlot or not.

While these severe variations in temperature may be harder on cattle than cold weather from the disease point of view it still is true that prolonged cold spells reduce feedlot gains and cause increased feed consumption in the whole herd. Dr. C. M. Williams of the University of Saskatchewan found that a 10-foot shelter fence plus covered hay ding resulted in daily gains of more than a pound per head per day over cattle with no shelter. This added gain more than paid for the building and measure ably reduced the increase in feed required to produce a pound of gain.

In fact, Dr. Williams estimated the increase in profit to be $13.21 per head.

Bedding appeared to be more important than shelter, however, a minimum of bedding is more advisable. A shelter fence should be about ten feet high and have spaces between the boards of about 20% of the area. A 20% porosity fence is much more efficient in reducing wind velocities and turbulence than a solid fence would be.

PREGNANCY TESTS

It costs in the neighborhood of $20 to winter a cow, whether she is in calf or not. The feed market is not such that you can afford to winter cows which won't produce calves. Veterinarians can do pregnancy tests which will indicate which cows are in calf and those which are not and may then be sold or fattened. About 15% of the cows will likely be open in the late (autumn) the first time you test for pregnancy. By eliminating the non-producers over a succession of years the reproduction rate has been increased to over 90% in some large herds.

Pregnancy tests may also show up disease problems such as vibriosis which would go unsuspected otherwise and possibly also breeding problems with your bulls.

EMPHASIS ON HOME MISSIONS

Sunday, Nov. 27th was Home Missions Sunday at the Alliance Chapel. Guest speaker was Rev. D. Tjart, assistant pastor of Beulah Alliance Church, Edmonton. His stirring appeal in the morning service on behalf of Home Missions resulted in a large cash and pledge offering for this phase of Alliance work. In the evening service he spoke on the theme "Who is My Neighbour?". Mr Albert Tovell was chairman for both services with Norman Dibbon assisting in the evening. Solos were sung by Mr Albert Mix and Norman Dibbon. An instrumental duet by Karen and Ken Bonney was played on the trumpet and trombone. Piano and organ accompaniment for the singing was played by Miss M. McLorwan and Mrs. A. Tovell.

Out-of-town visitors in the services were Russell Kapin of Edmonton, visiting his parents, and Mr and Mrs. Wiens of Lloydminster.

Controversial Movie Will Be Shown At Mannville Anglican Church

On Friday, December 9th, at 7:30 p.m. there will be a showing of the controversial movie "Peabody Waved Good-bye" in the basement of Christ Church, at Mannville. All are welcome.

This feature film, produced by the National Film Board of Canada, was so instant success in the Rainbow before it received any recognition in the country in which it was made. For Canada, its stars Peter Kastner and Julie Biggs. "Nobody" is the beginning of two very promising acting careers.

The movie portrays a boy who rebels against middle-class conventions and goals in life, and chooses to strike out for himself. He chooses to make his own way, but proves to be vulnerable to the trickery of the adult world. Alexis as no defence when the need for money pushes him to word shady practices in business involved with Peter, and at times his only ally, is his girl friend, Julie But in the end she rejects him because he chooses a course contrary to her, one she feels is a poor beginning for family life.

The film will prove to be entertaining to people of all ages.

No one present offered to stand as delegate to attend the convention, as it was decided to change to have it case delegates chosen for the convention. Ivor Sheralr, Donald Vinish, Bob Hansen and Mrs. Hansen attended the district dinner at Kitscoty. They all enjoyed the dinner and the speech which followed by the F.U.A. ## SPOTLIGHT on EDUCATION

WE BELIEVE THIS ABOUT THE PROFESSIONAL STAFF

We believe the school administrator and his colleagues should be professionally prepared and possessed of leadership qualities and the power and courage to make wise decisions. Relationships between the educational staff and the school board should be characterized by mutual respect and trust.

The professional personnel must be professionally prepared for its diversified and complex tasks, but continuous study, experimentation, and inservice growth are imperative. Encouragement to grow and favorable conditions for growth are the responsibility of the administration and board, but improvement is the responsibility of the individual employee.

Professional staff members should have a living and a saving wage commensurate with their preparation and their employers and difficult professional tasks.

Although job security is important investigation should be helped to unerved or dismissed through ethical procedures.

The profession has a clear responsibility to give objective information to boards of education and to the public relative to the degree to which the purposes of education are being achieved and to acquaint them with the methods and procedures used.

The professions will be respected and supported to the degree that it exerts strong and concerted leadership toward Canadian ideals and a progressive dynamic education program that will guarantee their achievement.

WE BELIEVE THIS ABOUT OUR SCHOOL BOARDS

We believe school boards carry responsibilities for the local, provincial and national welfare unsurpassed by any other group of public servants. Canada's future depends faith in the wisdom of the people receives its greatest expression through our school board system of administration and control.

The legal officials of government initially selected representatives of the general public, school boards are obligated to be responsible to the people for improved educational programs and better facilities for learning. Although sensitive to the wishes of the general public, they must maintain their independence of action and independence in policy making.

School board members should be sensitive to the desires, aspirations and judgments of the people, recognizing that after all the conversation, recommendations and the complaints have been heard they themselves must ultimately serve as umpire and make the arrangements because it is their legal responsibility to do so.

The school board has an obligation to employ a professional staff with personal character and professional competence basing the only criteria for selection. Furthermore, personnel policies should be adopted and followed which are designed to get and hold the best-qualified staff.

As duly and legally selected representatives of all the people, board members, should establish a two-way communication system with the public.

Although primarily legislative and policy-making bodies, school boards should take courageous leadership roles for better programs better public understanding and improved support of the public schools.

A school board member bears his effectiveness largely across a community liability when he permits personal affiliations and special interests to dim his ardor for public schools.

Since boards are representatives of all the people, they should not yield to pressures from individuals special interests or minority groups At all times, however, the rights of the individual should be preserved.

School boards should use every suitable avenue of communication to explain the worth of education to the public and to give dignity and prestige to teaching

Have you ever wondered...

...what happens to the profits made by the province of Alberta treasury branches?

After all operating costs have been paid, these profits over $3 million, in the last six years are turned over to the province's Revenue Fund of the Alberta Government to help pay for the cost of running the Province. In addition to that, a Treasury Branch reserve fund has been built up to more than $4 million. A self-supporting business enterprise, the Treasury Branches make no loans from government revenues. Loans are made to assist in the financial and industrial growth of the Province, come entirely from the money deposited by the people of Alberta.

who should be concerned about Alberta's "surplus and children"?

YOU should be. It is the duty of every Albertan to help prevent any child from being harmed through neglect or ill treatment and, under the terms of The Child Welfare Act, it is obligatory to report such cases to the authorities. In the case the authorities are the Child Welfare Branch of the Alberta Department of Public Welfare as the department gratefully assumes all responsibility for child protection within the Province. It is expected that the number of these cases from the Municipal to Provincial authorities will be completed by the end of this year or sooner as Edmonton and City part where the change will not be completed for two years.

who administers Alberta's new towns before there is even a population?

Many of Alberta's new towns must be carved out of the bush and a wilderness must be turned into a habitable area with streets, water, sewer and power, even before the population starts to arrive. The latter means and people and so must a new arrangement for both are supplied by the Municipal Inspection Branch of the Alberta Department of Municipal Affairs. Loans of up to one million dollars are made by the Provincial Treasurer for the development of a new town site and reports from the Branch form a Board of Administrators who will over see the growth of the town until the population and prospects become sufficient for the local residents to assume control.

why you can't fish with live bait in Alberta?

Any fisherman who puts that enticing little wriggler on his hook may be unknowingly taking the first step in re-paying the trout in his favorite fishing spot with complete unbearable fish. If the live bait goes free to grow and spawn, these unwanted species will soon crowd the trout into extinction thereby destroying sport fishing in that location. To maintain Alberta's angling, the Fish and Wildlife Division, Department of Lands and Forests, plant two to three million trout in Provincial waters each year. Half a million of these are yearlings, seven to eight inches long, the rest fingerlings. This year plants were made in 11 children's ponds, 101 lakes and reservoirs, 81 beaver ponds, 13 locations where spawning trout are taken, and 5 fish populated areas where new species were introduced.

who measures Alberta?

Before homesteaders can move in, before subdivisions can be started or subdivisions built or roads constructed, the land has to be measured and boundary monuments established. To see that this is done properly is the job of the Surveys Branch of the Alberta Department of Highways. In addition to boundaries on all areas of land measuring of townships and highways, the Branch has direction over all surveying done in the Province under the Alberta Surveys Act, and examines all plans of survey to ensure their compliance with that Act. The results of all this work are recorded on plans which are registered in the Land Titles Office and subsequently reflected in a variety of maps produced by the Mapping Division of the Surveys Branch.

...who is fighting the war on weeds?

Alberta farmers wouldn't have much chance of winning their war against weeds if the county could keep calling up reinforcements from unattended roadsides and abandoned lands. To keep weeds down in those "no man's lands", the Weed Control Section of the Plant Industry Division, Alberta Department of Agriculture, supplies information to municipalities and to individual farmers. Effective weed control methods are provided at cost to municipal authorities and at no cost to farmers. To encourage them to eliminate patches of dangerous weeds before they spread, a special spraying program kills weeds during roadsides and these areas are kept free of weeds by mowing appropriate portions of grass seed equal to the moist quotient by the Provincial government.

There is so much time and effort spent in food preparation that it deserves to be presented with beauty and good taste. The most excellently prepared meal can lose some of its appeal when the hostess neglects to serve it on a tastefully set table in appropriately selected china.

Many marriages fail due to unlucky selection. Before they hope chest is filled with a pattern for their dishes, silverware and glassware.

Sadly enough, when their 'hopes' turn into reality they find they no longer like the patterns they have selected. This is why a knowledge of design ... good design, is important and it is never too soon to start learning.

Rule number one in any type of applied design is to remember that "Simplicity is Beauty."

Firstly, let's keep in mind that good design is not found only in very expensive tableware. As a matter of fact, some very expensive china is very bad design. So no matter what our means, we can have tableware that is beautiful and in good taste.

Keep in mind that food will be put on the plates and the plates will be put on placemats on a tablecloth. What is to be the centre of interest? What do you want to emphasize? Most of us would answer the food, of course. If this is so, then the rest of the table should be a background. Therefore, too much design on the china or the tablecloth takes away from the beauty and appeal of the food.

The best design follows the structural lines of an object. That is why border designs are as attractive Stylized and abstract designs are said to be more attractive than design that imitates the real thing (flowers, trees, animals, etc.)

Before selecting tableware, it is wise to keep in mind the type of home you have, the type of life you lead and the type of entertaining you do. Incidentally, this is one good reason for not selecting tableware patterns too early in life ... wait until you know the answers to these questions. Some people like informality and others have more formal taste. Those who are more informal will prefer pottery, semi - porcelain stainless steel and so on, while the formal type will like very fine china, elaborate silver and cut glass. No matter what your particular taste, all of your tableware should have "harmony of line", and all support either the formal, informal, or in-between. Fancy cut glass simply does not go with coarse porcelain plates.

There is a very famous quotation in the world of design that cannot be omitted ... "Form follows Function". This simply means that the shape of an object must be suited to its purpose. Have you ever tried to drink out of a cup that was almost impossible to hold comfortably? There are many on the market! Many cups have a very wide mouth and hot beverages run out too quickly. All of these practical little details must be part of your consideration.

Most colors of china go well with food, but before buying, try to visualize how different food colors will go with your selection.

As could be gleaned from the actual pictures of the first earth being taken in Vermilion's Centennial Swimming Pool which appeared in last week's Standard, work is right up to schedule on the pool.

The Vermilion Gentry (1964) Limited, the contractors report the following progress. Everything that is to be done this fall on the tank of the pool has been completed. The pool is now filled with water and allowed to freeze. The pool is presently "Swimming Pool" which is to prevent frost from getting under the concrete and causing damage.

The Bath House is presently under construction and should be completed before Christmas. The work left to be done in the bath house is the erection of the lobster, painting of the partitions and connecting of the filtration and other equipment.

In view of the progress it appears that there will be no difficulty in opening the pool by June 1967.

PARENTAL AUTHORITY

Can it be said that the Canadian family is preparing the young for adult life in a more effective way than ever before? Perhaps the sacredness of turn of personality is not only stressed but practised in an increasing number of families.

Children are not simply pawns in the life-sized game of chess. They are individuals with rights commensurate with their maturity.

The authority of parents has become more responsive to the demands of youth, but some of the laws weakened. It is real and influential, not simply hen-handed and authoritarian coal. It depends more on example rather than "do as I say, not as I do." This is a far more effective means than dominating overtimes to exercise their authority. Many are engaged in the work of strengthening those influences which tend to produce the personality that find attractive in the young.

Unfortunately, the news media must report the youth who rebel, who are court cases who cause trouble to parental authority. We must remember though that this group is not a majority.

Many Canadians use family consultation sessions. Older children when consulted in their parents, can often give very real insight into the problems involving younger family members. They are more in touch with the pressures of school authority. They can communicate the desires of the youngest child more accurately than parents who were reared in a different generation.

GREEN ACRES

By J. S. DUNCAN, D. A.
Vermilion, Alberta

FARM LABOR

Dr. Glen Purnell, Director of the Agricultural Economics Branch, also forecasts average capital investments of $80,000 to $100,000 in farm units by 1980. There will likely be a 50% reduction in the number of farm units and hired labor requirement of 25,000 people. This 7000 more farm laborers than we have to day. Where will they to come from?

Dr. Purnell thinks the farm ers who will direct farms in this consolidation trend are the most likely source of hired farm labor ers. They will be most interested in farm work and the best equipped to do it. To attract and hold these individuals, however, it will be necessary to adjust wages so that farm work ers are paid in proportion to their contribution to production. Productivity per agricultural worker is at present double that of workers in other fields.

Land, labor and capital are the resources which go into the production of agricultural outputs. For agricultural products likely to be sufficient these three have to be in proper balance and have a fourth resource manage ment, must be added. We need much more management in an able farm economy if we are the salary levels they can afford to pay. The Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act makes provision to obtain this information.

The prospective hired farm worker also needs many training and only in skill development but also in management.

From the broad point of view there is also the need for an adequate income level if agriculture is to compete effectively for labor and capital. The recent more attention must be given to the agricultural sector of the economy.

One other consideration besides salary exists which has a bearing on the attractiveness of farm work to laborers in the seasonal nature of the work. Not too many farms have year round work for hired workers necessitating lay-offs. Unemployment insurance is a possible solution to this problem. It is to be attended to farm workers next spring and in order to keep farm ers informed on this a clinic deal ing with unemployment insurance for farm workers and other topics is to be held at Vermilion on December 14th.

INCOME TAX CLINIC

Centennial Canoe Pageant Is Planned By Elk Point

May 31st, 1967, will be Centennial Day in north-east Alberta, when Elk Point will stage its mammoth "Centennial Canoe Pageant."

At the first public centennial meeting held in Elk Point in July, Mr. Vic Chapman, Alberta Co-ordinator of Centennial Activities and Mr. "Pud" Salloum, Centennial Officer, announced that the Voyageurs, on their cross-country canoe trip were going to make one of their major stops at Elk Point. And the people of Elk Point decided on the spot that their stop-over should be a memorable one.

CENTENNIAL CO-ORDINATOR

Mr. Ron Barwick was asked by Mayor Mike Habish to be Elk Point's co-ordinator of Centennial Projects, and at a second meeting he picked his committee: Mrs. Mary Becken, Mrs. Mabel Dument, Mr. Paul Stepa, Mr. Orin Davis Mr. Peter Yewchuk, and Mr. Steve Dyrenuik. Three rural representatives volunteered to help them: Mrs. Fewvew, Mr. Jim Boyd and Mr. John Dreuer. They are proving to be an enthusiastic and imaginative team.

ALL TO PARTICIPATE

All clubs and groups in Elk Point have been asked to have a project and report at every evening and will be reported here. Mr. Barwick has been busy addressing clubs and Mr. Paul Mannville Bonnyville Vermilion, Marwayne, Lloydminster Centre and will call on other towns in northeast Alberta soon. As well, he has arranged to address the Students' Union of the F. G. Miller High School and have been equally enthusiastic and have promised major contributions to the entertainment in Elk Point, several days in July. Even at this early date the parade promises to be a real spectacular and there will be activities throughout the afternoon and evening providing fun for all.

DETAILED PLANNING

At the first regular bi-monthly meeting of the Centennial Committee each member was allocated his or her share of the responsibility and were told to enlist the aid of several Elk Point people to assist in the work. The work breaks down as follows:

Finish line tap and sprint landing site canoe safety, Mr. Orin Davis; Campsite lighting trailer and parking facilities sanitary facilities, water, communication facilities. Ice press and telephone, Mrs. Mabel Dument; Billeting of visitors Mrs. Mary Becken; Policing of Campsite general policing crowd and traffic control Mr. Mike Lawrisk. Public address systems Mr. Peter Yewchuk; Advance schedule of events for publicity, parade route Mr. Ron Barwick. Flags and decorations Mrs. Mabel Dument; Food and barbecue were tabled for attention at a later date.

GOING ALL OUT

So Elk Point is going to go all out but it should be worth the effort a pageant that will begin with a three-mile sprint to the Voyageurs on the river, then a colorful parade covering the same route, thousands of visitors and press and radio coverage of the sentiment of this and more in Elk Point May 31st, 1967.

Vermilion Curling Club Social and Turkey-Curl

The members of the Vermilion Ladies' and Men's Curling Clubs will take time off from the curling fitness to relax and enjoy their first social event of the season.

On Saturday, Dec. 17, a mixed social, dancing refreshments and turkey dinner, together with a turkey curl, with the winners packing home plump oven-ready turkeys will be held at the curling rink.

This event is open to all members of the club and their guests. Prizes will be curling.

This will certainly open the curling season in style and a lot of curling it will be even that early in the year.

Both the ladies and men's clubs have shown a spirit of enthusiasm in membership this year and room can still be made for those wishing to join.

The ladies have an afternoon curl on Tuesday afternoons. They say their classes are fun and they are also the point getters. As the season progresses, they will be out to take scalps and bring the bacon home.

Once we knew a kitchen
Where the woodstove smelled so sweet,
Purified sparks flew out the draft,
And stovetop cheery heat,
Filled the homey room with joy
Beyond all modern measure,
Of warmth and comfort both given the years
For our hearts still to treasure
Old rocking chair contentin song,
Home kittens and a cat,
Red apples and pumpkins,
A brown-eyed boy at play.
The table set a glowing hour,
Blue plates old hugs and things,
In old time style we see them all
And memory sweetly sings
Of other days and other ways
And no desire to return.
Those time-tick worked so slowly
By the hearth and heart of home
For everything there is a season
And a time for every purpose under heaven.

Notes from Marwayne C.G.I.T.

For some years now in most communities the C.G.I.T. (Canadian Girls in Training) has become a thing of the past. This year in Marwayne it will be used for sharing with our friends what we recall and learn from the C.G.I.T. and also to learn more about other countries, their customs and traditions. Canadian Christmas customs are quite unique and we have a wonderful opportunity to learn about the birth of Jesus Christ as written in Matthew and Luke. Our leaders Heather Jean de Bruyn and Mrs. Verna Forbes have been very helpful in preparing us for the C.G.I.T. ceremony which will be held in the Marwayne United Church on Sunday, December 18th at 7:00 p.m. Parents and friends are welcome to attend.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to express my appreciation for the many kind remembrances received during my recent illness. Special thanks to the nurses and staff of the Vermilion Hospital for their kindness and attention. I have been receiving.

Verna Forbes

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for all the help and kindness shown to us during the illness and passing away of our husband, father, brother and grandfather. Special thanks also to Rev. Mr. Mitchell, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Mundt, Mrs. Clarke, Mrs. Lorne Hebert and Mr. and Mrs. John Vinopal.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh O'Rourke

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to express our sincere thanks to Mr. Lloyd Hewitt and Hewitt Lumber for their many efforts, as we could not have obtained the lumber for our basement in Edmonton. Also thanks for all expressions of sympathy.

VERMILION

It reads to me as if it's an old by-law brought to life, the number and year is not stated on the public notice so it's hard to tell when it was first introduced.

The members of the present town council and the secretary-treasurer seem to have forgotten that snow and dirt removed from walks and streets has been done for many years now, by the men working for the town public works department, who pay their own money collected from taxes paid by those who rent or own property in the town.

It is quite possible that at the time this by-law was passed that the works department had only one man and possibly none at all, and no doubt it was felt by the then council members that the few residents in town were young enough to shovel snow and ice.

I do know that dirt from celled sidewalks was dumped on the streets and lanes immediately in front or back of the building.

I remember quite well that dirt from the cellar of the Safeway Store, now used by the Co-op Furniture Store, was dumped on main streets in front of that building. Long's Drug store and the Corner Store.

I believe this by law was introduced by the present council after these practices were done by the builders. I believe this by-law was very necessary at the time But now, at this time, residents in town are very different, everyone is older, and so is the town, and many residents are not physically or financially able to shovel snow and dirt. Surely the councillors and secretary-treasurer must know that there are now many residents in Vermilion who are well over 60 years of age and some over 70 years. I know of three widows of my home. Six others are those being grandmothers, and one of whom is a great-grandmother.

According to the ages of these three women will have to remove snow and dirt from 175 feet of sidewalk. I do not know their financial circumstances, but I do know they were living in Vermilion or district during the time that any small person at that time with savings, were greatly reduced financially

I also know of a couple rent ed in Vermilion for many years, the wife badly crippled and a few months from 80 years of age and whose husband's age is a few years from 80, with a badly bent back both living on pensions only.

If these by-laws are going to be rigidly enforced they will no doubt create difficult living conditions for many now living in Vermilion.

What I would particularly like to know is why the council is going to enforce this by-law when the work has been done satisfactorily of late years by the town men, and paid for by the residents? Is it because the public work's men are overworked? Evidence has not shown this to be the case or is the staff going to be reduced? If this is so, what reduction can be expected on the 1967 tax notices? I would appreciate an answer to these questions in a future issue of the Standard

Finally, I do not like the idea of added servitude shovelling snow and dirt for the remainder of my life.

I would thank you Mr. Editor, if you will kindly publish this letter in our Vermilion Standard

Never Take Gasoline Into Home or Basement
By A. E. BRIDGES
Alberta Fire Commissioner

There are signs of increasing fire destruction in the news. The short period of Fire Prevention Week alertness has passed. We have ceased daily reports on low fire losses and the constant challenge to strive for a fire free day in Alberta is no longer heard

When mentioning signs of increasing fire destruction and a let it wan of alertness, the Fire Commissioner has reference to a report of an Edmonton boy igniting gasoline while repairing his motor cycle in the basement of his home. His clothes became ignited and had it not been for the quick action of his father and the quick response from the fire department, another fire tragedy would have resulted. Gasoline should never be brought into dwelling premises for any purpose.

Another near fire tragedy happened in Edmonton last week when a woman was cleaning clothes with gasoline in an open container in her basement. This is very dangerous and I must repeat and repeat the warning that gasoline should never be brought into a home for any purpose

Of course no one's supervision of the daily actions of people around their homes and gasoline is so scarce obtained that this danger is most difficult to handle. Fire department inspectors can do a great service during home inspection programs to advise home owners against the danger of mixture of gasoline in the home.

It is well known that most fires are preventable but it takes care and thought to avoid being foolish things that give fire a place to start. A careful business man knows he should never leave high value property unsupervised; how much more important then never to leave our most precious charges our young children alone at home As Fire Commissioner, I beg all Albertans to give the necessary attention to fire prevention in the early weeks of the winter season

Martin-Keizer Wedding Solemnized In Edmonton

A very pretty fall wedding was held in Edmonton on October 29 when Miss Renae Keizer, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rue Keizer of Edmonton became the bride of Mr. Donald David Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Martin of Islay.

The Rev. R. A. Veresun of Edmonton performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown in sheath style of white satin trimmed with floral appliqued lace. The dress was accented by a flowing train and Hypnoist sleeves. The rhinestone crown headpiece held the bride's shoulder-length veil in place. She carried a bouquet made up of a white orchid cascaded by white carnations mixed with blue and white streamers.

Following the wedding, the reception was held for some one hundred and twenty-five guests at the Saxony Motor Inn. Mr. Jasper Keizer, brother of the bride, called on Mr. P. Postma to propose the toast to the bride. Mr. David Laycock gave a toast to the Bridesmaids and Miss Akke Postma was in charge of the guest book.

The bride's going away outfit was a three-piece off-white wool suit with contrasting red and green accessories and red carnation corsage.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Islay, Kitscoty, Marwayne, Vermilion, Turrington, St. Paul, Saskatoon, Portage la Prairie, Calgary and from Holland via the bride's cousin, Miss Hetta Faber.

The couple will reside on their farm near Islay.

Pretty District Wedding At Derwent Church

The Greek Catholic Church, Derwent, was the scene of a pretty fall wedding when Linda Ann, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stone of Dewberry became the bride of Mr. Ambrose Pasbulka, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Pasbulka of Derwent.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Father John Cherkawinsky.

The church was decorated with baskets of roses and fern. During the service Mrs. Helen Kobyluh and Mr. Nick Haloswaychuh sang a beautiful Ukrainian hymn.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride looked radiant in a floor-length gown of nylon net over peau de sole satin. The bouffant skirt and half overskirt were edged with nylon lace. The fitted bodice and skirt were trimmed with lace and pearl appliques. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a white nylon rose.

The bride carried a bouquet of red roses and wore a crystal necklace, a gift from the groom.

The matron of honor Mrs. Joseph Pasbulka, sister of the bride, wore a rose street-length dress with an ivon lace bodice and pleated taffeta skirt and wore a corsage of white carnations.

The bridesmaids, Miss Lorraine Jaharko, cousin of the groom, and Miss Carol Stone were identical street-length dresses of pink chiffon, fashioned with sleeveless bodice, gathered skirt and flowing shoulder drapes. They carried bouquets of white carnations and feather ferns.

All three attendants wore white mohair chapeaux held in place with a white rose, and they wore pearl necklaces.

The bride's mother wore a jade green jacket dress of rib weave, with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom's mother chose a peacock blue, wool double-knit jacket dress with beige accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groomsmen were Messrs. Steve Pasbulka and Andy Pasbulka, brothers of the groom, of the bride.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the lower hall of the Derwent and District Recreation Centre. The bride's table was flanked with a lovely three-tier wedding cake, flanked with white candles and red rose buds. Father Cherkawsi asked the blessing.

Mr. Andy Pasbulka was the master of ceremonies and introduced the head table guests. Mr. Nick Haloswaychuk proposed the toast to the bride to which both the bride and groom replied. A dance followed in the upper hall.

Health Unit Notes

TETANUS OR "LOCKJAW"

WHAT IS TETANUS?

It is interesting to note that very few adults are immunized against tetanus in spite of the fact that we live in a country where much of the work done is with the soil and machinery of the voluntary muscles of the face neck trunk and extremities.

Tetanus immunization has been available in this country for quite a number of years and although all parishioners are commonly immunized against tetanus, it is only during the last fourteen years approximately that tetanus immunization has been available.

It is significant that a large proportion of our adult popula tion have been immunized against tetanus. This article is being written here, as facts about tetanus in the awareness of tetanus is a concern of the Health Unit staff.

Adequate immunization with tetanus toxoid is the only satisfactory solution to the control of this high rate and mortality rate from tetanus. Although the ultimate cause of tetanus remains unknown special emphasis should be placed on prevention in those who are likely to risk and the appropriate treatment of the wound.

Tetanus is an acute infectious disease caused by the toxin of the bacillus clostridium tetani. The disease is characterized by painful tonic and clonic spasms of the voluntary muscles of the face neck trunk and extremities.

Tetanus organism is widely distributed and exists primarily in soil animal feaces and garden mold. The bacillus, an anaerobe is normally present in the gastro intestinal tract of horses, rabbits, cats, dogs animals that chew their cud and most domestic animals. Some human beings have been identified as fecal carriers.

Besides the wide distribution of tetanus, active infection occurs in man only through a wound, as the organism does not appear grossly infected and at times the wound will appear healed, or it might even be difficult to find the point of entry of the infection when symptoms appear.

Only a slight degree of local tissue necrosis is needed to initiate infection with germination of spores, growth of bacteria and production of toxin. The toxin travels to the nervous system by means of the motor nerves and then up the spinal cord.

Incubation Period 5 to 8 or 10 days for acute infections; 4 to 5 weeks in chronic infections.

Mrs. Johnny Phillips (Irene Norwegian) is at last a very happy lady. She didn't realize for over 40 years she had been living as an American, only when she applied for her birth certificate. Her late husband was in the U.S Army during the war, that being the results of Irene being an American. After trying for some time she has recently obtained her birth certificate and is now a Canadian citizen. Irene is now working on the west coast and has a month off and will be in California for Xmas with her second oldest daughter Laura.

Nov. 13th Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Young of Dewberry had as their visitors Mr and Mrs. Orley Omey their daughter Donna and Phillip Porter and girls had called on Mrs Young in Bentley much better since her serious illness during the summer. They were planning a trip to the city the next day and were visiting their son Jackie and Donna and family.

Sometime ago Mr and Mrs. Herb McPhee heard from their daughter Irene at Vancouver. The apartment where she was staying was destroyed by fire and she lost all her belongings.

Supper guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. Hugh Hagen, Camrose, on Nov. 21st were Mr. and Mrs. William Hohner of Riverton and Mr and Mrs. Orley Omeye.

Mrs. Woody Wilson and sons Sandy and Kevin motored to the city on Nov. 17th to meet Woody who is working for the Wheat Pool Construction in southern Alberta. They were night guests at the home of Mr and Mrs. Tom King in Edmonton. The next morning Mrs. Edna David and Mrs. Wm Pettigrew of Vermilion called They had accompanied Miss Jean McPhee and she was attending a meeting

Some have wondered how they have enjoyed the series of Old Timers pictures and others in the Standard. They wondered why Aunt Nora wasn't included in the old timers.

The Omeyer's did appreciate the kindess of Mr. George Pusey and lady friend helping us one morning on our way to town when we ran out of gas (always a first time) and taking Orley to the home of Mr and Mrs. Phillip Taylor, and their kindness too was appreciated. Thanks again folks.

It was a grand day for the Hereford purebred sale of Mr and Mrs. Homer Campbell Nov. 23rd It was apparently very successful We were delighted to join the party at a smorgasbord at Scogging after the sale.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr and Mrs. James Walsh and family in the city were Mr and Mrs. Peter Lenarts (Anna Neiman) from Rivercourse Donald Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Walsh.

On Nov. 19th Mrs. Della Walsh and Ind Walsh were visiting at Oliver and were surprised to meet Mrs. Downe, well known to all as Quannie, looking as well in her 77th year as she did when the family lived in Allendale years ago. Mrs. Downe's son Mr and Mrs. Earl Jackson and their daughter and husband were visiting her Mrs. Downe and her late husband lived on the late Mr. Sentford Duffort's home stead, now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnold.

The birds, mostly bluejays and the tiny chickadees are certainly enjoying tallow and sunflower seeds that we put out for them.

Closing thought A t t i t u Golden Wedding anniversary of Ernest and Bessie Stanley, a joyful reunion for all. Reader's brother Leonard MacDonald gave Orley Omeyer a lovely photo of himself and Mrs. MacDonald with the inscription at the bottom "A stranger to me is not a friend we haven't met". A motto we could all live by.

Capital Report

By JOHN WARREN

Last week it was Social Credit's turn to hold a convention. They did it in Calgary and drew several hundred faithful to the big show — among them enough cabinet ministers to force cancellation of the normal cabinet meeting on Tuesday.

The convention heard some good speeches, well-expressed points of view, interesting debate and resolutions, a new appeal to youth in the party and a powerful Ernest Manning speech attacking the New Democratic Party.

The premier suggested that Alberta's Liberals and Conservatives "throw in their lot with Social Crediters in the next provincial election.

In his wind-up speech Mr. Manning said the Liberals have nothing to offer the province which it does not already have. The Conservatives have no hope of ever forming a government, said the premier, and they're now working only to divide the votes of free enterprisers.

ATTACKS N. D. P.

Turning to the NDP, Mr. Manning said they represent the worst of the socialist elements that are trying to take over Canada not by merit but by default He said the party is using the weapons of misrepresentation, political deception and malicious slander — tactics which the people of Alberta would not tolerate.

Such a speech can't do much for the morale of Grits and Tories — but to be regarded as the chief threat in Alberta must heat the spirits of NDP leader Neil Reimer, even if his campaign tactics are frowned upon by Mr. Manning.

EMPHASIS ON YOUTH

The emphasis on youth came from different sources

Youth Minister Bob Clark said young people today are more politically aware than they have ever been before — largely because of the mass media. He said it is natural for them to want to get things done but they must temper their enthusiasm with the experience and stability of older people.

Roy Speaker — a young backbencher touted as a cabinet appointee in the near future — pointed to the value of experience combined with a young attitude.

Both appealed to youth to work with the people who have helped make Social Credit the power it has been since 1935 in Alberta.

So much for p ities

The conviction also dealt with dozens of resolutions. Among them:

One that would have the government consider implementing "such legislation as will result in the lowering of prices on essential consumer goods." Defeated on the grounds that it would involve price fixing — a move opposed to the idea of any free enterprises.

One that would establish a department for old people comparable to the new youth department. Defeated on the grounds that problems of the aged are now being studied.

Finally, Labor Minister Reierson said automation isn't as bad as it is sometimes thought to be and Highways Minister Taylor said motor scooter safety is a matter of real concern in his department.

Polis-Brennan Wedding At First United Church

The First United Church, Vermilion, decorated with baskets of gold and bronze mums and miniature gladioli, was the scene of a double-ring wedding ceremony on Saturday, October 29th, when Miss Glenda Joyce Brennan, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brennan of Vermilion, was united in marriage with Mr. Glen Polis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Polis of Dapp, Alberta.

The Rev. Carlton Miller performed the ceremony. Mrs. Harry Morris played the wedding music and Dr. A. R. King sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Oh Perfect Love".

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white peltade satin, styled with an Empire waist giving way to a softly draped A Line skirt. The full train fell gracefully from the waistline. The pure white was enhanced by a fitted lace jacket with lily point sleeves. Her veil of illusion net was held in place with a headpiece fashioned of lily petals and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white gardenias. Her only jewelry was a cameo brooch which had belonged to her grandmother, and matching earrings.

The bride was attended by Miss Wendy Polis as maid of honour and by Miss Terry Noyes of Calgary as bridesmaid. They were identically attired in short sleeved gowns of gold peau de soie with the Empire waistline and the A line skirt. They wore gold veil caps de coiffe headpieces and carried nosegays of bronze and gold mums.

The best men were Mr Gregory Polis, brother of the groom and Mr. Richard Brennan, brother of the bride. Gary Valentine of Dapp Hills and Walter Wopricid of Dapp, ushered the guests to their seats for the ceremony.

Mrs. C. N. Brennan chose for her daughter's wedding, a light blue green silk antron two-piece ensemble with a pale pink feathered off-the-face hat. Her corsage was pink roses.

Mrs. W. Polis, mother of the groom, wore a dark green crepe dress with draped neckline and light beige hat and accessories. Her corsage of yellow roses completed her outfit. A reception was held in the church hall for one hundred and ten guests. The bride's table was set with a white linen cloth centered with a three-tier wedding cake, decorated by Mrs. Jim Robson and flanked with white tapers and bud vases of pink roses.

Mr Gordon Rose proposed the toast to the bride and Mr. Jim Robson acted as master of ceremonies.

For their honeymoon trip to Mexico the bride wore a two-piece suit in burgundy with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The young couple will make their home in Westlock.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were from Hinton, Edmonton, Vegreville, Red Deer, Calgary, Dapp, Swan Hills, Eldorado, Sask., Peace River, High Prairie and Bonalbo.

From June to September West minster Abbey has some 3000 visitors daily, with some 900 years of English history enshrined in its stones extensive repairs were undertaken and the Abbey is now capable of standing for another 900 years.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

By Walter Plenske, Gr. VIII Manyville, 1st Prize Jr. High

Remembrance Day or Armistice Day was recorded at 11 o'clock, November 11, 1918, when the Germans and the Allied Nations signed a truce or armistice to end the First World War. This day of November 11 was called Armistice Day until after the Second World War, which was ended by the surrender of Germany on August 14, 1945. Then it officially became known as Remembrance Day in honor of the dead soldiers and their bravery.

The name of Remembrance Day was given in Armistice Day in order to help remind us of all the soldiers lying in Flanders Fields, a number of whom were never identified. Until after the second world war, Armistice Day was only an ordinary day on which a blessed event took place, the signing of the Armistice, but today Remembrance Day has become a day to pause and think of the valiant Canadian soldiers, 60,000 of whom lie in Flanders Field, France. Their graves bedecked with poppies of a glorious red.

The poppy is used by Canadian war veterans as a symbol to help us remember. These headcapped poppies, some of whom have no arms or legs as a result of the wars, make artificial poppies which are sold on Remembrance Day. The money taken in from this project is given to the Canadian war veterans.

When we think of poppies most of us think of a bright red bloom swaying gently in a breeze. This might also help us to think of the wars and the bloodshed as the gentle waving of a sea of red in Flanders Field and the thought of flowing blood are somewhat alike.

Remembrance Day is celebrated all over the world, by Britain, France, and the United States who have made November 11 an official holiday. In Canada also a law has been passed that November 11 should remain a holiday in honor of the dead soldiers and war veterans. On this day in Canada, we might attend a Remembrance Day memorial service church or even just pause for a moment at home to think of these soldiers. Then don't forget to buy a poppy, a symbol of Remembrance Day. Let's not forget to make this a special day.

The Significance of Remembrance Day

By Anna Grunwald, 1st Prize, Manyville High School

November the 11th, 1918, brought about the end of World War I, and the birth of Remembrance Day. This is a day set aside to honor the dead of this war and later ones and to remember and appreciate the principles for which they died.

The time was the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month, 1918. The whole world heaved a sigh of relief as peace returned once more for all time, the people hoped. Although the people did not know then, this was not the war to end all wars. Less than a generation later the world was again thrown into the tumult of World War II and the Korean conflict.

Thousands of people fled during the war, all for the same reason. Whether they were inhabitants of overrun countries or our brave soldiers, they fought and died because of their staunch adherence to their beliefs of freedom. This is what Remembrance Day is really all about.

Today, we of the western world enjoy many freedoms, the right to choose our religion the right to express our opinions, morally and on paper, the right to choose our government, and so on. These rights, were won over centuries and were defended each time during the major wars. Do we still appreciate these freedoms or are we taking them for granted? Would today's younger generation take up our country's cause and fight for our rights if the need arose? Is there not an easier solution than another war?

Remembrance Day is set aside to remember and honour those who died to preserve our freedom.

Perhaps we need to be reminded more often. Every time we pick up a magazine or listen to the radio or watch television there should be a reminder that freedom is not free. There is a price tag attached. We may still have to pay.

The eleventh of November, then, is not a day to only look back. Surely the brave men who died in conflict should remain a thought about and their reasons for fighting carefully considered. But even more so, it is a day to hope and pray that someday war will not be necessary to maintain the rights of a free people.

Drugs And Driving

If you drive or operate machinery while taking drugs, consult your doctor or druggist.

Drugs may make a person drowsy and affect vision, alertness, judgment, ability to concentrate, or muscle co-ordination.

Three drugs include tranquilizers, motion sickness pills, antihistamines, or drugs used to control symptoms of coughs, colds, allergies and barbiturates used to combat nervousness and produce sleep.

Amphetamines, often called benzies, pep pills, thrill pills, may increase efficiency and alertness for a short time. However these mask the body's normal protective symptoms of fatigue. When the body's energy has been used up, the person may collapse. Collapse may be preceded by headaches, dizziness agitation, hallucination, irritability or decreased ability to concentrate.

All of these may affect driving ability without the driver's knowledge for the deadliest combination - drugs driving and alcohol.

Freezers are a wonderful invention especially around Christmas time when so many things can be prepared ahead and frozen.

The last few days before Christmas often is a busy one with things come up and it's an inconvenience having to stop and prepare meals. Dishes such as chili con carne, meat balls, pork and beans, stews, meat pies, chop suey and many others can all be prepared ahead and frozen. For best flavor and texture, try decreasing the cooking time by 10 to 15 minutes when preparing the dish. This way you avoid overcooking and sogginess. Be sure to cool as quickly as possible and package in moisture-vapor - proof containers. When you wish to use them, they can be easily heated in top of the double boiler or in the oven. In these dishes, try to avoid high seasonings. Such things as pepper, cloves and garlic may become strong and bitter. Salt, onion and chili, on the other hand, seem to lose flavor. Salt increases rate of ice formation and for this reason should be omitted in freezing or used more than a month. Green pepper and pimentos in large quantities seem to get stronger. So if in doubt, it's best to be safe and add spices when you are reheating food.

If you like potatoes in stews, for a better texture, add them when reheating the dish because they often become watery when frozen.

Frozen plate meals are nice to prepare and have on hand for the children when they have to be away from home during holiday time. Previous years' success in using them within 1 to 2 weeks. It is best when the meats and stews on a plate. When reheating the oven, cover partially with foil over each. Such things as fried potatoes and pastry which tends to become soggy to moisture retention. Try to choose foods with about the same reheating time.

Preparing sandwiches before hand and freezing can also be a big time saver when entertaining. Fillings that are unsuitable to use. These include eggs, which become tough and dry, lettuce, celery, tomatoes, cucumbers and other vegetables that contain high percentages of water. Fruit jelly tends to soak into the bread and should therefore be avoided and oil dressings may also become rancid.

Only freshly prepared sand wiches should be frozen and should be wrapped and put in the freezer immediately after preparing. Arrange sandwiches such as chicken-breast, rolled and not in plain rows, so it is best if they can be left whole. They will be in better shape and fresher if cut just at serving time.

And if you can, wrap them in small packages for easy handling. The handier for using this way and not much trouble to put the amount you need. It's also best to freeze sandwiches in good wrappings to seal in drying out.

When planning to plan it as sandwiches will be ready just in time for lunch and don't prepare outer wrapping and sandwiches on partials thawed. If they thaw too soon they will be soggy. Remember to provide a refrigerator for cool storage as it is unwise to leave sandwiches at room temperature as they will soon lose their freshness.

Reports presented by various officers and committee heads indicated that the past year had been a successful one in many respects. It was decided that general attendance at the Fair was down considerably from previous years due in large part to the uncertain crop prospects at the time.

Shell Explodes — Hunter Injured

Bob Sedgrave suffered injuries to his eye when a shell exploded as it struck a rifle butt. Fragments of metal from the barrel and the rifle pierced Bob's eye. He received first aid treatment at Whitecourt and was then taken to an Edmonton hospital for treatment.

The accident happened while Bob and Clarence Moren were on a hunting trip in the Whitecourt area. They had borrowed what a small calibre shell to become related and when the shell struck and that one of them had been put into the magazine. As a result the breech did not close properly. The larger shell finds stated that he noticed the shell did not slip in easily and he moved to take it out and ream the R. Just then a mouse appeared and he pressed the trigger with subsequent disastrous results.

A small degree of impairment to the sight of one eye will result. An idea of the power of an exploding shell can be gained by a look at the shattered rifle.

Nothing daunted by the unfortunate experience Bob is already planning his big game hunt for next year.

Buy The Toy For The Child

The time is fast approaching when we must decide what to get for the children at Christmas. Many disasters could be avoided if we would only remember that the toy should be for the child and not for the parent. Too often we buy what we would like to play with ourselves and forget a child's interests and capacities.

Tree or Torch

Christmas is one of the occasions of the year when a number of fire hazards are created which result in a frightening number of preventable mishaps. The Vermilion Safety League is concerned about disasters such as needless to say.

Each year the League warns that trees are an attractive nuisance to children and pets. Many parents have learned to their sorrow that a child can be severely burned by pulling a tree over on himself. Also, a pet can be electrocuted by chewing on a wire connected to a tree. Even if no one is injured, a tree can be a fire hazard if it is not properly watered and cared for.

If a tree is needed in the home, it should be placed where it will not be knocked over easily. Be sure the tree is watered after the base.

If a tree is needed in the home, it should be placed where it will not be knocked over easily. Be sure the tree is watered after the base.

Trees should be kept away from decorations and lighting units. Electrical cords should never be run under rugs or carpets where they could be damaged. Frayed cords could burn the house down or kill anyone who touched the tree. The League advises testing of tree lights or spot lighting instead of lights on a metal tree.

For all lights, warns the League, inspect the cords regularly and replace worn ones. Use strings of lights which carry the Canadian Standards Association approval label. Turn lights off at night and when leaving the house even for a short time.

Precautions are easy. Recovering from the loss of a home or a member of the family through carelessness is all but impossible.

Candy Flavored Headache Pills

Parents should be aware of the dangers of the common household candy-flavored pill given to babies and children for the relief of fever aches and pains.

Many of these baby-sized pills taken at one time can kill a child, public health authorities caution.

Because these candy-flavored pills taste good a child will not only eat them if they are lying around but will search them out on high shelves or in the medicine cabinet.

Parents should never bribe a feverish child to take a tasty-tasted pill by telling him it is good for him.

RECORD KEEPING

As the year end approaches do you wonder just how you made out this year? If you keep records throughout the year you will be surprised at the Agricultural Office for some up-to-date information which we have just received.

Weaning is probably the simplest and yet most critical treatment our house plants receive. Our plants will all never carry plenty, dry out of course but rarely should be water-logged. Potted plants in general should be watered thoroughly and then left until fairly near to the water. In most cases, as soon as the soil and plant dry, certain the roots never want to be dry.

It is almost every respect each species are individuals and want to be treated as such, and just because others want to be left alone suffer time.

HOUSE PLANTS IN WINTER

Every house plant we know of comes from some place in the world or other. Where they grow naturally the conditions are ideal for them. To be a successful indoor gardener it is necessary to duplicate these conditions as nearly as possible. Indoor conditions in everyone's home are usually not dry more than 50% relative humidity in winter and summer alone.

It is certainly safe to say that most plants are killed by kindness from too much water. Over the years, that a plant likes are usually starts to head above. This is the way things are in nature.

Probably the most adverse condition house plants face in winter is dry air, although most plants in our homes. Except for cacti and other desert species, some of our house plants grow in such atmospheres. If plant would be the low intensity of light that we house plants are natives of the tropics or semi-tropics are accustomed to high humidities, relatively high temperatures and high light intensities. The artificial conditions we can be corrected fairly easily in most homes. If moisture is not present in the air, plants by growing in pans of water on their trays. Another suggestion most which can be used around the pots is moss, peat moss, sphagnum moss, perlite, vermiculite, or even pebbles. Most house plants will do fairly well in the average home, however, if plants are

Truck Registration For Winter Work

Hon. Clarence J. Taylor Alberta Minister of Highways announced recently eight more registration centres where truck registrations will be issued for winter work. The announcement was made by Mr. Taylor and Hon. Ernest Manning, Minister of Municipal Affairs. The new centres announced are Bonnyville, Grande Prairie, Hanna, Hinton, Peace River, Provost, Rocky Mountain House and Vermilion. Registrations will be issued November 1 to June 30.

REMOTE AREAS

The decision this winter is expected to be of greater value than last year and will be primarily in the more remote areas of the province. The object of the work planned much of the hauling in outlying areas requiring the smaller heavier trailer during accumulation. A number of the trucks used in this work are heavy vehicles but are not licensed for use on the highways. The operations must therefore be completed and have the trucks returned before operating restrictions are imposed.

The registration forms must be completed in every detail. Applications must be signed by the owner or by someone to whom a Commercial Vehicle Operator's Permit has been issued. Applications are available at the points of registration and it is suggested that the most convenient point be selected. Applications for registration should be made in person at the point of registration. Applications will be received by the Superintendents of Highways in charge of each district. After checking and validating of the forms in Edmonton one copy will be returned to the trucker which he must retain for presentation to the Inspector.

DISTRIBUTE WORK

The truck registration system was originally introduced to discourage work among gravel dump truck operators generally in the province and depending wholly upon the work for their living. There is no guaranty for all equipment that work will be available. However, the principle is to distribute the work as equitably as possible during the winter months. The success of the operation is entirely dependent on prompt acceptance of a call when given and immediate reporting to the work project. If an individual is not prepared to act in this fashion, then he should not register. Additionally, the number needing a call and who does not advise his intent to proceed to the project within the time specified when registering would obviously be dropped from the listing in favor of other truckers. The success of this system is therefore entirely dependent on the full co-operation of all those registering.

ONE TRUCK PER OWNER

Only one truck per owner may be registered. It is not intended that large firms, professional truckers and others who have substantial business endeavors other than trucking register under this program.

$180 GROSS EARNING

The gross earning amount will be set initially at $1,200 per owner called to the work. It is from this figure will be adjusted if required depending on the volume of work and the success in obtaining trucks promptly when called.

Say "Quiet Ford" and the next word has to be "Quality."

Falcon Futura

This year's Fords are quieter because they're stronger, stronger because they're better built. The '67 Fords are even quieter than the '66's—and '66's proved quieter than one of the world's most quiet cars, Ford's own Thunderbird. Quality. And it's this quality that makes a Ford-built ride better value than either of the two. So when you buy one, you know you're getting a car that's worth more. One thing hasn't changed, and it's value.

Ford sedan, are the Quiet Ones, with the famous quiet ride. The comforts of the big ones are there when you order one and it's economical. These sedans have the solid worth that makes all Fords great investments. And the stylish appearance, the luxury touches, the roomy comfort —and one big Ford advantage you'll notice right at the showroom: the trunk has one of the largest lift-over heights of any car.

Fairlane sedans are the middleweight champions. They're big, they're roomy. And they're easier to handle and park. You'll find them nice to handle and a joy to park.

Falcon sedans are the lightweight champions. They're easy to buy, economical to operate, and to keep that way. And their performance [illegible] 6-cylinder thrift to V-8 options that pass. Take any one of these Ford-built sedans for a test drive, and what a difference Ford's extra quality makes.

Pipe Band Attraction At Farm Curl Banquet

Music by the Vermilion Pipe Band added a gay and entertaining note to the recent Farm Curl banquet. The band shown above played without making any charge for their services and were very happy in doing this. Piper Rod MacPhee also piped the curlers around the rink for the official opening of the farm-court. The Legion pipe band is a very valuable asset to Vermilion and plays at many public functions during the year. Shown from the left are Piper Rod MacPhee, Piper Dave Duguid, Piper Gib Stephen and Drummer Jack Hurst. —Standard News Photo

Recovers 2 Steers In Deep Freeze

A few weeks ago, Albert Lefebvre placed a classified advertisement in St Paul Journal announcing that two of his steers had strayed and requesting information leading to their recovery.

A few days later he received a phone call to the effect that steers were in a deep freeze . . . a lot of distance from home.

However, there is a good end to the story. Some $25 was paid by the man who had the steers, presumably for keep as well as payment for the animals. But quite the market value but never the less better than nothing.

Whatever the case, worth and fattened the animals must have done so by machine or had a refrigerator of some sorts and wanted to square up the books.

— St. Paul Journal.

Health Unit Notes

(Concluded)

Signs and Symptoms: Once the nervous system is infected symptoms of tetanus are evident. Initially, pain or tingling may appear at the site of the wound and is associated with rashness. Irritability, stiffness of the neck, fever, profuse sweating, a tight sore and mild stiffness of arms and legs. These symptoms progress rapidly, spasms of the facial muscles results in the characteristic "sardonic smile". The muscle spasms are extremely painful and the patient is unable to open his mouth. The muscle spasms progress to involve the extremities, back and abdomen. Spasms are sharp and extremely painful. The patient is usually afraid to move or be being touched or by his bed being moved. Temperature rises to between 101 degrees and 104 degrees F. Convulsive spasms lead to difficulty in breathing and even, dying.

Few diseases resemble tetanus and the only disease which may manifest a few symptoms similar to tetanus are strychnine poisoning, acute throat infection, certain abnormal metabolic functions and hysteria.

Prognosis: Several hundred cases of tetanus are reported annually in the U.S. and Canada. The death rate has shown only a gradual decline since 1920.

In tetanus, death is due primarily to pulmonary complications. These include, aspiration with atelectasis, pulmonary oedema and pneumonia.

Control: The only effective method of tetanus control is through the maintenance of adequate immunization. Usually 3 injections of tetanus toxoid at monthly intervals and one injection six months after the third injection usually gives adequate immunity. A booster or recall injection every four or five years after the primary series usually maintains a high immunity level. Sometimes the level of tetanus immunity can last for from 5 to 10 years in many individuals.

When a person who has had adequate immunization against tetanus sustains an injury, all that is necessary for his protection is a booster dose of tetanus toxoid. A person who has not had any immunization for tetanus presents an important problem because if tetanus antitoxin has to be given the process is a long one, owing to the possibility of sensitivity against tetanus antitoxin developing on the patient. The best control against tetanus is immunization. Your Health Unit is here to serve you.

Sniffing Salt Water May Be Dangerous

Sniffing salt water into and through the nose is an old fashioned home treatment which most medical authorities say can be harmful. The benefits, they state, are small or nonexistant. The pressure caused by sniffing tends to spread germs to new locations faster than it suppresses them.

Sinus trouble is primarily the obstructed flow in or out of the sinuses, which are like caves that connect into the nasal passages. A severe cold and its associated germs may swell the tissues so the entrances to the sinuses are clogged. But, a physician must look for other causes of chronic cases. He must correct the basic trouble. If medication is needed, we can fill any prescription.

A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours.

SPOTLIGHT on EDUCATION

The following is taken from Form ET 141 pertaining to School Attendance regulations established on the Scope Act with amendments to date.

Every child who has attained the age of seven years and who has not yet attained the full age of sixteen years shall unless of age exempt for the reasons hereinafter mentioned attend the school to which he has the right to attend or has been assigned by the school authority during the whole period for which the school is in session.

A pupil who becomes seven years of age on or before the first day of December in any year shall attend school on the first day of September in the following year.

The school year specifies that no person shall during school hours employ any child of compulsory school age to work on his premises.

The following according to the School Act are valid reasons for a child between the ages of seven and sixteen years to be absent from school.

(1) An inspector certifies in writing that the child is receiving efficient instruction at home or elsewhere.

(2) The child is in attendance at a private school approved by the Minister pursuant to the Department of Education's Act.

(3) The child is unable to attend by reason of sickness or other unavoidable cause.

(4) The child is under eight years of age and the distance of his residence from the school as computed under the provisions of Section 313 is more than two and one-half miles.

There is not sufficient accommodation in the school.

(6) The child is absent on a day regarded as a holy day by the church or religious denomination of which the child belongs.

The school board after considering the recommendation of the superintendent of pupils or of the principal of the school may exempt any child from the compulsory program of education is offering to its schools that is not attained the full age of sixteen years but is fifteen years of age.

As to the exemption of a child on the ground of mental subnormality it appears that the Act does not require the school authority to provide special education for such children but only to refer them to the Provincial Mental Health Clinic for examination and report. The school authority may then exempt the child from attendance at school if it is satisfied that the child is unable to profit from instruction given in the schools.

The Act also provides that the parent of a child who is required to attend school may be prosecuted for failure to cause the child to attend school regularly.

Spotlight on Education

The Alberta Department of Education makes special provision for the education of children who are mentally retarded. Classes are established in Junior and Senior High Schools to provide programs for pupils for whom status in the Jr. High School section the student must be of the full age of 13 years at the time of enrolment. Students may not work under adult privileges in Senior High School however until they have reached the age of 20 years. Under certain circumstances adults who have not completed grade 9 or Grade 12 may obtain credits for subjects they have taken without completing all courses in the previous grades of the regular school programs. Adults may enroll for evening attendance courses conducted by the Correspondence Branch of the Department of Education. Such undertakings are arranged in consultation with the Director of Correspondence Courses who will examine the applications and if considered necessary may direct an adult to personally attend classes in the school.

The school committee of the Oasis of Vermilion River has appointed the officers of evening classes for adults in each area within the district, provided that a sufficient number of eligible persons are prepared to undertake some study. If one or more of the applicants cannot be accommodated in the evening classes which would lead toward matriculation with the normal standards. Persons who are interested in pursuing such studies should get in touch with the Principal of the High School in his area or with the Superintendent of Schools.

'THE TWO BEST BEERS IN THE HOUSE!'

Lethbridge Pilsner

Many people like the happy taste of our sun barley-grown hops in Lethbridge Pilsner – a blend of mature, full-bodied flavour. A fine beer! Tasteful tradition. The brewmaster adds just the right amount of whole grain pearl rice to give a subtle "extra" to the choice barley. Lively tasting Lethbridge Pilsner, truly satisfying beer!

Two great brews from SICKS' LETHBRIDGE BREWERY LTD.

Lethbridge lager

Many prefer the mellow taste of the malt in Lethbridge lager. Lethbridge lager – often called 'bridge. Here's a naturally aged, smooth lager brewed with a special yeast culture, then micro-filtered for extra refreshing clarity and flavor. ## The Meaning of Christmas To Mankind

The Christian World commemorates Christmas in honor of the birth of Christ His teachings form the basis of a relationship between human beings which, if mortals could only live up to it, would bring heaven to earth

It is at Christmas time that the best elements in human nature come to the surface All over the Christian world thoughts of people turn back to the Judean village where Christ was born and memory recalls the events of such mighty import which occurred at that time — the Babe in the manger, the wise men following the star, the shepherds on the hills

The spirit of unselfishness is abroad at Christmas time While the family is the centre of Christmas festivities, hospitality and friendship spread beyond that limited circle Good-will radiates throughout the whole community

Churches are filled at Christmas time, carols are sung, stores, public buildings, and homes are gaily decorated, and the spirit of giving is in most hearts. Brightly lighted homes with warm and cheery interiors welcome the returning family and the expected guests. Yuletide is the gayest and merriest time of the year.

It is a good thing for humanity, that the cares and worries of the ordinary routine can be forgotten for a little space, and that the quarrels and disagreements of everyday affairs can be smoothed over. For a brief moment in the long range of time human beings act toward each other in a Christian manner.

All over the World Christmas bells are ringing; in far off Australia where nature is burgeoning the antipodean spring, on the Argentine pampas, in Africa, in Asia, and in Europe in whose primitive forests many of the legends surrounding Christmas originated. Here in North America, saved by the fortune of geography from devastating war and famine, people should be doubly happy and thankful.

Christmas will never grow old, nor will its message of good will, nor the wish — "A Merry Christmas To All"

Christmas — 365 Days A Year

What was the best Christmas you ever spent ?

Probably you will ery have up a picture of an enormous turkey dinner, a house bursting with family and friends, the delightful squeals of a child who got just the doll or sled she wanted.

Getting seems enormously important to a child. With the coming of a little more maturity, many grown-ups discover that giving is also important.

Modern psychologists tell us that it is essential to mental health to give of ourselves, our time, our interest. The wisdom of the ages handed down in the truths of the great religions, tells us that we are our brother's keeper

Giving seems very natural at Christmas — and not only to our family and friends has many people feel that Christmas isn't complete until they have put a few coins in The Salvation Army kettle, or mailed a cheque for a substantial amount.

Sharing with others, via The Salvation Army, is particularly gratifying because you are assured that your Christmas gift will keep on giving 365 days a year It helps all these in need — regardless of their religious beliefs, race, respectability, or lack of it. The unique ministry of The Salvation Army is as universal and never ending as the God the Salvationist seeks to serve by serving mankind.

Children are always high on the Army's Christmas list. Those in institutions receive not only gifts, but friendly visits. Toys, dolls and games by the thousands, some reconditioned, but most new, are placed under some child's Christmas tree.

"Spotlight On Education"

Teacher - Historian Will Attend Banff Conference

Mr Allen Ronaghan, a High School teacher at Paradise Valley, will attend a major conference on "The History of the Canadian West" to be held at Banff from May 17 to 20, 1967. Mr Ronaghan is well known for his interest in the history of east-central Alberta, and for his writing and publications relating to historical topics. He will attend the conference as a delegate from the County of Vermilion River.

This three - event for Canada's centennial year is co-sponsored by the Social Studies Council of the Alberta Teachers' Association, the Historical Society of Alberta, and the University of Alberta's History and Extension Departments.

The level of interest, enthusiasm and support from many persons across Canada gives promise of the conference becoming a significant event during centennial year. Sixteen papers by outstanding Canadians have already been secured by the planning committee. Some of these papers are gaily decorated, in the four-day program are the following: A Century of Western Canadian Development — Archaeology of the Fur Trade; Western Canadian Literature in the Schools; Coureurs de Bois and Voyageurs — the Friends in the West; Historiography to 1867 — The Fur Trade; The Cultural Collision on the Coast - Indian and White Writing Local History — Resources and Technological Developments and History in the Classroom. Since planning is still in its early stages, the topics mentioned are only indications of what the committee is planning for this national conference.

The conference will undoubtedly have a significant impact on the teaching of Canadian history not only in the classroom of the four western provinces but in all provinces of Canada. It is hoped that in using the conference as the creative focus, a final and permanent impact for Canadian society may be the publication of the folklore, folk music and true historical material Not only could such material find its way into Canadian history books but also into the stream of Canadian life through new fiction, films and television.

This conference promises to be one of the highlights in the centennial year for teachers of social studies. It is most encouraging to note that the County of Vermilion River will have representation at "The History of the Canadian West" conference Mr Ronaghan's presence there holds promise for the enrichment of Social Studies programs in all County schools.

Derwent 4H Beef Club

By Robert Mudryk

The Derwent 4-H Beef Club held its regular meeting on December 7th.

Members were asked for estimated weights of their calves. It was decided that gate signs be made by each member. Other matters pertaining to the club were discussed, with the next meeting scheduled for

The Editor,
Dear Sir,

The joyful Christmas season will soon be upon us again and pictures of the Wise Men from the East riding their camels will confront us from thousands of newspapers and cards all over the Christian world.

But the residents of Clandonald have an entirely different picture of our Wise Men from the East, or what is often referred to as Our Brain Trust from Edmonton. Clandonald has just witnessed a very devastating fire, one that has totally destroyed two of our very important business places. I refer to the Wm. Sperle store and the Goddard pool hall, barber shop, and restaurant.

We all join in sympathizing with these men and their families and hope they will rebuild bigger and better than before.

Had it not been for the prompt and efficient action of the Vermilion fire truck and the efforts of Mr Matt Kada in keeping the water pressure up under very difficult and adverse conditions, two more buildings would have fallen prey to the flames

And this brings me, as a taxpayer to a very sobering thought We have practically an up-to-date fire equipment and well trained or ready to fight any fire

Then we have a rate brisk chemical outfit one which no body appears to know which leaves to turn for what.

Some willing and able young men always pull or push this Fire Engine out somewhere not too far from the fire The three looks of a 2 supposed to install confidence and hope in the surrounding ground, a sort of morale builder you might say

I understand it is a heritage we acquired from some other town through the courtesy of our council.

I must tell you about our Water Works' pet effort with a long summer of surveying and digging we finally got the water works The big pow-wow and celebration was over it was turned on but it turned out to be off again, on again gone again like Finnigan's wedding. It was, but by the Grace of God and Mr. Kada's ingenuity there was any water whatever at the hotel hydrant for more than a few hrs. A 'fit' At 9p the night before there was no water in this hydrant

Now don't get excited and don't be misled our water and sewer council has not forgotten us nor is it lurked As soon as the last downfall of dirt was thrown into our water main ditches and before the men started to dig them up again, better for both our town and prevention similar calamities some money and with tongue in cheek with one hundred feet of water line for fighting fires with the assurance it would fit all or nearly all fire engines in the province of Alberta Wonderful that old town Yes of course we will have to wait until the county receive another grant from the province before we get a engine for it or some means of forcing the water through it.

In the meantime all we have to do is have Faith and attach the hundred feet of hose to the hydrant go down to the outlet and wait with pails, carry the water to the source of the fire which is the cause of my house is two hundred yards.

Of course we have always got the services of calling the Vermilion fire department in the area and certain knowledge that some member of that brigade would be at the other end of the line ready to throw the down open and squad to our assistance. Perhaps the several plan to learn new pay lines

Thank you Sir Editor and Merry Christmas.

Bruce Hanley.

Dear Editor

On behalf of the Innisfree Seventh - day Adventist church I would like to thank the men here at the Vermilion for their generous support of the 63rd Annual Week of Sharing.

You may be interested that the residents of Vermilion gave very liberally to the campaign. In the money contributed will go to a central fund with allowance made according to the need

When we realize that Christianity is not keeping pace with the world population growth, that millions in India and other countries face starvation, that disaster may strike even Vermilion without warning, we feel that very answer we can give for a worthwhile uplift program is money well spent.

It is a real pleasure to know that Vermilion residents have not reason behind this appeal.

Pastor R. H. Gallant.

Dear Mr Editor

I am still interested, and concerned, with the public notices in the Standard re Channing and Wallis and Streets, the first to be noticed recently in the Dec 1 issue of the Standard I received the cover from the 4 dwarfs in front of my property almost side by after the Dec 7 issue of the Standard. A day or two after this, the town plow was on it, I suppose to get at the snow still on the walk west of my property Because of this I called on Mr S. C. Bedford, the Mayor, to find out if I should be charged for the plow riding on the walk as I had already cleaned

The answer was "No", and I was told that the public notice should not have been in the paper

I have since heard that Councillor Dr Oliver put the notice in the Dec 1st issue of the Standard with the secretary-treasurer's name attached

Since that time, the notice has been put in the Standard at least twice, still with the secretary-treasurer's name attached.

From this news that the secretary-treasurer has recently been instructed by a carried motion of the Town Council to purchase the public notice in the Standard" If not why is it still put in the Standard", and if not, what is paying for these numerous notices put in the Standard, would it be Councillor Dr Oliver, the secretary-treasurer, or the taxpayers ?

Some of we taxpayers would greatly appreciate, and thank you Mr Editor for putting this below in our Standard

Yours sincerely
E. J Payne

Winter Solstice

December 22, when the sun is at the farthest point south, marks the beginning of winter.

While December is the month with the shortest day in the northern year, the Canadian Highway Safety Council reminds us that December may seem the darkest month for accident victims. December was the worst month for property damage last year.

Shorter daylight hours, and bad weather conditions are some of the factors contributing to the poor visibility and generally hazardous driving conditions of December.

For the individual the Christmas season is often a period of emotional difficulties heightened by feelings of social and financial insecurity and the dread of solitude.

Foul weather, distracted drivers, and preoccupied pedestrians can add up to accident.

"Deck the halls with boughs of holly; 'tis the season to be jolly." Christmas is for joy and laughter; Christmas glows with merriment. Throughout this community, families are putting the finishing touches on plans for holiday get-togethers. Hideaways bulge with mysterious packages; kitchens are fragrant with the scents of special treats; homes are bright with gala decorations. Schools and clubs prepare their annual Christmas programs. Holiday party plans go forward. It is indeed, the season to be jolly.

Silent Night, Holy Night, all is calm, all is bright... Christmas is for prayer and peace; Christmas gleams with the light of the Star that shone so brightly, nearly two thousand years ago. And throughout this community, the deep spiritual significance of the holy season spreads comfort and cheer. In churches, the hours of worship reflect the coming joy as, during the weeks before Christmas, the story of Christ's coming is the subject of study, sermon, song and prayer, all building toward the special services of Christmas week-end.

The Gay Nineties Festive Times

During the Gay Nineties, summer was announced in the newspapers the hours they would receive guests on New Year's. People arrived in their best finery — men in silk hats, with chamois skin gloves, and ladies in "stiff bombazine with sealskin lipped."

Callers left their cards on trays in the entrance hall, greeted the host and hostess, then went to the dining room, where tables held such substantial foods as roast beef, turkey, ham, relishes, along with all kinds of fancy pastries. Of course, punch and the traditional eggnog were dispensed in large quantities. After their guests had departed, the host and hostess often made a round of calls on their friends. As a result, the latter became a calling marathon.

At times, undesirables managed to crash the parties; also guests who had imbibed too much at different rooms sometimes caused hostesses embarrassment.

GREEN ACRES

By J. S. DUNCAN, D. A.
Vermilion, Alberta

Isn't it amazing how fast a year passes? Here we are again writing the last column before Christmas. It won't be a very busy one as not having to read "Green Acres" should add to your Christmas pleasure. There is one item we must mention, however, and that is the TV Illusion Festival.

The dates are Jan. 3, 4, 5 and 6 and the time is 8 p.m. each night. Following on follow up programs will once again be done at 11:30 a.m. each day. The theme for the first day is Technical and Vocational Training. The following days will be done by VAVC staff and the ARDA staff from St. Paul.

Soil Management is the topic for the second day, Jan. 4, following on the Agricultural Rep. and the final two days will deal with Marketing Methods for Farm Products. Follow up will be done by Stu Duncan, D.A., Vermilion, on Thursday, Jan. 5, and by Lloyd Smith, Instructor in Farm Management VAVC on Jan. 6th.

NAMING CHRISTMAS

Christmas means both prayerful worship and fellowship merry-making. The latter has made meanings of the day to be observed in some.

The Latin name for Christmas translates as the feast or Birthday of Our Lord. The word "Christmas means the Mass of Christ, a meaning which is always clear. Use in the Dutch "Kermis" in Germany it is "Christ" or sacred night.

Wendy hopes to go to a college in Edmonton some day, and this will make for a good beginning.

Auburndale U.C.W. Hold Final Meeting of Year

The final quarterly meeting of the Auburndale U.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Everett on December 7th, 1966.

Rather than use the traditional Christmas theme for the Worship service, our thoughts were turned from our land of plenty — plenty of food, gifts, toys, income and resources — back to other lands where such abundance is unknown. Mrs. Lloyd Everett, Mrs. Gilbert Harrison and Mrs. Albert Cleland shared the reading of Scripture, taken from Matthew 25 - 35-36 RSV: "For I was hungry and you gave Me food . . . ", and read the meditation entitled Mission to a Hungry World."

SOBERING THOUGHTS

The meditation contained some sobering thoughts, the chief one being that thousands of men women and children have died of starvation every day of this year So if we are Christians we cannot pass the situation by because it is an age-old problem and therefore unworthy of our notice We must be on the front line in a powerful, purse-bringing battle doing as much as is individually possible to alleviate suffering Others may engage in this great effort to prevent a world revolution or to save their own skins, but Jesus Christ left us an example that we should follow in His steps having compassion for the multitudes We must pray, feel to solve the immediate crisis, then supply relief, and remedies to combat emergencies or famine for long-standing ills here, Take the ability we have, Determine and then put it to work! Then will

A prayer the offering then Christmas carols concluded the morning service.

MISSION STUDY

The mission study conducted by the Auburndale Local used material provided by Mrs. Isaac Pearson, convener of mission and study. Interesting light was thrown on various aspects of world missions, which range from health, education, build ment, primary, primary, travel, which is, being the devil with the fast changing old population. Overseas, which is hard work for which we asked members, using the Bible radio, education, that is improving their lives. 33 Million less compared with a human in India's most appalling needs were discussed next water in Northern some of which are now being supplied by the World Council of Churches At Bible were read about the United Nations with world missions were in Robert McClure and Miss Hilda Hodion both of whom are fondly remembered for their practical fashion, patience and sincerity, appeal Hospitals today even yet or assess December Mrs Henry Hunter presented an Ornamental Tree Service, which were used by the secretary, Mrs Hunter. Mrs. Fraser Pyke Hunter, Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Everett, Mrs. Cleland, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Lloyd Everett and Mrs. Albert Cleland. Mrs. Everett and Mrs. Cleland sang the carol "Silent Night" in French and English. Mrs. Everett closed the service with prayer.

The Christmas Visitors

(By MARY HANNAH)

James Roberts looked longingly out the window. The snow was flying, and the white world outside in the early moonlight looked wonderful. What a night to be out! But the thought of alone with a lantern.

It was a Christmas Eve to remember after any conventional standards. The Roberts family was cozy and cozy and right warm and the baby asleep in his crib. And that's as much as you can say for Christmas Eve.

James looked at the big clock on the kitchen wall. The kids were probably gathering now for the community tree. It would be just magic the laughter ringing in the Mackie's farm as the men, women, more, tossed to the homemade skates. He'd miss that all, as the finale the singing of Christmas carols. Then the hot chocolate and the scramble for the cookies and the exchanging of the friends and the welcomes. It wasn't the end of the world to be left out. That's how Christmas ought to be. How Christmas has always been.

SOUNDS

Jenny walked into the living room. A moment was a relief to be rescued by the sounds of the telephone. Jenny sat down on the end of the room. Jenny sat down on the footstool. The sound faded into the background. The sound of the telephone ringing. The sound of the telephone ringing. The sound of the telephone ringing.

SING OUT

"Don't say it," using Ted Mackie's favorite saying. And he led off with a round of Jingle Bells.

Soon from some home came Christmas carols. Mr. Mackie pressed on the gills. Each was passed to a chorus of "Oh, Come All Ye Faithful." Then the Christmas tree. You can have Christmas again when dad comes home.

Jimmy stood on the porch and watched the sleigh disappear into the night carrying with it the sounds of merry laughter and jingling bells. Things weren't so bad after all. And Carol was still another Christmas set to come.

FAST FACTS ABOUT POTATOES

Potatoes are one of our least expensive foods and can be a big help to the family budget.

When properly cooked, potatoes contribute significant amounts of Vitamin C and minerals to the diet. For best flavor and food value they should be cooked in their jackets.

One daily serving of potatoes is recommended in Canada's Food Guide.

Potatoes are not high in calories when compared to other foods and shouldn't be regarded as fattening. One boiled potato contains only 100 calories. It's the added butter, gravy or sauces that increase the calorie content considerably.

Potatoes can be served frequently in meals without monotony. They have a mild flavor and combine well with other foods. In many areas they are used for breakfast dinner and supper.

Canadians eat about 190 pounds of potatoes per person each year. About 30 pounds of this amount is consumed as processed products, chips, frozen french fries etc.

Potatoes should be handled carefully during shipping and storing to prevent bruising, soaking and decay.

Potatoes do best stored in a dry well ventilated dark place at around 45 degrees.

Potatoes turn green when exposed to light. If packed in transparent bags they should be covered with paper or stored in a dark place to prevent greening.

Canada No 1 is the grade most generally available.

Potatoes are now grown in most of the provinces of Canada. The principal areas are the prairies, Ontario, Quebec, the Maritimes and British Columbia.

Potatoes respond differently to the weather in which they are grown. For example in Eastern Canada the Netted Gem and Red Pontiac varieties are the quality varieties while in Eastern Canada and the Atlantic Provinces Kennebec, Sebago and Sebago are highly rated.

Varieties which have a high dry matter content are usually mealy when cooked and generally produce the best bakers. The Idaho potato which for many years has been praised as an excellent baker can be grown right here in Canada. It is sold under the variety name of Netted Gem.

Potatoes served at home are most often simply boiled and mashed baked or fried. But when you eat out in better class restaurants you may notice that potatoes are often served under the glamorous names of "Parisienne" "Duchesse" "Delmonico" etc. Perhaps there is room for a little ingenuity on our part to dress up this "plain Jane" of the vegetable world in our everyday meals. There are innumerable ways of serving potatoes. The Canada Department of Agriculture booklet No. 1058 "Potatoes" gives over fifty ways of serving them. The booklet is available free of charge from me at the Department of Agriculture. The 159 Watkwright

Forests and Wildlife

The forests of Western Canada have many personalities. There are the cool pine slopes of the Foothills and Rockies, the picturesque spruce, pine, birch and poplar forests native to all the three provinces where the deer browse quietly by a trickling stream There are the thick muskeg swamps where wildlife abounds, the trails and the mosses finds home in its dark depths. There is the parkland stretching across the Prairie Provinces, where groves of trees offer shelter to the prairie chicken and partridge, waterfowl frequent sloughs and waterways provide the summer breeding grounds of North America's waterfowl.

Man travels through the forest and finds it inviting or forbidding, dangerous or pleasant. But to the wildlife it has been his home, a place that should be respected and protected. Too often carelessness by man has left a smoking charred ruin where a proud forest once stood. The more fortunate and many probably find in between while for many others their home became their grave.

Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan offer some of the finest hunting grounds in North America. Careful conservation of game, protection of certain species and many worthwhile programs have all resulted in boosting up the numbers of deer, the moose, mountain sheep, goats, upland game birds and waterfowl in the three provinces mentioned. For instance, in Alberta alone, approximately 40 species of game birds and animals abound in the province. Many of these species are found in the province's forests and mountains.

The western provinces also have many species of fish. Many of these species are found in the province's forests and mountains. Some of the most common species are trout, pike, pickerel, whitefish, perch, and many others.

Fishing is a popular sport in the province's forests and mountains. Many of these species are found in the province's forests and mountains. Some of the most common species are trout, pike, pickerel, whitefish, perch, and many others.

REALLY A BLOOM

What most of us call the "blossom" of the poinsettia plant isn't a bloom at all, but a modified leaf. Blossoms are the little things in the center of the plant. What we see as red petals are actually modified leaves. Why the top leaves turn velvety red and the others remain green is a mystery.

CANDLE LEGEND

The first use of Christmas candles is not recorded in the annals of any nation but, presented as an old legend, the "Christ Child Candle" is burned in the window on Christmas Eve to light His way if He makes an earthly visitation and is enumerated for the night of His birth when there was no room for Him.

For those in prison, Christmas may be the loneliest day of the year. Yet the visits and gifts of Salvationists bring a measure of cheer and comfort — perhaps even the courage to start a new way of life. More than 42,000 men and women in correctional institutions are visited each year by Salvation Army members.

Rambling In The Neutrals

(By ALLEN BONAGHAM)

Few parts of Alberta can equal the Neutral Hills area in variety of attractions for students of natural history. The geologist, the archaeologist, the historian, the geographer all can find many points of interest while rambling in the Neutrals.

Cree legend has it that Manitou became angry with the incessant squabbles between his Blackfoot and Cree peoples and set the Neutral Hills in place as an area where all tribes were to hunt in peace and not molest each other.

The Palliser Expedition saw the Neutrals far to the south when they crossed from east to west somewhere north of what is now Czar Today the traveller can stop on a high hill on Highway 41 and see the Neutrals, blue in the distance, a full 25 miles away. Or he can follow the Palliser route to the west, and from Flagstaff Hill south-west of Hardisty see the Neutrals and the Nose erect as sentinels on the southern horizon 20 miles away across the Battle River and Ribstone Creek.

One of the most spectacular views of this range can be had between Veteran and Throne on Highway 12. Here the Nose can be seen to the south-east, tipped in recent years by a television tower.

Actually the Neutrals and the Nose are all part of the same range which stretches from the Saskatchewan border in a slight S, north-westerly direction, fully fifty-five miles to reach a high point in Nose Hill. The prevailing geology of the range as a terminal moraine, deposited at the same time by the same glacier. Throughout the hills may be found quite large rocks, or erratics, left there by the retreating ice. Little Gap, Big Gap and the very steep gap east of the Nose have all been made by erosion.

Several large lakes have been formed by drainage from the Neutrals. Gooseberry Lake has been made into a provincial park where the weary traveller may pitch his tent among the trees and get his water supply from a tap nearby. Sounding Lake should some day have a historic park on the east shore to mark the spot where Lieutenant Governor Laird and Irvine of the N.W.M.P. met Big Bear in 1878 to urge him to sign Treaty No. 6. Near this same spot the police maintained first, a stopping place and then a barracks, as on this trips across the heart of the prairies it was one of the few spots where they could be sure of obtaining both water and wood.

Climb away from Sounding Lake to the south and west and you can find large geometric figures made by placing glacial figure of a turtle with a snake in its jaws. Who placed it there, the Indians or some now vanished race? It has been there a long time as it is nearly covered over with countless seasons of grass growth.

Climb another of the Neutrals, this time north of Consort, and you will find a cairn of rocks piled there by homesteaders in pioneer days, to mark the highest point in that part of the range. From this high point you can see across to the Lookout Hill south of Consort, north to the beginnings of the country "where poplars should grow" which gives its name to Medicine Hat.

Here and there in the Neutrals you may find prairie wool so thick it makes walking difficult, or a little jewel of a slough surrounded with willows, playing host to flocks of ducks. On the southern slopes there are tiny nurtures to make climbing hard, and on the northern slopes your search for saskatoons may be rewarded.

A good place to get acquainted with the Neutrals is Big Gap, where the pioneers took advantage of a natural amphitheatre to stage one of Alberta's most famous events, the Big Gap Roundups. Thousands of people came from all over Alberta to park their Fords and Four-Nines on the grandstand hill and thousands of horsepowers came hundreds of miles to record the roundup scene for posterity.

When rambling in the Neutrals be sure to take your coat and hat. No matter how hot it may be on the surrounding plains or how lovely a day it may be at the park, there is always a wind blowing up on the campsite, and you won't be satisfied with your ramble in the Neutrals until you have been up to the top! Listen carefully . . . you may still hear Manitou whispering a message of peace.

Vermilion W. I.

The annual meeting of Vermilion W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Bell with eight members attending and two visitors, Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Preston. The meeting opened in the usual way with the president Mrs. W. J. Bell in the chair.

The minutes of the last annual meeting and last regular meeting were read. The president in her address welcomed the visitors and thanked members for their willing support and help in the various projects she stated a parcel of gifts had been sent to the Mental Hospital Christmas Bazaar and two large boxes of warm clothing quilts and baby articles had been packed for the Unitarian committee. Mills Transport had collected and delivered them free of charge.

The secretary's report of the year's work was given, followed by the treasurer's report. Mr. Geo Jack will audit the books.

The president reported on the handicraft meeting held in November, the handicraft cup is being repaired, polished and she did be back in circulation at the next conference.

The sunshine report was not available, the secretary read a letter from the Post Office authorities granting permission to install a booth for outside the Post Office.

Roll call was a fond item for the Christmas Hamper raffle. Mrs Berg and Mrs. McCaig will sell tickets in Craig's store on Saturday Dec. 17th and the hamper will be drawn for at that time.

Flowers will be sent to Mrs. Fraser sick in hospital and a Christmas card to each shut-in patient.

The election of officers, took place with the same being returned.

The meeting adjourned and the Misses was regaled. Mrs. Jack won the mystery box and Mrs. McCaig the competition and exchange of Christmas gifts followed and a most delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Bell, a sample of her fine goodies.

Aerosol "Snows" Aid To Novel Decorations

For the party-minded, aerosol "snows" can be used to make several table decorations from one's simple centerpiece to place mats, bouquets, and sprays of holly. Colorful centerpieces for candlelight suppers can be made with a short length of branch (e.g., driftwood) held red candles, and then sprayed with the snow.

Make a little ingenuity and imagination with the homemade red and white and colored snows to "spray paint" simple Christmas designs on window panes or glass surfaces. Cut-out paper or cardboard stencils can be used for each color area.

For best results the aerosol cans should be sprayed from a distance of about 12 inches for greater density, the further the amount of simulated snow.

IN SYRIA

The holiday season is quite different from that in most countries. It begins on St. Barbara's day, Dec. 4th and continues until Epiphany, Jan. 6th. St. Barbara was according to legend, a rich princess. This eve, nearest to midsummer, a table of sweets is arranged, prepared from nuts, sugar, honey, and wheat. It is Easter in summary of the dead and signifying the resurrection of the soul.

All year long, we're grateful for our fine friends and customers. At Christmas, we're especially happy to express our greetings, thanks and good wishes.

Former Islay Lady Reads The Standard In Australia

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Cooper received a very interesting letter on Sunday from Mrs. Dorothy Webber, the former Dorothy Shore of Islay. Dorothy is on leave from the Edmonton school board and is spending two years on a tour of the world. The letter was dated in North Melbourne, Australia, Dec. 10 and was received in Vermilion on Sunday, Dec. 18. Here is Mrs. Webber's opening paragraph:

"Imagine coming half way round the world and picking up the Vermilion Standard in Melbourne! It was like seeing a very old and dear friend. I was visiting Nellie (Cash) Charlwood at her home in Templestowe, a suburb of Melbourne, when I delightedly picked up the Standard and read it from front page to back.

"I taught Nellie at Carleton school south of Vermilion in 1939. Her father, Neil Cash and Mrs. Cash often invited me for the weekend. Mr. Cash lives here now and at 87 is still spry and alert and does all of Nellie's garden where he tends everything from corn to cucumbers. They have one most unusual tree which produces oranges and lemons.

"Nellie's husband is a supervisor of personnel for air traffic control in Melbourne. He is also the author of three books, one of which will likely be used as a novel to be studied in the high schools here. Nellie herself is a teacher-librarian in a beautiful new primary school, grades one to six.

"I was granted sabbatical leave by my school board to travel. I have visited schools along the way in Honolulu, New Zealand and here. I also expect to see schools in India, Jerusalem and England. I found schools in New Zealand and here very English in tone. The students all wear uniforms and adhere to British terminology such as "forms" instead of "grades."

"It seems most strange to be Christmas shopping in midsummer weather. Every old Santa looks uncomfortable in velvet and fur in this clime. I can't understand why they play "Jingle Bells" instead of "In the good old summertime."

"I'm leaving here in mid-February. I push on to Hong Kong, Bangkok, Singapore and India."

No Evergreen Trim Found in Finland

The homes and churches of Finland never use evergreens for trim or decoration, because they regard them as symbols of mourning.

The homes, at Christmas time, suspend what is called a "heaven" from the living room ceiling. Their "heaven" consist of a cord-framework covered with straw and different colors of paper and ribbon. Then it is covered with paper stars and silhouettes cut in various designs. The effect when reflecting the firelight and the candle glow is extremely soft and fascinating.

In the churches candles are used profusely, the altars are covered and the windows are filled with them. Before dawn on Christmas morning a special church-service beckons approaching worshippers with effect like bells' faint tinkling.

KNITTING SWEATERS?

Never has there been so wide a variety of sweaters to choose from. In selecting one, either for yourself or as a gift this Christmas, there are a number of factors to consider — all adding up to good quality.

A well-made sweater will look better to begin with, will hold its shape and good appearance after long wear. Full-fashioned sweaters are especially well constructed. They retain their lines because their shape is knitted in for the sweater is made by the increase or decrease of stitches at armholes and necklines. You can recognize full-fashioned construction in those areas by the rows of fashion marks (dots) and the rows of knit stitches that turn and run parallel with the seam lines. Watch to see that these marks are in the construction . . . not just stitches added afterwards. You will find that you pay more for full-fashioned sweaters . . . but then they cost more to make. Cut-and-sewed sweaters are made by cutting front, back and sleeves from knitted fabric and sewing the pieces together. Their sewn seams should be non-bulky, securely stitched, yet with enough "give" and fabric allowance not to pull apart with normal wear. Neckbands, on pullovers especially, take a lot of strain. Whether the sweater is full-fashioned or cut-and-sewed, it should be ribbed tightly to keep from stretching out of shape. Sweater sleeves should be flat where joined to shoulders. Ribbing on cuffs and waist should be tight for good shape retention. Decorative trim should be stitched on, not glued or pasted.

The care of sweaters depends to quite an extent on the fibre content. However, there are some general reminders:

1. Fold sweaters loosely — do not hang on hangers.
2. Brush off pill-balls with a clean, dry sponge, using lengthwise strokes.
3. After washing a sweater, dry it on plain paper, not brown wrapping paper, never newspaper.
4. When drying a cardigan, stretch any ribbon facing taut and pin (with rustproof pins) at top and bottom to paper until dry.
6. When storing sweaters for any length of time, put them away sparkling clean. Insect synthetics and wools with a moth-proof finish can be damaged by insects if spots and stains attract them.

Health Unit Notes

Dear Parents:

We are rapidly approaching the end of what might be considered a very eventful year. Some events were for progress and elevation of our ever-increasing service to you and which could only be considered a setback in our efforts to prevent or eradicate infectious diseases.

To name a few of the setbacks, we had very serious outbreaks of measles during the early part of the year and during the last three months of this year scarlet fever and streptococcal throat has been rampant in our Health Unit area. This is caused by the lack of early medical attention and the reluctance of parents to inform the Health Unit of cases which have been diagnosed.

In the case of suspected illness in your children, the first step is to contact your family doctor. When he has diagnosed an infectious disease, then you should contact your Health Unit so that you may be informed of regulations and nursing procedures of the disease in question. This may be done either by the nurse making a home visit if this need is apparent or by giving the information by phone.

On the bright side, progress has been made in the following: 1. Salk-in Oral Polio vaccine became available in the general immunization program, instead of only during three months of the year. This meant earlier protection for all the children and protection as a much earlier age; 2. Killed Measles vaccine became available for the protection of children three months to 2 years of age. Unfortunately the live measles vaccine necessary to complete the series has not yet arrived but we hope that this will be with us in the near future; 3. Prenatal classes for expectant mothers and fathers began this year; 4. Fluoride tablets and drops are now available to the community.

We have progressed in many other ways which are not mentioned here.

Let us keep on working together for the enhancement of health in our community. We thank you for your kind co-operation, participation and loyal support of our public health program.

We wish you a safe and wonderful Christmas and New Year and we look forward to seeing you in much greater numbers.

Wildmere Winks

Why go anywhere for nicer weather than we have here? It's where and lovely sunshine.

The Christmas lights, decorations and carols in town are lovely, also many country homes are nicely adorned with lights.

Some students are home for the holidays from different areas. Karen Coburn at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Howard Coburn and Eivand Sorenson at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sweeney.

Dave Hughes is busy several evenings helping with the equipment at the ice-pad hockey in town.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Noel Wright on the birth of a daughter.

The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Walden, the former Ruby Smith, was lovely with the red and white theme of the Christmas season. The reception and dance at the hall was well attended and kept in good spirits by the lively music of the Stage Riders.

Sympathy of the district is extended to the family of the late Mrs. Tom Wilson in the loss of a loving wife and mother. Another old timer gone from our midst.

It was nice to have Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martin and Mrs. John Rubel from Edmonton down for the wedding and happy to be renewing old acquaintances.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to the entire district and all our friends near and far.

OLD CHEMISTRY

Have you any old drugtops you would like to pay?
Evenings hold up from a bygone day?
Gather them now and lay them away
When Christmas comes.
Hard thoughts are heavy to carry my friend,
Your life is short from beginning to end;
Be kind to yourself, leave nothing to mend
When Christmas comes.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY

ACCORDING TO ST. MATTHEW & ST. LUKE

NOW WHEN JESUS WAS BORN IN BETHLEHEM OF JUDAEA IN THE DAYS OF HEROD THE KING, BEHOLD, THERE CAME WISE MEN FROM THE EAST to Jerusalem, saying, Where is He that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen His star in the East, and are come to worship Him. When Herod the king had heard these things, he was troubled, and all Jerusalem with him. And when he had gathered all the chief priests and scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born. And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judaea: For thus it is written by the prophets, and thou Bethlehem, in the land of Juda, are not the least among the princes of Juda: for out of thee shall come a Governor, that shall rule my people of Israel. Then Herod, when he had privily called the wise men, enquired of them diligently what time the star appeared. And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go and search diligently for the young Child; and when ye have found Him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship Him also. When they had heard the King, they departed; and, lo, the star, which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young Child was. When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. And when they were come into the house, they saw the young Child with Mary and His mother, and fell down, and worshipped Him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh. And being warned of God in a dream that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own country another way.

Uniting In Joy And Prayer

Christmas is a joyful season; Christmas is a prayerful season. Since the earliest celebrations of this Christian holiday, it has ever been so.

The twin spirits of Christmas — festive celebration and reverent worship — are woven together in all the lore of the season. History says that when the time now celebrated as Christmas was designated, in the fifth century, A.D., early Christian leaders felt that the traditional winter merry making of pagan festivals such as the Roman Saturnalia might be hallowed by association with the Nativity.

Thus, pagan peoples who had once looked to mythical sun gods as the source of the rebirth of life began to turn to religious observance of the Saviour's birth. Christmas lights, symbolled faith, hope and life eternal. Today, the glow of the tiniest candle — or the twinkling of the smallest electric bulb — still reflects, however humbly, the Light that Christ brought to the world.

BRINGING GIFTS

At the heart of the holiday fun and feasting there glows the spirit of giving. The Wise Men sought to honor the Christ Child with rare and precious gifts — gold, frankincense and myrrh. Thus, to give of the best at Christmas is a time-honored tradition.

All may rejoice in the opportunity to give generously, to please family and friends, to act "just what they wanted", and to share with the less fortunate.

Yet the best Christmas gifts are still those that come from the open heart as well as the open hand, and the warmth of a friendly smile, the words of a cordial greeting add priceless meaning to the most elaborate of gifts.

SINGING CAROLS

"Glory to God in the highest and on earth, peace, good will toward men."

Across the years since shepherds first harkened to an angelic chorus, Christmas rings with the sound of voices raised in joyful song.

Carol singing at Christmas is both a tradition and a source of tradition. Much of the legend and lore of the season is known today only because it has been preserved in song — in carols passed on from generation to generation.

SECURITY PENSION

Canadians born in May 1900 should mail their applications in December to be eligible to receive their first $75 old age security pension cheque in June 1967. Application forms are available in any post office and should be mailed to the provincial office of the regional director of old age security.

Popcorn Balls

Make a big batch so there'll be some to eat and some to hang on the tree.

First have ready quarts of popped corn . . . then

|---|---|
| 2 cups sugar | 1 teaspoon vinegar |
| ½ cups water | 1 teaspoon vanilla |
| ½ teaspoon salt | Candy red hots |
| ½ cup light corn syrup | |

Keep popcorn hot and crisp in a slow oven. Combine the first ingredients, cook to hard ball stage (250°). Remove from heat and add vanilla. Slowly pour syrup over hot popped corn, mixing well to coat every kernel. If you wish, stir in some candy red hots for color. Butter your hands lightly before pressing popcorn mixture into balls.

LIGHT THE TREE

The decorating can take away or add to the appearance of the most beautifully shaped tree.

Instead of guesswork on the number of lights to use—go by this formula.

Height of tree (in feet) x width of tree at base (in feet) x 3. If your tree is 6 feet high and 4½ feet wide at the base, the formula goes like this: 6 x 4½ x 3 — equal 81 lights for a good lighting effect.

The Bird or the Stuffing?

To avoid feeling "off" or food poisoning after eating your Christmas bird, watch your timing preparations and cook the "beast" thoroughly.

Only dress the bird, when you are ready to start cooking.

Never dress the bird several hours before cooking or leave it overnight in the refrigerator. The cold mass of stuffing acts as an insulation to cooking heat.

While the bird may thaw quickly in cooking, the stuffing remains cold.

To destroy salmonella germs, the bird should be cooked sufficiently to reach an internal temperature of at least 165 degrees F.

It is well to remember, the larger the bird the longer it takes the oven heat to penetrate the cavity and the mass of stuffing.

Bethlehem Busy At Christmas Time

Since the first Christmas Christians have followed the Star to the stable-grotto beneath the church of the Nativity, the traditional birthplace of Jesus of Nazareth in Bethlehem.

Bethlehem is even poorer than most people would believe. A merry visitor finds "Wanderers fill the streets — anyone can see why Mary and Joseph found no room in the inn.

Every Christmas, shepherds watch over their flocks outside Bethlehem, had to be especially watchful that the sheep did not trap themselves in the barbed wire separating Jordan and Israel. Bethlehem on the Jordan side of the wire, has been sorely affected by the hostility and the uneasy truce. It is crowded with Arab refugees who formerly lived in Israel.

The effect of the conflict has been crippling of Bethlehem's chief industry; the making and selling of objects of piety from olive wood, Dead sea clove and mother of pearl. Except at Christmas, pilgrims are so few that the profit had gone from the business.

On Christmas eve, however, the dusty city takes on new life. Christmas diplomats living in divided Jerusalem expect to be escorted to the little town over the unusual highway through no-man's land. Pilgrims from the Israel side pass through the Mandelbaum Gate.

Rich and poor Pilgrims watch together in the fourth century church of the Nativity. There is a high altar, from which the image of the Christ Child is carried down the church through the Mandelbaum Gate.

The ceremonies come to a climax before three adjacent shrines. The Altar of the Nativity, The Wise Men and the Shepherd's Fields. Christians from many lands will sing, in angelic tongues, many of the years ago, "Glory To God In The Highest" and on earth peace and good will toward men.

CHRISTMAS, FLORIDA

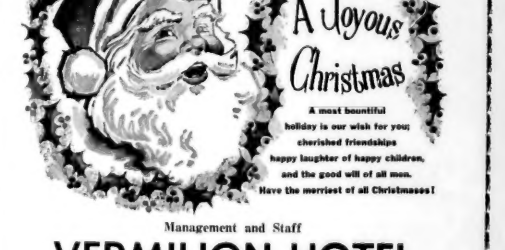
Christmas, Florida, is a town of 250 people near Orlando. As a fort it was completed in Christmas, 1835, and so received its name. Connected with the other states by the United States mail, the post office has been kept busy throughout December mailing cards, letters, and packages. In one year it handles over 250,000 pieces of mail. Lately a permanent Christmas tree with weatherproof ornaments has been erected.



A most bountiful holiday is our wish for you; cherished friendships happy laughter of happy children, and the good will of all men. Have the merriest of all Christmases!

Omens Dim Yule Spirit

"Merry" Christmas? Not always, according to some ancient beliefs associated with the day.

Take, for instance, the old belief that cattle and other stable animals were given the power of speech on Christmas Eve.

Any person, who heard the animals speak would die within a year, so superstition said.

Slumber omens of death were read into still other Yuletide legends. When the Yule log burned, bystanders were told to watch the shadows on the walls. If the shadows of any persons appeared to be headless, this supposedly meant death for those persons, again within a year.

Salt was also said to have the power of forecasting life or death, when used in connection with Christmas. The test could be made by leaving a small mound of salt on the table on Christmas Eve. If the salt melted during the night, that, too, meant death within 12 months.

If the salt remained unmelted, the forecast was for a long and healthy life.

Civic Club Gets Permanent Tree

Because a local civic club took advantage of an opportunity when it arose, the city of Benalta, Alberta, has a permanent Christmas tree and a beautiful memorial tree all year round.

When a local citizen decided to get rid of some huge evergreen trees which had grown too large for his yard, the civic club offered to stand the cost of transplanting if the trees were given free to the town.

Bonan now has a beautiful Christmas tree each year — without having to purchase a new tree for each holiday season.

DOMINICAN HOLIDAY

Christmas remains a religious holiday in the Dominican Republic. The Christmas dinner is enjoyed generally after the Christmas Eve midnight mass. Carols are sung in the streets.

Through trade and social relations with the United States, Santa Claus is becoming more popular, but the children continue to receive their presents on January 6, when gifts are brought, instead, and myrrh was traditionally given by the Wise Men.

Parent-Teacher Interviews Are Held At Mannville

MANNVILLE — The Parent-Teacher interviews were held for 22 grades of Mannville School on Tuesday, Nov. 22nd. Parents turned out well and it was a treat to see so many fathers visiting this year. In families represented at the interviews, the elementary grades registered an 89 per cent attendance. Junior High teachers had 78.80 of the families in their grades, while the High School had 68.3 per cent.

The busy day was relieved by coffee and lunch served by the pupils of the elementary grades assisted by their mothers. A special thanks goes to these people and to the teachers of the elementary staff who organized the lunch.

To the Holy Manger...

"Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass." Luke 2:15

Humble shepherds came to behold the Miracle of the manger, and Wise Men journeyed from the East.

Today, thousands of Christians make the pilgrimage in the hill town of Bethlehem each Christmas. A high point of their visit is the Grotto of the Nativity — the rock-hewn stable where, traditionally, Christ was born.

Carving THE BIRD

Carving the holiday bird is practically an art — whether it be turkey, goose, duck, chicken or partridge. It is a happy task when done with skill.

The all-important beginning is a good set of knives with fine hollow ground steel blades and long carving handles. (Left) Insert a long-bladed roast-lifter (carver) fork firmly.

Carve leg first; insert the fork firmly through the center of the underbone. Then the plate will hold the legs of the bird are to your right. Start by piercing the joint by nearest you. Make a vertical cut on each side of the second joint of the leg where it is attached to the body by skin. Bend the entire leg toward the backbone. With the point of the slicer cut through the connecting skin and meat and remove the leg. Next cut off the wing. To slice the breast meat, place the blade at the top of the breastbone. Push the knife downward and forward toward the wing socket. Continue by moving the knife progressively to the bird. Complete one side of the bird before starting to repeat the same method.

In Memoriam

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of
CHARLES G. MIX
who passed away Dec 28, 1965.
Nothing can ever take away
The love a heart holds dear.
Fond memories linger every day,
Remembrance keeps him near.
Ever remembered by loving wife, Florence and Harold, Albert and Kay and Carol Ann.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of
AUNT EDNA
who passed away Dec 20, 1960.
Like falling leaves the years slip by,
But loving memories never die.
They live with in memory still,
Not just today, but always will.
Ever remembered by John, Shirley, Ellen, Douglas and Audra.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of
ALEX G. STONE
who passed away Dec. 2, 1962.
There's an open gate,
At the end of the road,
Through which each must go alone.
And there is a light we cannot see
Our Father claims His own
Beyond the gate our loved one finds happiness and rest.
And there is comfort in the thought
That a loving God knows best.
Ever remembered by his loving wife Bessie, and family.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother,
FRIEDA ALICE FRY
who passed away Dec 26, 1957
and our dear sister
JOY SOLMAN
who passed away May 9, 1963.
Always remembered by son and daughters, brothers and sisters.

Once we knew a kitchen
Where the woodsmoke smelled so sweet,
Excited sparks flew out the draftz,
And glowing, cheery heat
Filled the homey room with joy
Beyond all modern measure;
The scents and sounds drift down the years
For our hearts still to treasure.
Old rocking chair, the wooden bowl
Some kittens and a cat,
Red apples and pretended things
A homemade braided mat.
The table set a gleaming harp
Blue dishes, old tales told at bedtime
In old time style we see them all
And summon secretly, deep
Of other days and other ways
And we desire to roam.
When time, left behind at church
By the Lord's call and knell of love
For everything, there is a reason and a time for every purpose under heaven.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mother
MRS. TOM DAVIS
who passed away Dec 24, 1955
M Mother cared for us all
Mother kept her home
She conducted us in sorrow and in strife
She burdened to each burden her self
She gave herself for love
She all
O Our mother therefore did her best
Watched over us even at times of rest
For all she did she asked no pay,
For us, clothed us, from day to day
T The trust given to her, she gave to us,
In times of pain she made us fuse
She wore a smile all the day through,
We smiled to show our happiness too
H We honour her with only words of praise
When we recall all those happy days
The honour we show is for her alone,
For what we are, are still her own
E Everlasting we hope to fulfill her desires,
When that is done, perhaps, we can retire
The love we shared with her, then, we shall share evermore;
Endlessly we strive until we reach Him there
R In remembrance we think of you as very dear
The joy, the trust, the love you share with us here.
Dear mother, like you we hope we can live,
The wrongs we did you, may God forgive.
(Written by Rev. Gordon Williams).
Always remembered and sadly missed by her husband Tom and family, Donald, Louise, Merve, and Johnny.

Christmas Clean Up

Cleaning up after opening Christmas packages can be made a chore. Before it's time for opening packages, have handy a couple large shopping bags. Find a good size cardboard box. You'll have a place for scraps of paper, a place for ribbons and bows you want to keep, and a carton for throw away items.

A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

As a pastor of the Seventh day Adventist Churches for North Eastern Alberta, I wish to bring to your homes a message for this holiday season.

"And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary His mother, and fell down, and worshipped Him; and when they opened their treasures, they presented unto Him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh." Matt. 2:11.

Christmas around the world brings happiness and cheer. It speaks of gifts and good-will. It is a time when we should thank God for the unspeakable gift of His Son. This was the greatest gift ever bestowed in all the universe. Divine love has no equal. It was this love that prompted God to allow Jesus to come to earth. It was this love that impelled Christ to offer Himself as a free gift to men. This is the gift of Christmas to us.

Our hearts should thrill at this season of the year when we think again of what Christ has done for us. He left His home in the highest heaven to come down to this lonely world. How would it be should He come down again this Christmas Day? Shall we give Him the best gift that we can give — the gift of our own lives? Let us give Him a royal welcome in our hearts and make room for Him in our lives.

"Though Christ a thousand times
In Bethlehem be born,
If not within our hearts,

Our hearts will be forlorn."

On this holiday season, Mrs. Gallant and myself extend to you all our best wishes and God's blessings for the coming New Year. If I could be of help to any of you, please write: Box 209, Two Hills, Alberta.

Pastor S. Gallant

To most boys and girls, "Jingle all the way" refers to sleigh bells and a one-horse open sleigh, but for Hanover's New Hampshire, youngsters' bells at Christmas time mean only one thing; the clanging of the fire bell for the annual Children's Fire Engine Ride! This happens each Christmas when the local fire fighters step into the role of Santa Claus and give the town youngsters a holiday treat; a ride through the streets of Hanover in a shiny red fire engine! Youngsters of all ages line up in front of their schools and pile into the fire trucks. Children that are too young to "hang on" ride at the head of the procession in the Fire Chief's car. More than five hundred boys and girls ride on the five engines "race" (at five miles an hour) through the town as bells ring and sirens screech.

Back at the fire station the children line up for a visit with Santa Claus, who stands next to the shiny fire pole with a bag of candy and a toy for each boy and girl. When he asks them the pre-recital question, "What do you want from Santa Claus?" the answer is almost always, "I want a fire engine!"

A Merry Christmas

It's Christmas . . . families gather 'round the tree . . . friends exchange greetings — and we extend our thanks and best wishes to all.
